SKODA'S DISCOVERY

UNEQUALLED!

SKODA DISCOVERY CO.;

GENTLEMEN:—Last spring I had a severe attack of the MEASLES. After the acute stage passed, and I was supposed to be convalescent, I did not gain as I ought. With NO APETITE, and left with a BAD COUGH, day after day, I continued to run down.

My friends feared I was in a DECLINE, and would never be any better. I was much reduced when I began the use of SKODA'S DISCOVERY. Before I had taken one bottle, I was greatly improved. I continued its use, and am now in my USUAL HEALTH, thanks wholly to

SKODA'S DISCOVERY.
Respectfully,

Portland, Me.
FEB. 10th.—Miss Bessie Vancetin left here on the 11.20 train Tuesday night for Fredericton, where she intends spending some time with her brother before proceeding to her home in Chatham. She was accompanied by Miss Aggie Byan, of Newcastle. Both these young ladies will be very much missed, and we trust that Miss Byan will soon regain her usual good health in the bracing air of her native land. A large number of friends accompanied them to the depot to see them off.

Mr. Frank Ryan left by the same train for his home in Newcastle.

Mr. John Flett, of South Nelson, who had been visiting his brothers and friends in Boston, spent a few hours with his friends here on Tuesday last. Quite a number of our New Brunswick young ladies assembled at the station at 11.20 to wish him a safe and pleasant journey home.

It is said that one of our young ladies from the east is soon to enter the bands of wedlock. Our best wishes in advance, and congratulations to the happy man.

Miss Flora Pope and Miss Norah Hickey visited their friends in Westbrook some few days ago.

We hear that several marriages will take place in South Nelson in the early summer.

Our two popular young dressmakers, Miss M. Sutton and A. Gorman, propose combining business with pleasure, and be taking themselves to the main street of Nelson for the busy months of summer. They will be much missed here by their numerous customers, while we doubt not they will meet with a warm welcome in that village on the Miramichi.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. Charles O'Neil of Ontario, (formerly of Chelmsford, N. B.) who has been lately married to Miss Teresa O'Donnell, of the former place. Charlie's numerous friends here wish him and his bride long years of prosperity and happiness.

TWIN SISTERS.

NATURAL. A Mr. Frank Ryan, of the Smithsonian Institution, astonished the world by his account of the semi-civilized Zuni Indians, who, until his visit to them, had been considered their exiles. He only succeeded in securing an entry into one of their villages through the kindness of the Zunis. When he was commissioned to investigate the character and habits of these superior people he was very sick man, was become treated, in fact, of consumption. The mission was given him in the hope that residence in the warm south would restore him to strength and reserve a valuable officer to the Government. During his journey his illness grew upon him, and when he reached a Zuni village he was stretched in exhaustion upon a litter which was carried by his friends. They carried him to the Zuni chief, a great American chief had come to him imploring to be cured. On this the Indians received him, nursed him assiduously, and finally made a well man of him. Eventually he was received into the tribe, earned their language, religion, and science of medicine.

One curious thing he discovered was that the principal cause of his cure was a Zuni remedy, which he found in a Zuni village. They hold it in great esteem and twice every year they send an embassy to the Kickapoo Indians, who manufacture it, and purchase a supply of it. Several times the Zunis attempted to purchase the secret of its composition, but always without success. Once they attempted to force the coveted knowledge from the Kickapoos, and made war upon them for that purpose, but were repulsed.

Fortunately a white man was more successful with the Kickapoos. This tribe, originally from Illinois, whence the Government moved them to Kansas, later on to the Indian Territory, where they were better known as the "border" or "Texas" Charlie, was taken very sick while visiting the Kickapoos, and was restored by their doctors, whose chief prescription was the Sagwa, whose ingredients the Zunis are so desirous of learning. When Mr. Bizelew recovered he pointed out to the chiefs of the Kickapoos that these of the Sagwa for sale.

They demurred for a long time, but finally fell in with the proposal and sent a group of their doctors to travel to the State of Mr. Bizelew and sell the Sagwa. Their success was phenomenal, and it became impossible to supply the demand and adhere to the crude processes of manufacture adopted by the Kickapoos. Accordingly, the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company was formed at New Haven, Conn., and the manufacture of Sagwa and other Kickapoo remedies was begun on a large scale. About six hundred men are employed, and the capital of the Company is $200,000. Giving round numbers only, the sales of the Company last year were 500,000 boxes of Sagwa, 200,000 bottles of the Kickapoo Cough Cure, 100,000 boxes of the Kickapoo Worm-Killer, and about 50,000 boxes of Kickapoo Salve.

The Sagwa is a tonic purely vegetable in character, being the liquor obtained by boiling in water certain varieties of bark, leaves, herbs, and roots. The Kickapoo theory of sickness is that it results from a "poverty" of the blood, involving cessation or sluggishness in the action of one or more of the vital organs. Hence they direct their attention solely to the purifying and strengthening of the blood. This the Sagwa will probably not be known until the Kickapoos are willing to make the ingredients of the great secret known. The benefits of its use may be noted in the Kickapoos themselves. A finer race physically exists in the world. Both men and women are tall, strong and magnificently developed. There is not a weakling in the tribe. They are a very peculiar people. Like the Zunis they are very exclusive and have never acquired the vices of civilization. The Indian nations generally, judging from the reports of early settlers and travellers in this country, were healthy people until intemperance and diseases contracted from white men began to play havoc with them. The Kickapoos have always resisted contaminating influences and preserve their pristine vigor. Possibly the fact that Sagwa keeps them robust is the reason. A desire for alcohol often arises from irregular action of the bodily organs. However that may be it is a fact that

A desire for alcohol often arises from irregular action of the bodily organs. However that may be it is a fact that active astonishing benefit from the use of Sagwa. It appears to act upon the stomach, bowels, kidneys and bladder, stimulating all of them to action; and it is never too violent a stimulant, for the Kickapoos live to a remarkable old age. They always administer the Sagwa to their sick either alone or in conjunction with their other famous remedies. The price of Sagwa is one dollar a bottle.

The Kickapoo Indian Oil is a very valuable remedy, affording effective and speedy relief in all nervous and inflammatory diseases. As a quick cure for all kinds of pain (rheumatism, neuralgia, etc.) it may be taken internally or applied externally. For children it is excellent. The price is twenty-five cents a bottle.

The Kickapoo Indian Worm-Killer is recommended by the Kickapoos from their native land. It is a powerful medicine for the removal of stomach, seat and pain worms. It is a pleasant, safe, prompt and effective remedy, and requires no physical exertion. The price is 25 cents a bottle.

The Kickapoo Indian Salve is made by the Kickapoo Indians from the best buffalo blubber (not hog's lard). It is a specific for all diseases, soothing and excellent for rheumatism, eczema, boils, ulcers, burns, &c. It also sells for 25 cents per box. Cures are an invaluable Indian remedy for coughs, colds, asthma, throat and lung diseases. It is purely vegetable and pleasant to take. Its action is specific. The price of the Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure is half a dollar per bottle. These are the chief medicinal preparations in use by the Kickapoos. Their excellence is proved by the fact that they have preserved the tribe in health, notwithstanding the fact that they have been removed from their original home in the north to the centre and afterwards to the extreme south of the continent, and have thus been forced to brave great climatic variations. Another proof of the superiority of these medicines is found in the enormous quantities that are being sold yearly in all parts of this country. In any house where one of the Kickapoos has been used a supply of the Sagwa, at least, is always kept on hand for it is known to be necessary. Most every druggist, sell it.

To the Editor of The Review:
As I noticed in your valuable columns an account of a Kent County boy's success in the far west I beg to say here that we need not go out of this province of New Brunswick to find an example of this. I refer to Mr. David H. Keswick, of Hartland, Carleton Co., N. B.

Mr. Keswick was born at Bass River, Kent Co., where he remained until manhood. While a young man he went up the St. John, where he, engaged in the lumber business. He exhibited so much ability and energy that he soon received the confidence and financial support of some of the wealthy lumbermen of the St. John river.

He has progressed steadily until at the present time he carries on one of the most extensive lumber business on the St. John. He owns a large and handsome residence in Hartland, fitted up inside and outside with all the modern improvements for comfort and convenience.

The chief seat of his operations is Madawaska and Aroostook counties. He has this winter four camps of his own—one on Hammond Brook, Aroostook Co., Wm. Keswick, of Bass River, foreman; and three on Grand River, Madawaska Co., in charge of Wm. Ayer, Geo. Tiddie and James Wilson respectively. Each camp employs from 15 to 30 men and from 10 to 17 pairs of horses, and the output from each will be one million feet or over. Besides these there are twelve jobbers, employing from ten to twenty men and from two to three pairs of horses. At the present there are fifty-seven pairs of horses engaged in hauling spruce. In addition to these are a number of parties hauling by the thousand, making all told seventy teams in Mr. Keswick's employ. The output of these operations will be upwards of six million feet. The lumber is of the best quality, and commands a good price. The expenses of carrying on this immense business will amount to forty-five thousand dollars.

Mr. Keswick is about fifty years of age and as full of energy and enterprise as ever, and he may yet reach a higher plane of success than at present, and I feel proud that I belong to the grand old county of Kent which has produced so many noble sons.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. For sale by W. W. Short, druggist.

Harcourt.

FEB. 4th.—F. D. Livingston who studied telegraphy at Harcourt with Mr. J. B. Humphrey has been appointed night agent at Beaver Brook Station.

Messrs. John Lambie and John Campbell, while absent in the woods one day last week, had their lumber camp destroyed by fire.

Mrs. John Livingston, who has been seriously ill from blood poisoning, is somewhat improved.
