Don't Stop My Paper.

Don't stop my paper, printer, Don't strike my name off yet; You know the times are stringent, And dollars hard to get. But tug a little harder Is what I mean to do,

And scrape the dimes together, Enough for me and you. I can't afford to drop it, I find it doesn't pay

To do without a paper, However others may. I hate to ask my neighbors To give me their's on loan; They don't just say, but mean it, Why don't you have your own?

You can't tell how much we miss it, If by any fate, It happens not to reach us, Or comes a little late. Then all is in a hubbub, And things go all awry, And-printer, if you're married

You'll know the reason why.

The children want their stories, And wife is anxious too, At first to glance it over, And then to read it through. And I to read the leaders And con the temperance views, And scan the correspondence And every bit of news.

I cannot do without it, It is no use to try, The other people take it, And, printer, so must I. I, too must keep well posted And know what's going on, Or feel and be accounted A fogy simpleton.

Then take it kindly, printer, If pay is somewhat slow, For cash is not so plenty, And wants not few, you know; But I must have my paper, Cost what it may to me; I'd rather dock my sugar, Or go without my tea.

So, printer, don't you stop it. Unless you want my frown, For here's the year's subscription, And credit it right down, And send the paper promptly, And regularly on, And let it bring us weekly Its weekly benison. - Ex.

Parliament-

OTTAWA, March 25.—A three hour session of the House to-day resulted in considerable business being done in a general routine sort of way with a good deal of talk about business that was not done.

Mr. Charlton wasted a large portion of what was intended to be purely a business session by rehearing a speech on the advisability of reducing domestic letter pestage to two cents. As he did not introduce his measure promised early in the session and as there would not be the slightest prospect of passing it in the regular order of business except as a Government measure during the remainder of the session, the matter excited little

Sir Adolphe Caron replied briefly. In the course of his speech he said that compared with its population Canada has the best postal service with more officers than any other country in the world, not excepting the United States. He did not think the revenue would suffice for the ed seit through American cities, and while postal service if the rate were reduced unless the postage were reimposed upon

> Mr. Mills, while in favor of the motion of Mr. Charlton, pointed out that there was a great difference between postage and taxes in the ordinary sense. The postage was a direct payment for a service rendered and so could not be called a tax till the receipts of the department exceeded the lists this year. Additional correspondence covering the French treaty was laid on the table by Mr. Foster who said that it contained nothing of consequence and would not be printed save at the desire of the leader of the opposition. Asked as to whether it is the intention of the Government to ask parliament to ratify the treaty he said he was not prepared to answer till Monday. Col. Prior brought up the question of a pension scheme for the permanent militia corps of the Dominion, making a stirring appeal for the adoption of such in the interests of the country as tending to increase the efficiency of the force.

Hon. Mr. Patterson said he would have much pleasure laying the matter before his colleagues and if anything is decided upon it will be laid before Parliament next

In supply the House passed one railway item. Hon. Mr. Haggart made a lengthy explanation of the economic changes he had effected on the I. C. Ry. and P. E. I. Road, and pledged his word that henceforth the expenditure and receipts would be equalized on the I. C. R., but he could not say as much for the P. E. I. branch, where there would always be a deficit of $40,000 or $50,000 a year. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Pettinger in whose control the I. C. R. had been placed, and spoke of the condition of the road and its equipment as equal to that of the best lines in America.

Mr. McAllister made a strong plea for better train service on the northern division so far as the people of Restigouche were concerned, and pointed out how it could be done without adding to the cost of running the road. The supplementary estimates will be brought down Monday. OTTAWA, March 27 .- The final supplementary estimates were laid before the House to-day the New Brunswick items being as follows:

To assist in publishing the decisions of the N. B. Admiralty Court ... For the purchase of permanent camp ground at Sussex..... To purchase two powerful locomotives to haul combined I. C. R. and C. P. R. trains between Halifax and Moneton..... 24,000

For extension of I. C. R. along the harbor front of St. John ...... 25,000 For a new lazaretto at Tracadie... 15,000 For St. John quarantine station... For improvements to ferry landing at Campbellton..... For protection of Fort Dufferin,

St. John ...... For repairs to Quaco break water... For a new wharf at Gardener creek, St. John Co...... For a new dredge for the Maritime Provinces ...... 15,000

For steam service between St. John, Yarmouth and Halifax... 2,000 To provide for the gratuity of one year's salary to officers whose services are no longer required by reason of the closing of the St. John Marine Hospital...... For Indian school repairs at St. Mary's, York Co...... 2,100 To provide for six additional letter

OTTAWA, March 28.—The house got through a large lot of business to-day, the only delay being caused by John Charlton, who occupied an hour or so in trying to make it appear that the American account of the Washington Conference negotiations was more trustworthy than that given by the Canadian delegates.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that he would let the country judge for itself form the report he had brought down, which was endorsed by Lor! Paunceforte, the British Ambassador to the United States.

Among the bills agreed to was one that legalizing the sale of the Carleton Branch Railway and to legalize the voters' list now existing for I893.

The House will meet at 11 o'clock in the morning tomorrow, and Thursday to finish up business this week. Hon. Mr. Foster in reply to Hon. Mr.

Whether as a result of these troubles or not, Mr. Palmer was in December last assaulted by James Kelly, who was employ ed on the works who, seizing him by the throat, attempted to stab out both his eyes, and so deprive him of his sight, but Mr. Palmer struggled so that the blows came only on his nose, which yet bear the marks of the knife. The engineer dropped to the ground like a log, but after he recovered consciousness managed to crawl to the house of Mrs. Strang at Cape Traverse, who stopped the flow of blood from the arteries by staunching it with flour. So soon as he recovered, Mr. Palmer laid information against Kelly, but the assailant had escaped, having been ed yesterday relating to civil service sup- rowed across the straits, eight and a half miles, in a small boat, despite the fact that the steamer left the same time.
