PARLIAMENT OPENED.

Messrs Chesley and McInerney Introduced and Take Their Seats.

Ottawa, JAN. 24th.—The opening of parliament this afternoon was the most brilliant spectacle of the kind for many years, the glorious weather permitting the ladies to grace the senate chamber in unusual force.

Honorable Gentleman of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In meeting you at the commencement of another session of parliament it affords me pleasure to congratulate you on the continued progress which the history of the past year unfolds with regard to Canada.

In Manitoba and the Northwest territories the increase in immigration has been decidedly encouraging, both as regards the number of persons who have come from other countries and as regards the number of homestead entries made by settlers of all nationalities.

Measures have been taken to carry into effect the agreements arrived at with the United States on the subject of the boundary of Alaska, boundary line in Passamaquoddy Bay, and the prevention of destructive methods of fishing and the preservation and increase of fish life.

With regard to reciprocity in wrecking and towing, a correspondence has taken place which indicates that privileges are demanded for United States vessels in Canadian canals which were not anticipated, but it is not impossible that a satisfactory conclusion of the discussion may yet be reached.

During recess a friendly conference took place between delegates from my government and from the government of Newfoundland on the question which was pending between the two countries.

The statutes of 1887 relative to a department of trade and commerce and to the office of solicitor general having been brought into force, the appointments were made which were contemplated by these acts.

It is to be regretted that the government of the United States was unable to accept the suggestions made by my government on the subject of canal tolls and that the President should have thought it necessary to impose exceptional tolls on Canadians using the Sault Ste. Marie canal, which has so long been free to the people of both countries.

Measures will be laid before you for the improvement of the franchise act, for the amendment of the laws relating to the civil service, and the superannuation of civil servants, for regulating the admission of evidence to causes and matters under the control of the parliament of Canada, for extending the system of voting by ballot to the Northwest territories, and for simplifying the laws relating to lands and land transfers in the territories.

The public accounts of the past year and the estimates for the ensuing year will be laid before you without delay, and I trust it will be seen that ample provision may be made for the public service without increasing taxation.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I have every confidence that all these matters will receive your best attention, and that, your deliberations will keep in view, above all other considerations, the welfare and stability of the country.

On the return of the commons to their chamber twelve members all liberal conservatives elected during the recess, were introduced, among them Mr. Chesley, by Hon. Mr. Foster and George F. Baird and Mr. McInerney, by Hon. Mr. Costigan and Hon. Mr. Foster.

On motion of Sir John Thomson, who expressed regret that the leader of the opposition was absent through illness, the consideration of the address was postponed till Monday.

The house adjourned at four o'clock. Seven new senators including Hon. Messrs. Bowell and Angers, took their seats in the upper chamber to-day.

Ottawa, JAN. 27.—The house only sat a few minutes to-day before adjourning till Monday, when the address will be taken up as Mr. Laurier's health has so far improved that he will be able to take his seat by that time.

Several annual reports were submitted, including that of the department of justice by Sir John Thompson; report of the marine and fisheries department by Hon. John Costigan; report on food adulteration by Hon. Mr. Wood, and the public accounts and auditor general's report by the finance minister.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The address in reply to Lord Stanley's speech was moved this afternoon by Mr. McInerney of Kent, in one of the most eloquent addresses heard for years within the walls of parliament, and the young orator added another to the long list of triumphs achieved on these floors by New Brunswick men.

Apart from the nervousness incident to a first appearance, Mr. McInerney's form was beyond criticism. The dignity of his bearing being tempered by that degree of modesty most becoming a debutante. After a graceful introduction, Mr. McInerney took up one by one the paragraphs of the address, dealing with the several items in a manner that showed an intimate acquaintance with the great services of the country, and in concluding his speech drew a glowing picture of Canada's natural wealth, and pointed out that the task now before Canada's statesmen was the fusing together and moulding into one nationality the descendants of the greatest people the world has ever seen.

Mr. LeClaire of Terrebonne, seconded the address in French.

Mr. Laurier, who followed, moved the following amendment:

That the following words be added to the address: We feel bound to represent to your excellency that on the present conditions of the people of Canada substantial reduction should be made in the taxation which presses so heavily upon the great bulk of the community and would regret that in the speech graciously delivered from the throne, your excellency was not advised to hold out promises of reductions in the oppressive duties now imposed.

Sir John Thompson, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Mr. Foster and Mr. Mills continued the debate until 10.40 p. m. when the amendment was rejected. Yeas, 53; nays, 103.

Messrs. Chesley, McInerney and the other new liberal conservative members were heartily applauded as they stood up to vote for the first time in the house with their party. The address was then passed in due form.—Sun.

"And the Child in the Arms of its Mother."

MRS. FRANK E. NADAU AND CHILD. A BRIGHT, HEALTHY BOY whose life was saved by GRODER'S SYRUP.

A Mother Speaks to Mothers.

THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO. GENTLEMEN:—My child is the picture of health to-day because I heeded the advice of a friend and I tried your remedy.

Our baby was cutting his teeth last spring, and like many other children at such a time, he became very sick and feverish.

We were so anxious about him that we called in two physicians, and did all in our power to relieve him. But he would not grow so much worse that we feared for his life.

There seemed no hope of his recovery. It was then that a friend recommended your medicine, and we commenced its use. To our entire surprise the very small doses THAT we gave each hour brought speedy relief.

Our boy rallied quickly and soon became himself again. Other mothers have children who suffer precisely as mine did. They should use your remedy and keep it constantly in the house.

I would not think my children safe without it. Very gratefully yours, MRS. FRANK E. NADAU, FAIRFIELD, MAINE.

PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE. At All Druggists. None Genuine unless bearing our Trade Mark, THE BRAVEL.
