The Cure For

Scrofula was once supposed to be the touch of royalty. To-day, many grateful people know that the "sovereign remedy" is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This powerful alternative extirpates "the evil" by thoroughly eliminating all the stumorous poison from the blood. Consumption, catarrh, and various other physical as well as mental maladies, have their origin in

SCROFULA

When hereditary, this disease manifests itself in childhood by glandular swellings, running sores, swollen joints, and general feebleness of body. Administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla on appearance of the first symptoms. "My little girl was troubled with a painful scrofulous swelling under one of her arms. ## Baldheads, Young and Old.

Our illustrious American electrician Edison is now studying the subject of baldheadedness. He maintains that bald people die young, while people who are well roofed with hair live long, and he believes that, as he himself has a fertile scalp, he will live to a ripe old age.

We cannot believe that Mr. Edison has ransacked the pages of history for proof of his hirsute theory. We are confident that, if he can be induced to examine the portraits of the great he will change his mind on the subject. We are able to tell him that very many of the eminent personages of the world who were short of hair even in their early manhood, lived to a green old age, and we can show him the pictures of inventors, commanders, sages, statesmen, saints, and nabobs who began to grow bald when young, and who grew steadily bald as they grew older right straight along. Where shall we begin with our illustrations? Socrates the Greek and Caesar the Roman were both disposed to baldness in their prime, yet the former lived for over seventy years and the latter for nearly sixty. From Caesar's time to that of Peter the Hermit, from Columbus' time to that of Voltaire, from the "Sage of Kinderhook's" time to that of General Ben Butler, we can name numerous persons of eminence whose locks began to fall long before they reached middle age, yet who lived to be as old as Mr. Edison himself will be when he is an octogenarian. Not a few of our revolutionary sires were bald, having begun to shed their hair while yet colonists, and we must ask Mr. Edison not to be deceived by the pictures of that period, but to bear in mind that, up to the opening of this century, the large bottomed wig was used by many of the gentlemen of our country. What does Mr. Edison know about the baldness of the three Adamases, or about the locks of Jefferson, Hamilton, and several of their compeers? Can he tell us whether the Father of his Country wore artificial hair! Did he ever see a man adorned with a toupee, to say nothing of a peruke! We forewarn Mr. Edison that in ransacking history for facts bearing upon baldheadedness, it is necessary to proceed with caution. He will find, by the allusions of ancient and modern authors to the habit of wig wearing, that very many notable men have had very much less hair atop than they were credited with.

Even in our own times, alas! there are not a few distinguished Americans from thirty to eighty years old who are as baldheaded as the Hebrew prophet Elisha was. Let Mr. Edison go to the city of Washington and look down upon the heads of the members of the United States Senate. He will see senators there who are as lively as crickets, though they have been more or less bald for the greater part of a half century. Let him then go abroad and find out for how many years Gladstone's hair has been growing ever sparser, or Bismark's, or a hundred other great men's. Let Mr. Edison prosecute his researches around the world, and send us the baldheaded news from China, Japan, and other countries.

The truth is that Mr. Edison cannot possibly sustain his contention that long-lived men always have "thick heads of hair." He says that his own father, who is yet vigorous at eighty-three—and long may he flourish!—has a "wonderful head of hair;" but we can offset this case by that of a citizen of New York over ninety who has been bald since he was in his twenties. We are prepared to affirm and to prove that the abundance of a man's hair does not surely betoken long life, and that the baldness of a man's head does not betoken his early death. We can give piles of facts upon this subject. We have just elected a President who is rapidly growing bald, though yet far from old age. Several of the ancient sages regarded early baldness as a sign of early wisdom. We admit that it has not been so in Edison's case, for he has lots of hair on his head; but Edison must not judge all mankind by himself.

The baldness of some people is due to heredity. In this city there is a family of three generations, all the members of which are beyond maturity, all of whom began to grow bald when about twenty years old, and the grandfathers' father was as bald when young as he is when old.

In other cases the loss of scalp hair is caused by solar heat, or by febrile maladies, or by the action of parasites, or by erythematous affections of the scalp, or by the wearing of tightly fitting and unyielding hats, or perhaps by deep thought. The learned French barber of this city, who has made scientific study of the hair of the heads of his customers, says he could make an immense fortune if he knew how to cause the hair to grow upon those bald scalps in which the epidemic cells are closed. He has striven for a lifetime to invent something that would be potent in this line, or would give the promise of potency; but he confesses with sorrow that his labor has been in vain.—N. Y. Sun.

Catarrh in the Head

Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood, and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood-purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of Catarrh. It gives an appetite and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

Poultry Pickings.

A crop of clean large fowls of uniform size will bring the best prices.

Pekin ducks can be raised with only sufficient water for them to drink.

Feed the poultry the fruit and vegetable parings, especially during the winter.

The best profit from eggs is in the winter, and good treatment must be given to secure them.

Keeping fowls until they are too old is one cause of poultry failing to return a good profit.

When the house is made warm care should be taken to see that it is well ventilated daily.—Live Stock Indicator.

THE BOYS.—Boys should always have some quick and sure remedy for sudden attacks of Cramps, Diarrhea, or Dysentery, for a physician is not always near, and an hour's delay in cases of this kind often leads to serious results. Therefore parents should have on hand a supply of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, which is as efficacious as it is simple and harmless. Directions are with each bottle, and one dose rarely fails to bring relief to a sufferer from any bowel complaint. New Size 25c. Bottle, full 2 oz.

Health Hints.

Hot water for sprains.

Raw oysters for hoarseness.

Turpentine for lock-jaw.

Raw egg for a cut.

Salt water for falling hair.

Quicklime in water for poison.

Tar on sugar for weak lungs.

Hot lemonade for colds.

Sugar moistened with vinegar for hicough.

Hot milk as a stimulant.

Milk puddings and stewed fruit for bilious dyspepsia.

Got Away With $7,000.

PORT HURON, Mich., Dec. 22.—One of the boldest and most daring robberies that ever occurred in this vicinity was perpetrated at the Canadian express office at Sarnia Tuesday, when $7,000 were taken out of the safe in the office while the clerk was at dinner. The robbers made good their escape, apparently without leaving a single clue.

Thomas Cook, Jr., agent of the company, has been sick abed for the last few days and the office was in charge of James McMahon. At 12.25 o'clock McMahon locked everything valuable in the office safe, which is an old-fashioned keylock affair, and after locking the front door went for his dinner. Upon his return, at five minutes before one, he found the door of the safe open with a key sticking in the keyhole and $7,000 in currency missing.

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Loathing of Food, Dyspepsia or Biliousness, take HAWKER'S LIVER PILLS. They will cure you. Recommended by leading Physicians as a most reliable medicine.

A PRIZE PUZZLE.

NO PRIZES FOR STUPID PEOPLE.

(In the above Sketch Six Faces are to be Found.)

The proprietors of THE LADIES HOME MONTHLY will give a first-class Upright Piano, of the very best make (valued at $250) to the person who can first find the six faces. A reward of a Safety Bicycle (valued at $125), for the second correct answer. A fine Oak Bedroom Set (valued at $60) for the third correct answer. A Solid Gold Watch for each of the next two correct answers. A Ten Dollar Gold Piece for the next three correct answers.

Every contestant is to cut out the Rubens, and make a cross with a lead pencil on the six faces and send same to us with ten three cent postage stamps (or 30 cents in silver) for three months subscription to THE LADIES HOME MONTHLY, which is the best ladies publication in Canada.

We will give to the last ten correct answers received each a handsome Banquet Lamp, and a valuable prize will also be given to every person who is able to answer the Rubens correctly until fifty prizes have been awarded.

The envelope which contains correct answer bearing first postmark will receive first reward, and the remainder in order as received. Every prize in this competition will be faithfully awarded. Our "bona-fide" offers are made by reliable publishers.

Be sure and answer to-day and enclose 30 cents, and you may receive a valuable prize for your trouble. Address (B) Ladies Home Monthly, 192 King St., West, Toronto, Canada.
