Cures Headache and Dyspepsia. Valentine Cameron started with another man to walk from Summerside to his home in Wellington, P. E. I. Both were under the influence of liquor. Cameron's companion left him on the road about a mile from home. Cameron did not go far before he fell on the roadside, where he lay all night. Next forenoon he was found so badly frozen that he will likely lose one hand and a foot.

Christmas is Coming.

I know by the whooping and humming Of little ones out in the streets, That Christmas—their Christmas—is coming. With its bells and its bugles so sweet, And I wonder if God will deny me The joy of the children so dear, And if the wee one sleeping by me Will have any Christmas this year?

He doesn't know much of the "Santa" Who comes to the children; yet he—When I talk of the snowy enchanter, Looks wonderful knowing at me! The fire in the chimney is singing, His blue eyes gaze dreamily there; Dear little one—cooing and chinging! Will he have any Christmas this year?

The times are so hard, and the jingle Of silver sounds faintly and far; And the hearts that with tenderness tingle—Are not where the money mints are. But I wonder if God will deny me The joy of the children so dear, And if the wee one sleeping by me Will have any Christmas this year?

Suspected to be Innocent.

BROCKVILLE, Dec. 18.—A strange change of feeling has come over the people here in regard to the innocence of Charles Luckey, who suffered the extreme penalty of the law on Thursday last. Many people are stubborn in their belief that Radcliffe hanged an innocent man. "No man was braver before the hempen cord," said Radcliffe, "and I've always noticed in my experience that the sight of the rope makes the best of them wince; even Burchill was no exception. He betrayed his guilt, but Luckey, why he was just sensible and resigned, and realized his fate like an innocent man naturally would."

Her Fatal Corsets.

JACKSON, Mich., Dec. 18.—Frankie Simons, an inmate of Sadie Hodge's house died recently while riding with her employer in a sleigh. While driving down Francis street the Hodge woman spoke to her companion, who did not answer. She reined her horse in at Dr. White's drug store and called for assistance. The girl, whose head had fallen back over the cutter seat, was taken into the store. Dr. White applied restoratives, but within two minutes Miss Simons ceased to breathe. An autopsy showed that death was due to paralysis of the heart, although that organ was perfectly healthy. The heart's paralysis was caused by tight lacing. The effects of the corsets were apparent, for the heart, lungs, liver and stomach were crowded together in an abnormally small space.

A Retraction Demanded.

To Messrs Abraham Pineau and Nenoire Pineau. SIRS.—I hereby notify you that unless retraction of the charges brought and published against me in the Moniteur of the 25th October and the L'Evangéline of the 7th December last, and made from this day to the 25th December of the present year, I will cite you before the civil tribunals for defamation of character. The immigration from the British Isles continues to flow towards the province of Quebec. From April to November no less than 3,063 persons, most of whom were English speaking, found homes in the eastern townships and elsewhere throughout the province. With such contingents yearly reaching this province it would seem that the minority stands little chance of being swamped by the French element.

Saturday night two farmers belonging to North River, P. E. I., named James McIntyre and Donald McKinnon, became involved in a quarrel in Porter Gallant's house at Queen's Arms (near Charlottetown), from which McKinnon emerged with several stab wounds about the neck, side and back, and McIntyre had to get several stitches put in his head as a result of the encounter. McKinnon is in the hospital in a critical condition and McIntyre is in jail awaiting trial for aggravated assault.

Itch Mange and Scratches of every kind, by human or animals, cured in 30 minutes on Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. For sale by W. W. Short, agent for Kent County. A quadruple lynch occurred in Dallas county, Ala., on Sunday, 10th. On Saturday night four negro tramps went to the house of Mrs. William Jones during the absence of her husband and knocked on the door. She was alone and refused to let the men in. One of them pushed the door open and Mrs. Jones opened fire on the tramps with a pistol, wounding one. Alarm was given and a posse of citizens overhauled the gang three miles away. All confessed their guilt. They were taken to a tree and hanged to the same limb.

ROBBERY AT BUCTOUCHE.—On Friday night last, the store of Mr. J. D. Irving in Buctouche, was broken into and a quantity of goods stolen. The guilty parties entered the store through a broken pane of glass. Wm Gould, who was concerned in a robbery in Kingston some time ago, and Jude Savoy of Black River, were suspected of having committed the offence and arrested. Gould admitted his guilt and claimed that Savoy assisted him. Savoy protested his innocence. His preliminary hearing took place before Stipendiary John P. Legere at Buctouche, Tuesday. Some of the stolen goods were recovered.

The Price of a Lynching.

The sealed verdict returned at New Orleans in the Abbagnette case was in favor of the plaintiff for $5,000. The original suit was for $30,000—$10,000 for punitive damages, $10,000 the amount which the deceased would probably have earned during the balance of his life and $10,000 for his fright and suffering before and while being lynched. The first two amounts were knocked out by the charge of Judge Boardman; the third amount was cut down to $5,000 in the discretion lodged in the jury. There are six more cases, and they will be tried in succession, beginning on the 18th. Similar verdicts will probably be rendered in each case, as the same jury will try each case. There will be no appeal from the verdict.
