

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC

AND Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar.
It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., AUG. 20, '88.
To the Great South American Nervine Tonic, I desire to say that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

A SURE CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic

Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unimportant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIS E. HALL, of Waynesville, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine Tonic. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

No remedy compares with SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon: If you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.

A Peculiar People.

Besides Kwakwaka, of South Greenland, the natives of that region have another evil spirit whom they designate Tivigtuk. This Tivigtuk appear to correspond closely with the devils spoken of in the Scriptures who entered the herd of swine and sent them plunging into the sea. Every now and then a native, when he has a more than usually serious altercation with family or friends, instead of fighting runs away to the mountains, where he lives a hermit's life and sulks. Then those at the settlement mourn and declare that the man has Tivigtuk in him. Then they hunt him up, and if they find the recluse, force him home, where he is watched over until the bad humor passes away, on which his friends rejoice, and say that the Tivigtuk has become Senepa or dead in him.

In some of their superstitions the South Greenland natives are quite poetical in thought; as, for example in regard to the aurora borealis, in which they claim that the waving shafts of light are the spirits of the dead Eskimos engaged in kicking a phantom walrus skulls across the heaven in a spiritual football.

It is curious that these far northern people, both in South and North Greenland, have the same idea of a future state as the American Indians, found, doubtless, on the same character of their struggle for animal existence. Like the Indian the Eskimos believe that the spirits of their deceased friends and relatives go to a great place of hunting; but instead of a vast prairie over which buffalo and deer range in vast herds, the "huskie" spirit hies him to a broad sea in which are countless seals, walrus, and polar bears, and on the shores of which are tufts, or reindeer in quantity beyond extermination.

Besides these legends the Peary party came across one in the north regarding creation, which should afford special food for thought for the anthropologists. According to this legend the first man fashioned was white, and while not exactly pebbled, or crazy, his mental balance was of such a low order and his manners and ways so objectionable that his creator was disgusted with his first attempt, and made another, which gave satisfaction in every way. This other and perfect specimen of manhood was an Eskimo. If the belief of some of the anthropologists that the Eskimos are the remains of the cave dwellers of the stone age, this legend is remarkable as perhaps being the possible origin of similar legends of other nations. If, on the other hand, as seems more reasonable, from their color, facial outlines, and peculiar shape and set of their eyes, that this strange people are of mongolian origin, the story is still remarkable as having been retained through all their wanderings from Asia through America to their present icebound home, the tale losing only the intermediate race creations. —Wm. E. Neehan, in Independent.

E. B. B. Cures Sick Headache.

GENTLEMEN.—Having suffered for a number of years with sick headache I concluded to try B. B. B., and by the time I had used two bottles I was cured, and have not had any symptoms of it since. I can safely recommend B. B. B. for sick headache. MRS. A. A. GAMBRY, Orono, Ont.

He and She.

Here are some things a woman can do: Shop all day and not spend more than 50 cents.

Walk the floor with the baby half the night and not be bad tempered at breakfast next morning.

Entertain unwelcome visitors and make them feel welcome.

Dance for hours in shoes two sizes too small and yet have "a perfectly lovely time."

Make her mother-in-law like her.

Talk about servant girls and women suffering in the same breath.

Have a nervous headache, and go to a matinee and forget all about it.

Subsist on a diet composed chiefly of cakes, buns, pickles and tea.

Sleep peacefully with steel prongs sticking into the head, their purpose being to crimp the hair.

Wear thin-soled shoes and wonder why she has neuralgia.

Do fancy work for four months before Christmas and yet enjoy that holiday when it comes.

Keep house, raise the children, attend church, sew, belong to several clubs, and then feel sorry for "poor John" because he has to work so hard.

Here are some things a man can do:

Sharpen a pencil.

Drive a nail.

Take his sweetheart to the theatre and never once leave her side.

Take the same sweetheart to the theatre a year afterwards, when she has become his wife, and go out between every act.

Be positive that he knows more about the tariff question than any of the other fellows.

Smoke $2 worth of cigars a day and wonder how some people can be extravagant.

Go to a baseball game and howl like a Comanche Indian from pure enjoyment. Spend his last $5 for a good dinner and think it well spent.

Wear a chrysanthemum the size of a young cabbage and not feel conspicuous.

Make more trouble about a slight cold in the head than a woman would if she had typhoid fever.

Wear loose, warm, comfortable clothes in winter and thin, equally sensible and comfortable clothes in summer.

Pay little or no attention to fashions and yet be always well dressed.

Be generous and fair where his wife's relatives are concerned.

Admire other women and adore his wife.

Talk about the hard times to his wife when she hints about a new bonnet, and tells all his male friends that he has not felt the stringency in the money market at all.

Arlington Heights, Mass.

DEAR SIR,—I have had Rheumatism in my arms and hands for two years, have been employed as a book-keeper in Boston for eight years. By times I could hardly use my hands to perform my duties. I purchased a bottle of SCOTT'S CURE FOR RHEUMATISM, which entirely cured me. Yours, with success, LEANDER PRICE.

Our Mother's Mistake.

"It seems to me," said a woman lately, —one whose sons and daughters are grown and out in the world—"that if I had my children to bring up over again, I would give up everything, and devote myself to each till he was five years old."

"What I did was to employ nurses—what a travesty of the tenderly significant word!—from infancy to about that time, when I looked after them myself."

"One of my children—he is a married man now—cherishes still a most unreasonable fear of the dark, even of passing the open door of an unlighted apartment, because, forsooth, years ago in his baby-hood a nurse, urged him to sleep, let a wolf should come out of the dark and get him."

"A second son will carry to his grave a nervous dread of laughing, born of a practice of another nurse of showing her large white glittering teeth in a mirthless grin when, as an infant, he fretted. I caught her at it one day, and instantly sent her away; but the mischief was done, and I have been helpless to combat it. And my nurses were no worse than my neighbors."

"A child's care taker should be a child lover; and who loves a child like his mother? I long to say to every young mother I know: 'Stay with your babies, if you possibly can, until they are big enough to know what is going on about them.'"

Our Family Physician.

DEAR SIRS,—I was troubled with eczema (salt rheum) for about two years, but I did not bother with it until it began to itch and spread over my head. I then took four bottles of B. B. B., which completely drove it away. It was by my son's advice I took B. B. B., as B. B. B. is our family physician. J. S. MILLS, Collingwood, Ont.

Return of the Grip.

Pale and grewsome and watery-eyed the specter of the grip again appears. Upon his departure last spring the earnest wish was formed that the specter would develop a taste for travel in distant parts or would get homesick for its native Russia. Siberia for life would be about the thing for it. But this is not to be. Like a prima donna fresh from a farewell tour, the grip returns to play havoc with the American organs of hearing. But a few weeks more and the public may expect to find the malady toying with its sensitive anatomy as ever before. And there's not much to be done but call the doctor and grin and bear it or bear it without grinning. The mischief of this fin-de-siècle form of influenza is that one never knows upon what bastion of the fortress of health it is going to make its attack. One may expect it in one place and order up reinforcements from the quinine bottle. And lo! it is somewhere else, where nothing but a detachment of antipyrene powders can dislodge it. Or one may employ liniment over one's neither limbs and find that the only salvation is to fortify himself under flannel blankets and pour in a steady fire of hot lemonade.

Truly the grip is an insidious and wary fighter, even though all are inclined to sneeze at it.—EX.
