When Life is Done.
When life is done availeth naught The pleasures that we dearly bought,
The wealth we risked our souls to gain,
The honors won through toil and pain,
The titles coveted and sought,
No world-wide fame availeth aught,
No name, no marvel science taught,
When earth and earthly objects wane,
When life is done.

The kindly deed for others wrought,
The patient word, the generous thought,
The effort made by hand or brain
'Gainst might for right, though made in vain,
Shall be by God forgotten not,
When life is done.

Elections in the States.
A probably trustworthy estimate of the results of the State elections to be held beyond the border next week has been made by The Philadelphia Ledger, Independent Republican. It says that thirteen States of the Union will hold State elections on November 7 next—Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Iowa will elect a governor, several other State officers and a Legislature. The result this year is problematical, the prohibition question, as usual, complicating the situation.

Kentucky will elect a Legislature which will quite certainly be Democratic.

Maryland will choose a Legislature and five judicial officers, and the Democrats will doubtless be successful.

Massachusetts will elect a Legislature and a full State ticket. Governor Russell having declined a renomination, the Democrats have named ex-Representative Russell, and the Republicans have selected ex-Representative Greenhalge. The indications favor the latter's election, as Massachusetts is usually a Republican State, although Governor Russell's popularity ran him so far ahead of his ticket as to enable him to win. The Legislature will quite certainly be carried by the Republicans, as well as the rest of the State ticket.

Missouri will select several State officers, the chances largely favoring the Democrats.

Nebraska will elect a Justice of the Supreme Court and three Regents of the State University. The Democrats and Populists had an understanding last fall, particularly in certain Congressional districts, and in the Legislature they combined to elect as United States Senator W. V. Allen, populist, who recently broke the record by his long speech in the Senate in opposition to the repeal of the silver section of the Sherman Act. This year

Democrats and Populists are wide apart, and the indications favor the success of the Republican nominees.

New York will elect a Legislature and a number of State officers, including an Associate Justice of the Court of Appeals to succeed Isaac H. Maynard, who has been nominated by the Democrats. Judge Maynard is attacked by the Bar Association on account of his relation to the recent contest for the control of the Legislature, and he is accused of unprofessional conduct in relation thereto. He is vigorously supported by the Democratic State machine. As the legislative districts have been newly arranged by the last Democratic Legislature, the Democrats expect to retain the Legislature. The result, however, is in doubt.

Several Senators and a full Lower House are to be elected in New Jersey, and the Democrats will probably continue in the ascendancy, although the last legislature was so controlled by the race track influence as to disgust the respectable members of both parties.

Ohio will elect a State ticket and a Legislature. William McKinley, Jr., has been renominated for Governor by the Republicans, with Lawrence T. Neal as his Democratic opponent. The contest is being waged principally on national issue. The Republicans lost one presidential elector last fall, and the whole ticket came near going by the board. They expect better luck this year.

In Virginia a Legislature is to be chosen, and several State officers, including a governor. There is some trouble in the Democratic camp, owing to opposition by Populists and Silverites. The Republican organization, however, is in such a bad way that the Democrats are confident of success.

South Dakota will elect eleven judges of the Supreme and Circuit Courts. The incumbents are all Republicans, and will most likely be succeeded by Republicans.

Pennsylvania will elect a justice of the Supreme Court, and a State treasurer. Both the Republican and Democratic parties have placed excellent tickets in the field, and the State will likely give the normal Republican majority.

Wisconsin will elect a full State ticket and a Legislature. The result will be awaited with interest, as indicating to what extent the Democracy holds its recently acquired ascendancy in that part of the Union.

It will be seen that, according to The Ledger's estimate, the parties are likely to balance successes pretty evenly.

Positive and Negative.
The Race Question is unsettled. But it is settled that Hood's Sarsaparilla leads all remedies.

Disease marches through all lands. But good health blesses all who take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Dyspepsia is a great foe of the human race. But Hood's Sarsaparilla puts it to flight.

Scrofula is one of the most terrible of diseases. But Hood's Sarsaparilla expels it from the system.

The people of this day, like Job, suffer from boils. But Hood's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign remedy for them.

Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable disorders. But Hood's Sarsaparilla is sure to relieve and cure it.

Rheumatism racks the system like a thumb-screw. But it retreats before the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Loss of appetite leads to melancholia. But Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the plainest repast tickle the palate.

Life is short and time is fleeting, but Hood's Sarsaparilla will bless humanity as the ages roll on.

NATURE YIELDS ANOTHER SECRET.

It has often been contended by physiologists and men of science generally, that nervous energy or nervous impulses which pass along the nerve fibres, were only other names for electricity. This seemingly plausible statement was accepted for a time, but has been completely abandoned since it has been proved that the nerves are not good conductors of electricity, and that the velocity of a nervous impulse is but 100 feet per second—which is very much slower than that of electricity. It is now generally agreed that nervous energy, or what we are pleased to call nerve fluid, is a wondrous, a mysterious force, in which dwells life itself.

A very eminent specialist, who has studied profoundly the workings of the nervous system for the last twenty-five years, has lately demonstrated that two-thirds of all our ailments and chronic diseases are due to deranged nerve centres within or at the base of the brain.

All know that an injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis to the body below the injured point. The reason for this is, that the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion.

When food is taken into the stomach, it comes in contact with numberless nerve fibres in the walls of this organ which once send a nervous impulse to the nerve centres which control the stomach, notifying them of the presence of food; whereupon the nerve centres send down a supply of nerve force, or nerve fluid, to at once begin the operation of digestion.

But let the nerve centres which control the stomach be deranged and they will not be able to respond with a sufficient supply of nerve force, to properly digest the food, and, as a result, indigestion and dyspepsia make their appearance. So it is with the other organs of the body, if the nerve centres which control them and supply them with nerve force become deranged, they are also deranged.

The wonderful success of the remedy known as the Great South American Nerve Tonic is due to the fact that it is prepared by one of the most eminent physicians and specialists of the age, and is based on the foregoing scientific discovery. It acts directly on the nerves, and possesses marvellous powers for the cure of Nervousness, Nervous Prostration, Headache, Sleeplessness, Restlessness, St. Vitus's Dance, Mental Despondency, Hysteria, Heart Disease, Nervousness of Females, Hot Flashes, Sick Headache. It is also an absolute specific for all stomach troubles.

Quick Advertisements
Are a nuisance, and we think it behoves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns.

We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Poison's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Poison's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

Ein Awake.
O'Flin claims he was dreaming. Such a thing is so characteristic of his sleepy head that none would discredit it. Certaining he is dreaming, for who in his waking hours would rattle away at his rate. He claims his brain is dyspeptic. A new disease; but if there be such a thing as indigestion of the brain, I doubt not O'Flin has met with it. More the probability, since he shows his inability to handle all given in your previous issue.

He reckons he was queer when attending Normal School. Such that Lieut. Cox, Wilhoit, realizing him insane, restricted his freedom. O'Flin now dreams he may again be appropriated to the asylum. Yes, doubtless,

"For I see Media burning
At her passion-planted stake."

His dreams are broken. He talks of the Governor, the Bishop, Pilgrims, Christians, imagines he sees devils, and declares that seven devils were cast out of him. Even so it may have been. He is certainly delirious. He still goes on, and between his paroxysms we catch the continuous murmuring, "ass in traces," "harnessed ass," "pedagogic ass," all of which ejaculations plainly indicate his disorder of mind, and prove the idea of ass to be uppermost. He endeavors to shake off the dread realization, but of no avail. He is branded with the epithet of Balsam's ass, and is not only a laughing stock, but a fit subject for Barnum's circus.

As for me, because of the changeability of human nature, I bid farewell to Kent, that land of hill and dale and winding rivulet, where springs burst forth in all their freshness, and rich in productions, literally a land of milk and honey, what Abraham, Isaac and Jacob would be well contented with. Not without regret I have left its good people behind. Mindful of the warm and kindly welcome I have received from their hands, I cast in my lot elsewhere, trusting that prosperity may attend their labors, and blessings be heaped on a people so deserving.

As for O'Flin, my mind is otherwise engaged than with his childish prattle. I can no more bother with such petty annoyances, and should be again seek to display his conglomerative powers, I will do as the colored gentleman down south who, when kicked by a jackass, replied,—"Considering where it came from, he would pass it by in silence."

FLIN.

All Men
Young, old, or middle aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of vitality, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face and body, itching or peculiar sensation about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids, and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will-power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity unless cured. The spring of vitality having lost its tension every function wanes in consequence. Those who through abuse, committed in ignorance, may be permanently cured. Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the replies will be positive in its favor. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. One has been cured of indigestion or dyspepsia, another finds its indispensable for sick headache or biliousness, while others report remarkable cures of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, salt rheum, etc.

Hood's Pills are purely Vegetable.
The costliest mile of railroad is a mile measured on the steel portion of the Forth bridge. The length of this portion is a mile and twenty yards, and the cost of it was considerably over $10,000,000.

The most expensive railway system in the world is the "Inner Circle" line of London, which cost, including the purchase of land, from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 per mile. The last constructed mile, between the Mansion House and Aldgate, cost altogether, including "compensations," nearly $16,000,000.

Don't wait till spring is past before trying K. D. G. It cleanses and heals the stomach, invigorates and tones the system. No other tonic needed. Take it now.

Substantial Rewards for Those Whose Answers are Correct.

A man once entered a prison where was confined a condemned criminal. On making a request to be conducted into the presence of the doomed man, the visitor was informed that none but relatives were permitted to see the prisoner. The visitor said: "Brothers and sisters have I none, but this man's (the prisoner's) father is my father's son."
He was at once taken to the prisoner. Now, what relation was the prisoner to the visitor?

The Agriculturist Publishing Company will give $50 a year for life to the person sending the first correct answer; $500 to the second; $1,250 to 4th, $100 to 5th, $50, and over 10,000 other rewards, consisting of pianos, organs, ladies' and gents' gold and silver watches, silver services, diamond rings, etc.

To the person sending the last correct answer will be given a high-toned piano, to the next to the last a beautiful organ, and the next 5,000 will receive valuable prizes of silverware, etc.

RULES.—(1) All answers must be sent by mail, and bear postmark not later than Dec. 31, 1893. (2) There will be no charge whatever to enter this competition, but all who compete are expected to send one dollar for six months' subscription to either THE LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE or THE CANADIAN AGRICULTURIST—two of the choicest illustrated periodicals of the day. (3) All prize winners will be expected to assist us in extending our circulation. (4) The first correct answer received (sender's postmark taken in all cases as date of receipt, so as to give every one an equal chance, no matter where he or she may reside) will secure the first prize; the second, the next prize, and so on.

THE AGRICULTURIST is an old established concern, and possesses ample means to enable it to carry out all its promises. (Send for printed list of former prize winners.)

JUDGES.—The following well-known gentlemen have consented to act as judges, and will see that the prizes are fairly awarded: Commodore Calcutt (proprietor Calcutt's Line of Steamers), Peterborough, and Mr. W. Robertson, President, Times Printing Company, Peterborough. Register all money letters. Address, AGRICULTURIST PUB. CO., (LTD.), Peterborough, Canada.

Relieved to Guelph.
GUELPH, ONT., Nov. 6.—The despatch from Hilton, Man., last week, concerning James Brydon, formerly of this city, excited much interest here. Mr. Brydon has relatives here and left this city only last March for Manitoba, so that he is well known. It was also commonly known that Mr. Brydon suffered severely from kidney trouble and was much reduced by the disease. Of course all this is now changed. In a recent letter, Mr. Brydon says:—"I have been a great sufferer from kidney disease and pain in the back. Since I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills I am a new man, without pain or ache. I think these pills have done more for me than could be expected from any medicine. I tried them thoroughly. They cannot be too highly recommended."

Let Your Husband Smoke.
It does not pay to be over-particular about cigar ashes and pipes. It does not make any difference how much a man loves his wife, he loves his tobacco almost as well. He can worry along for a greater time without her than without the fragrant weed. Just let him enjoy the latter in his own way, and you will see more of him than you would otherwise. Now judgment of a cigar is not compatible with a constant effort to remember where the ash tray is, and he will take a delight in flickering off the ash on the floor with his little finger that is beyond the comprehension of the most enlightened feminine mind. He usually smokes in the same place, and the little pile of ashes can be easily located and removed every morning.—Donahoe's Magazine for November.

A Simple Cure for Bad Breath.
In our variable climate thousands suffer from Catarrh in a mild or more acute form. The offensive breath, belching, and nausea produced by this complaint are only a few of its evil results. Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, relieving all headache and nausea and making the breath sweet and pure. Price only 25 cents. Sold everywhere.
