THE REVIEW. The regular news express to the homes of all the people, and most direct line to the pocketbooks of buyers everywhere.

See that your Advertisement is ticketed via THE REVIEW. New Postal Rules.

A funny postmaster recently sent to the Post-office Department a new set of post-office rules. They were: A pair of onions will go for two cents. Ink bottles must be corked when sent by mail.

It is unsafe to mail apple or fruit trees with the fruit on them. Alligators over ten feet in length are not allowed to be transmitted by mail.

Persons are earnestly requested not to send postal cards with money orders inclosed, as large sums are lost in this way.

John Smith gets his mail from 674,279 post-offices; hence a letter directed to "John Smith, United States," will reach him.

Ducks cannot be sent through the mail when alive. The quacking would disturb the slumbers of the clerks on the postal cars.

It is earnestly requested that lovers writing to their girls will please confine their gushing rhapsodies to the inside of the envelope.

Nitro glycerine must be forwarded at the risk of the sender. If it should blow up in the postmaster's hand he cannot be held responsible.

When watches are sent through the mail if the sender will put a notice on the outside, the postmasters will wind and keep in running order.

When you send a money order in a letter always write full and explicit directions in the same letter, so that any person getting the letter can draw the money.

The placing of stamps upside down on letters is prohibited. Several postmasters have been seriously injured while trying to stand on their heads to cancel stamps placed in this manner.

Rural Etiquette. It was at a country Sunday-school picnic, where great quantities of the regulation eatables, chiefly apple pies, had been brought for the children to eat.

Presently Mary Jane was observed digging into an apple pie with a knife; whereupon her mother spoke up: Mary Jane Barks!

What, ma'ma? What are you a-doing? Eatin' pie, ma'am.

What be you a-eatin' it with? Knife! So you be! Now what have I told you about eatin' pie with your knife, Mary Jane? Take that pie in your hand and eat it as you ought to.—Texas Siftings.

Lighting Mender Silk-Gum Mending Tissue. Greatest and most useful labor-saving invention of the age. Warranted to give perfect satisfaction. Price 10 cents. Repairs any kind of clothing. The finest silk or satin, or the coarsest woollen goods, also parasols, umbrellas, fish netting, lace, veiling, gossamers, mackintosh, kid gloves or carriage curtains; the work being done quickly, neatly and permanently, without the use of needle or thread.

For fancy work, such as plaiting or hems or scarfs, or for joining ribbons, it is superior, quicker and less expensive than blind stitching.

Economy is wealth. How often a garment is thrown aside because of a slight rent, a moth eaten spot, or where the fabric is worn thin and frayed, being impossible to either darn or patch neatly with a needle; but with our TISSUE it can be speedily and perfectly repaired to look as good as new. There is no end to the uses to which our Tissue can be put.

Sent by mail to any address on receipt of 12 cents in stamps. AMERICAN RUBBER STORE, Sole Selling Agents, 65 Charlotte Street, St. John, N. B.

The Cost of an Ex-President's Manuscript. As an illustration of the money paid to writers as soon as they acquire a reputation the September Cosmopolitan contains less than eight thousand words, for which the sum of sixteen hundred and sixty-six dollars were paid.

Ex-President Harrison, Mark Twain and William Dean Howells are the three whose work commands such a price.

The September number has more than one hundred illustrations, giving the chief points of interest in the Columbian Exposition, and the Fair is treated by more than a dozen authors, including the famous English novelist, Walter Besant; the Midway Plaisance, by Julian Hawthorne; Electricity, by Mural Halstead; the Liberal Arts Building, by Keuz, the famous gem expert of Tiffany & Company; the Department of Mines, by the chief of that department, etcetera.

A feature of this number is a story by Mark Twain, entitled "Is He Living or Is He Dead?"

A drowning accident occurred by which six persons met a watery grave in Georgian bay Tuesday night. It appears that a skiff left here about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening for Nottawasaga river mouth with eight persons on board. They were Walter Morris, owner of the boat; his father, Alfred Woods, his wife and mother, Wm. Denby, sr., James Denby, son of the former, and Constable Burrell. A few hours after leaving here the boat was struck by a squall and overturned drowning all except Wm. Denby and the lad Burrell who managed to reach shore about five miles from here in an exhausted condition. Denby was badly bruised and cut. The bodies of Woods and Denby have been found on the beach but the others have not yet been recovered.

At Yawatka in Gunjo-Gum a side of a mountain fell away on August 22nd, crushing over 50 persons to death. At Nara the Totsu Gara burst its banks and caused the greatest flood since 1889. One hundred and fifty four persons were drowned in the Gifu Ken flood and nearly 30,000 persons are receiving relief. Advances from Saga state prefecture more fiercely than ever, the total number of cases being 5,388 and the number of deaths 477. At Wakayama dysentery also prevails, there having been 2,468 cases and 416 deaths.

An Attempt was made to assassinate Mr. Filtrault, editor of the Canada Review, in his office on Craig street, Montreal, on Saturday week. The Canada Review has been dealing with the Roman Catholic doctrine method, much to the displeasure of the clergy. Some time ago Archbishop Fabre placed the publication under the ban of the church. A suit for libel arising out of this action has been before the courts for some time. Mr. Filtrault has received numerous letters threatening death if he did not desist from his objectionable criticisms. He paid no attention and Saturday morning the first attempt to carry out the threat was made. Had the editor been sitting at his desk at the time the bullet would in all probability have killed him.

A terrible collision occurred about 10.30 Monday night at Manteno, Illinois. The St. Louis diamond special crashed into the rear-leaper of the Cincinnati limited on the Big Four. Seven persons were killed outright and about fifty injured and some fatally. The trains were crowded with World's Fair visitors from the south and southeast, and among the dead and injured are many of prominence. It is impossible at this hour to get the names of the killed or injured. Trainmen refuse to divulge the cause of the wreck, but it is reported that the first section neglected to have a flagman stationed at the proper distance, and as the trains were running close to each other, the engineer of the second section could not stop his train. The cries of the injured were terrible. Doctors were telegraphed for at Kanakake and arrived at the scene of the accident at 11.40 p. m. At this hour there are ten doctors on the ground. The injured and killed were brought to Manteno, the injured being well cared for.
