bumptious. But that is one of the faults of the day. It is absurd to blame a young man for being like other young men."
 "Not like Hartland."
 "Hartland! What has Hartland to do with it? Why should he and Gilbert be compared? Hartland tickles your fancy, so you must needs shape every one's coat to his pattern. Hartland is well enough; but I must say, Caroline, that if you want to make him repugnant to me, you cannot adopt a better course than by dinning his praises all day and every day into my ears, as you do,—and I suspect Rosamund feels the same."
 "It was now her turn for "Nonsense!" but the shot told. She wondered if it could be, could possibly be, the truth? She was as nearly being silenced as she had ever been in her life.
 "Hartland, as I say, is very well," proceeded Mr. Lisard, who had his own reasons for pursuing his advantage. "But he is not anything out of the way. He would have cut but a sorry figure by the side of the mill-stream to day, if the despised Gilbert had not been there."
 "It is a shame to say so. He would have done it if he could."
 "Ay, but could he? Not only swimming powers, but pluck, nerve, brains, all were needed, and all of those Gilbert had to give."
 "What could Hartland have done that he did not do?"
 "You miss the point. I am not blaming Hartland; but what, as you rightly ask, could he have done? Nothing—stood by, and seen a life lost! Caroline, you are wrong; I tell you you are wrong. You undervalue a man of sense and valour and unblemished reputation, because he—pshaw—upsets his wine-glass!"
 "It was not that—it was not that. You have no right to say it was that," protested she, almost in tears of indignation. "All along I have said the same about him—all along I have told Rosamund how I felt. I knew he would give me more trouble yet—I knew he would. Oh, why did he ever come to the place? Tiresome, odious man! And you, Theodore, to take his part! I could not, no, I could not have believed it. If, instead of standing up for this—this forward, impertinent, vulgar upstart, you would help me to be rid of him, and back me up in my endeavours to get him out of Rosamund's way, you would be doing your part, and not leaving to me all a parent's duty in the matter."
 "I am by no means disposed to leave to you all a parent's duty in the matter."
 "No! You will do your duty by her?"
 "Certainly."
 "You will take her away, since he cannot be got to budge. You will separate them at once—to-morrow?"
 "Ah! But who said that was my duty?"
 "It is surely your duty to save your child from an unequal marriage."
 "It depends upon what you mean by 'equal.'"
 "Is he a fit husband for your daughter, Theodore?"
 "I think he is, Caroline."

Worth Ten Dollars a Bottle.
 Any person who has used Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost ten dollars a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerviline is the best remedy in the world for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute; lame back at one application; headache in a few moments; and all pains just as rapidly. Why not try it to-day? Large bottles 25 cents, sold by all druggists and country dealers. Use Polson's nerve pain cure—Nerviline.

Will Wonders Never Cease?
 The Cosmopolitan Monthly Magazine of New York City has been considered for some time the brightest periodical in the list of great magazines, and it has always been in the first rank of illustrated publications. Its subscription price for one year is $3, and on this account the wonderful offer made by the publisher of Progress of St. John comes in the nature of a surprise. It is well known that Progress has built up a great circulation at a subscription price of $2 and now it proposes to still further increase its readers by offering the Cosmopolitan for one year for 50 cents additional. To explain further, any one not now a subscriber to Progress who sends $2.50 to the publisher of that bright weekly, will not only receive the Cosmopolitan Magazine for one year but Progress as well for the same time.

AN UNUSUAL DEARTH RARE—At this season of the year there are always many deaths, particularly among children, from Summer Complaint, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, etc., but this season the cases seem to be unusually frequent and fatal, and everyone ought to know that a sure and speedy cure can easily be obtained by taking a teaspoonful of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER in sweetened water (hot water is the best), every half hour until relieved. This remedy has never been known to fail. Full directions are with each bottle. It is kept by every respectable druggist. New big bottle 50 cents; 25c. per bottle.

For stomach ailments from improper eating or drinking take Johnson's Anodyne Linctus.

An Arkansas Miracle.
A REMARKABLE STORY OF INTEREST TO EVERY WOMAN.
A Young Woman Who Was Literally Fading Away—Physicians Pronounced Her Case Hopeless—How She Was Saved.

From the Arkansas Democrat.
 The story of renewed health told in the following article has been carefully investigated by the Democrat, and is of the deepest interest to all parents. The condition of Miss Clements is that of thousands of girls in our land, whose health and vitality is slowly but surely being sapped away. Pale, listless and sallow girls meet us on every side, and unless the same prompt measures are taken as in the case of Miss Clements, a premature grave is the inevitable result. Lulu Clements, the nineteen year old daughter of Mrs. Cora V. Clements, was attacked with a mysterious, wasting disease over a year ago, and despite the strenuous efforts of the local physicians she continued to grow worse. Her blood had turned to water, she suffered intense agony, and was almost ready to give up life when relief came. Her story is best told as related by her mother to a Democrat reporter:—
 "In the fall of 1892 my daughter began to show signs that some disease was wrecking her system. Despite the constant attention of local physicians she grew worse. Her complexion was pale, and she became almost as white as marble. She complained of heart palpitation. Her feet and hands were cold, and she was almost driven into hysterics by racking headaches and backaches and shortness of breath and other distressing symptoms. All these conditions betoken anæmia, or in other words watery and impoverished condition of the blood, which could not perform the functions of nature. She had no appetite; for many days she did not eat enough for a child to subsist on.
 "Her condition grew from bad to worse, and becoming alarmed, I sent her to prominent physicians in Virginia, Tennessee, and Little Rock. All efforts of this nature to regain her health proved fruitless. Patent medicines of many kinds were tried and given thorough tests, but without any apparent effect towards improving the patient.
 "Myself and daughter had almost given up in despair, having almost concluded that a restoration of her health was an impossibility. In the Arkansas Democrat I espied an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which claimed that they would give ready relief to persons suffering from a disease the symptoms of which were the same as in the case of my daughter. I purchased some of the pills, and commenced giving my daughter three pills a day. Before the first box had been taken an improvement was noticed. Color in her face was noticeable, and her appetite returned. The terrible headaches and backaches ceased, and she could breathe more freely. When the fourth box had been taken she was entirely well, and since then has enjoyed excellent health. She is now robust and full of life, making our family happy once more. Quite a contrast to the situation, six months ago, when everybody thought she would die.
 "I think 'Pink Pills' the best medicine in the world for the blood, and have recommended them to several citizens of this place, who have been restored to health by its use. Mrs. Henry Brown was in a very bad condition. She tried the Pink Pills, when she improved rapidly and is now a very healthy woman."
 The discoverer of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People certainly deserves the highest tribute that pen can frame. His medicine has done more to alleviate the suffering of humanity than any other medicine known to science, and his name should be handed down to future generations as the greatest savior of the present age.
 Druggists say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have an enormous sale, and from all quarters come glowing reports of results following their use. In very many cases the good work has been accomplished after eminent physicians had failed, and pronounced the patient beyond the hope of human aid. An analysis shows that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuritis, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.
 Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form) by the dozen or hundred, and the public are cautioned against cheap imitations sold in this shape at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address.
