ST. LOUIS BAZAAR.—The bazaar and entertainment which took place at St. Louis Convent on Saturday evening last, to raise funds for the purchase of a piano for the school, was very successful, although the attendance was not large. The commodious hall was tastefully decorated, and the different tables were loaded with useful and fancy articles, many of which gave evidence of great skill on the part of the Sisters by whom, or under whose supervision we understand, many of the beautiful things offered for sale by the fair attendants were made. At intervals during the evening the St. Louis brass band, under bandmaster John Baptiste Vautour's skilful leadership, discoursed sweet music. The different tables on which fancy goods, etc., were exposed for sale in a tempting manner were presided over by Misses Mary Mazerolle, Alice Vautour, Mary E. Richard, and Maraluse Robichaud. The refreshment tables were in charge of Misses Osilie Richard and Apoline Vautour. After the refreshment tables had been removed the following programme was carried out:—Address of Welcome, by Miss McLaughlin; chorus, The Snuff Box, by the junior pupils; chorus, Distant chimneys, by the pupils; solos were rendered by Misses N. Babino, M. A. Guimond and Miss E. Richard; comic dialogue, The Rat in a Basket, by Misses M. A. Guimond and Mary Allaire; piano solo, by Miss Olloqui; dialogue between two dwarfs, Tristram and Joyval, by Misses E. Robichaud and C. Richard; solos by Misses E. Maillet and E. Richard. An address of thanks was delivered by Miss M. Maillet, the entertainment concluding with a grand choir bon soir. A cornet solo by Mr. J. B. Vautour, with piano accompaniment by Prof. Johnson, was also rendered during the evening in good style. The usual number of fascinating young ladies pressing the sale of lottery tickets, etc., were present. The sum of $124.00 was realized exclusive of the lotteries which will not be closed till the end of the year.

We protest, on behalf of the majority, against the claim of the quorapped around the corner. The hog is not the majority, nor is the majority a hog. The reasoning people of Northumberland know that the county has been getting its full share, for years past, of all appropriations for public works of a local character, and will be well satisfied if the county gets as much on an average in the future.—World.

A local jockey sold a horse to another man and took a note back secured by a bill of sale. The second jockey traded him and took another bill of sale and note.
