—BY—
THE USE OF Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For fully two years, I suffered from rheumatism, and was frequently in such a condition that I could hardly walk. I spent some time in Hot Springs, Ark., and the treatment helped me for the time being; but soon the complaint returned and I was as badly afflicted as ever. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I resolved to try it, and, after using six bottles, I was completely cured."—P. H. FORD, Quachita City, La.

The Montreal Witness.

One of the sights of Montreal is a visit to the 'Witness' office, which, for internal elegance, convenience and completeness of equipment has few rivals anywhere. One's attention is arrested on the sidewalk by seeing through a window a Chinaman patiently turning a crank with the air of one who has a contract for a century of faithful labor, and means to fulfil it. The chinaman is made of wood and for steady, patient, endless toil commend us to a wooden Chinaman. Making bold to go in we find ourselves in an enviable public office with tiled floor, hot-house flowers and what not. Then we were piloted up a spiral stair, through the great editorial room, to the battery of linotypes which are the marvel of the nineteenth century as Gutenberg's movable types were of the awakening life of the fifteenth. The great Hoe press of the 'Witness' which prints almost any number of pages, from two to thirty-two, is the very most complete machine anywhere. Close beside it you are shown on enquiry a patch on the floor which marks the spot where exploded the famous bomb some months ago, which the 'Witness' doubtless owed to its active and effective war against gamblers and bunco steers, a class which by exposure and clever caricature it has managed to drive from the city, or at least to deprive of the open tolerance and public freedom which they before enjoyed at the hands of sympathetic officials. The stand for law and order taken by the 'Witness' lately resulted in an investigation of the police and detective system of Montreal, which has revealed the need of some revolutionary change. The paper is devoted to temperance and all good things. It claims to be independent in politics and has certainly opposed with equal vigor the Conservative government at Ottawa and the Liberal Mercier government at Quebec. It is at all events a clean family paper, very carefully edited and one of the prettiest in get up and typography that comes to our office.

A STEP FROM INSANITY.

Nervous System Completely Broken Down.

No Sleep! No Appetite!

REDUCED TO A SKELETON.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND SAVES THE LIFE OF A POSTMASTER.

Postmaster P. J. Kilbride, of Inverness, P. E. I., owes his life and present good health to the life-giving powers of Paine's Celery Compound. Some months ago disease had so preyed upon Mr. Kilbride's body that insanity was feared. His nervous system was shattered and broken, he was a stranger to sleep and rest, and his appetite was lost. Suffering had reduced him to a skeleton, and those around him, knowing that medical skill had failed, were expecting him to die. Friends, who had used Paine's Celery Compound, urged Mr. Kilbride to give it a trial. The suggestion was happy one for the afflicted man. The wonderful medicine soon proved able to cope with the disease. Five bottles of Paine's Celery Compound raised Mr. Kilbride to such a condition of health that enabled him to say, "I feel myself a new man." We give Mr. Kilbride's letter in full, it graphically sets forth his struggles with, and his triumph over disease and death:—"I now write you about Paine's Celery Compound, having just finished the fifth bottle. It is impossible for me to say sufficient, or find words strong enough to praise Paine's Celery Compound as I ought. To-day I feel myself a new man. Six months ago I was on the brink of insanity, my nervous system was completely broken down; I could not sleep more than one or two hours at night, and often did not sleep for four nights in succession. Oh! I never can describe the agony I suffered. I was almost reduced to a skeleton; I could only work an hour, when I was so fatigued I would be obliged to lie down and rest before I could resume work. "The use of your Compound has given me rest and sweet sleep, and I can now work all day. To tell the honest, candid truth I have not felt so well for fourteen years. When I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound my weight was 144 lbs; now I weigh 168 lbs. I am gaining in flesh every day; friends are all surprised at my wonderful cure and changed appearance. Oh! if I had only known of this life-saving remedy years ago I would have escaped many days and nights of terrible pain and agony. Thank God the terrible times have passed, I hope never to return. How I wish I could reach the ear of every man in Canada—those who are suffering as I once suffered—how I would plead with them—yes, on my knees I would ask them to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair trial and I feel confident they would bless me afterwards for my recommendation. "Young men, take my truthful and candid advice; if you are suffering from a broken down nervous system, use Paine's Celery Compound; it will thoroughly restore you physically and otherwise. "I am now in perfect health through no other agency than Paine's Celery Compound. You may use these statements as you choose."

Cocagne.
DEC. 10.—Mr. Charles Seely, one of our oldest and most respectable residents is seriously ill. He has since been removed to the residence of Mr. John Ward of Buctouche, where he will be under the care of his daughter, Mrs. Ward.

Last Saturday morning Mr. Hugh Dysart's barn, situated on the Long farm which he purchased a few years ago, was burned to the ground. The building, which contained a horse rake, besides a large amount of straw, was a mass of flames when first seen. In the light snow which had fallen the previous night, a man's footsteps were easily tracked to and from the barn by a round about way to about a mile from the building where he was captured. He proved to be Philip LeBlanc, a young man of Isaac Settlement, Kent Co., who at first positively denied any connection with the affair, but later admitted doing the deed accidentally while lighting his pipe. Mr. Dysart will not prosecute.

Hon. Geo. M. Theal, a prominent member of the Civil Service of South Africa, was recently here, renewing his boyhood friendships. Mr. Theal is a son of the late Dr. W. T. Theal of Parrsboro, N. S., who practised his profession here for a number of years, and while a boy attended school here, which was then in charge of Mr. (now Rev.) Albert C. Weeks. He was also present at the time when Charles and Ovid Long were drowned while shooting ducks in the fall of 1854, and would have gone out with them had they not substituted A. K. Dysart in his stead, who was the only one to escape death. Mr. Theal had many interesting reminiscences of his travels and adventures in South Africa.

Mr. A. J. Dysart, William Hanrahan, and H. J. McGrath went to Buctouche Saturday.

Miss Marie E. Bourque spent Sunday with her parents in Buctouche.

Miss Lizzie E. Bourque and Fannie Girouard came down to see their friends Sunday. Miss Bourque leaves in a few days for New Bedford, U. S. A.

Last night the engine house caught fire from the stove in the building. A. McKee, the cleaner, had just built a large fire in the stove to keep everything warm and then went over to the Bay View for his supper. Not fifteen minutes later the wood surrounding the stove was on fire, it caught on the floor under the stove. No material damage was done.

GENERAL NEWS.

A young widow named Josephine Begin shot and killed J. Herbert, Wednesday evening at his butcher shop in Sherbrooke, Que. The murderess entered the place and wanted to know if Herbert would marry her or not. On receiving a negative answer she produced a revolver and fired two shots both of which took effect.

Baldness is often preceded or accompanied by grayness of the hair. To prevent both baldness and grayness, use Hall's Hair Renewer, an honest remedy.

Major Hambrough, father of Lieutenant Hambrough, for whose murder Alfred John Munson was tried in Edinburgh last year, the trial resulting in the discharge of the prisoner on a verdict of "not proven," some time since instituted a suit against the Mutual Life Insurance Company to recover £20,000 insurance on his son's life. The jury in the case on Wednesday returned a verdict for the defendant.

Nature dreads death, yet man by his disregard of the laws of health, courts its coming. A course of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic will speedily overcome the evil effects arising from an abuse of nature's laws.

A French scientist figures that the number of women in the world is nearly equal to that of men. In France the numbers approach more nearly to equality than in any other country, there being 1,007 women for 1,000 men. For the same number of men in Sweden there are 1,064 women, and in Greece only 933 women. In the French colony at Reunion there are 457 creole women for 1,000 provincial Frenchmen, colored men included. In Hong Kong there are 1,000 men for 336 women.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the system is depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to diseases. When the appetite or the strength fail, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

The sulphur match, while one of the greatest blessings of civilization, is a constant and generally unsuspected cause of mischief and injury. A fatal case of lockjaw, caused by the brimstone of a burning match touching a woman's foot, ought to serve as a warning to careless people who habitually throw away burning matches without regard to consequences. It is well known that many forest fires have been caused by sportsmen throwing away still burning matches. Ingenuity has not exhausted itself yet in devising a true safety match.

Ayer's Pills, being composed of the essential virtues of the best vegetable aperients, without any of the woody or fibrous material whatever, is the reason why they are so much more effective and valuable than any other cathartics. The best family physic.

The Russian crown and other state jewels are valued at the enormous sum of $11,000,000, taking United States money of a basis of calculation: the crown itself is reckoned as being worth at least $6,000,000. It is adorned with hundreds of diamonds, individual specimens of which are valued at all the way from a few dollars up to enormous sparklers worth thousands upon thousands of dollars. Besides these diamonds, which make this costly headdress look as if it had been buried in a shower of falling stars, there are fifty-four pearls, each without a flaw.

Japan possesses what is undoubtedly the oldest wooden structure in the world. It contains the art treasures of the mikado, and is situated at Nara, which for some years was the imperial residence. The building is oblong in shape and is built of triangular logs of wood. It rests on piles. The wood is of native growth and shows extraordinary lasting power, considering the trying climate which it has had to endure for over 1,200 years. The treasures which the storehouse contains are of great antiquity and have only been seen by Europeans during the last three years.

OTTAWA, December 9.—Solicitor General Burran expresses the opinion that the rumor that Sir John Thompson is about to retire to the Judicial committee of the Privy council is most improbable. He quotes the act 34, William fourth, chapter forty-one, constituting a Judicial committee to show that a stipend of only £400 per annum each was provided for two members. In 1876 the act was amended so that the whole stipend of £800 could be paid to one person. The solicitor General is of opinion that if there was a vacancy, before any colonial gentleman could be appointed a stipend sufficient to reimburse him in any degree for his services, there would have to be new legislation in the British parliament, and this of itself precludes the possibility of any appointment such as is suggested for a long time to come. A cablegram has been received by acting Premier Bowel, stating that Sir John Thompson will be sworn in a member of the Privy council on the 13th instant, and will sail for Canada on the 19th.
