An Hotel Man's Story.

THE PROPRIETOR OF THE GRAND UNION, TORONTO, RELATES AN INTERESTING EXPERIENCE.

Suffered Intensely From Rheumatism—Six Doctors and Mineral Springs Failed to Help Him—How He Found a Cure—His Wife Also Restored to Health—Advice to Others.
 From the Toronto World.

One of the most popular officers at the recent meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada was Rev. L. A. Betts, of Brockville, Grand Chaplain for 1893-94. While on his way to grand lodge Rev. Mr. Betts spent some time in Toronto, and among other points of interest visited the World office. It seems natural to talk Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any one hailing from the home of that world-famous medicine, and incidentally the conversation with Mr. Betts turned in that direction, when he told the World that he had that day met an old friend whose experience was a most remarkable one. The friend alluded to is Mr. John Soby, for many years proprietor of one of the leading hotels of Napanee, but now a resident of Toronto, and proprietor of one of the Queen City's newest and finest hostleries, the Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Union depot. The World was impressed with the story Mr. Betts told, and determined to interview Mr. Soby and secure the particulars of his case for publication. Mr. Soby freely gives his testimony to the good done him by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few years ago rheumatism with its attendant legion of aches and pains fastened upon him, and he was forced to retire from business. "For months," said Mr. Soby, "I suffered and could find no relief from doctors or medicines. The disease was always worse in the spring and fall, and last year I was almost crippled with pain. From my knee to my shoulder shot pains which felt like red hot needles. Then all my limbs would be affected at once. Half-a-dozen doctors, one after the other, tried to cure me, but did no good. The rheumatism seemed to be getting worse. As I tried almost everything the doctors could suggest, I thought I would try a little prescribing of my own account and purchased a supply of Pink Pills. The good effects were soon perceptible, and I procured a second supply, and before these were gone I was cured of a malady six doctors could not put an end to. I have recovered my appetite, never felt better in my life, and I give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills credit for this transformation. My wife, too, is just as warm an advocate as I am. A sufferer for years she has experienced to the full the good of Dr. Williams' invaluable remedy, and recommends it to all women."

"From what trouble was your wife suffering?" asked the reporter. "Well, I can't just tell you that," said Mr. Soby. "I do not know, and I don't think she did. It's just the same with half the women. They are sick, weak and dispirited, have no appetite and seem to be fading away. There is no active disease at work, but something is wrong. That was just the way with my wife. She was a martyr to dyspepsia, never in perfect health, and when she saw the change the Pink Pills made in me she tried them. The marvelous improvement was just as marked in her case as in my own, and she says that her whole system is built up, and that the dyspepsia and sick headaches have vanished. She, as well as myself, seems to have regained youth, and I have not the slightest hesitation in pronouncing the remedy one of the most valuable discoveries of the century. Let the doubters call and see me and they will be convinced."

These pills are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered nervous system. Sold by all dealers or by mail, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. There are numerous imitations and substitutions against which the public is cautioned.

Peculiar to itself.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself in a strictly medicinal sense, in three important particulars, viz: first, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are mixed; third, in the process by which the active curative properties of the preparation are secured. These three important points make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar in its medicinal merit, as it accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

But it is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. What Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others is reason for confidence that it is the medicine for you.

THE COLORED PROBLEM.

Bishop Turner Prophecies the Return of the Race to Africa.
 (Toronto Empire.)

Bishop Turner, of Atlanta, Ga., the pioneer African bishop, delivered a lecture in the New African Methodist Episcopal church last night on "The Race Problem" declaring that Africa was the largest and by far the richest continent in the world, and inhabited by a magnificent race of people. "We are not true specimens of the race," he said. "We are specimens of the lowest class of Africans. Our ancestors were the slaves of Africa. But God used the weak to conquer the strong.

He took the inferior Africans and put them in contact with the civilization with the giant white race, and then sends them back to Africa to spread the gospel." As to the present status of negroes in the United States, he said: "We are free, and that's all. We have no civil rights. I have before me a decision of the supreme court of the United States robbing the black man of all his civil rights except just what each state chooses to give him. The consequence is that we have as many civil codes as there are states. It is not so with white men whose civil rights are the same from one ocean to the other. In some states they have special cars for negroes, and no matter whether they hold first class tickets they drive us out of cars like dogs. This is done under authority of the decision I have referred to, and a more abominable decision was never issued. Just as we passed through the transition of slavery, so we are now passing through another transition until we band ourselves together, concentrate our efforts and— (Great applause) Wait a minute my friends, until you hear what I propose, and perhaps you will not clap so much. Until we band ourselves together and return to Africa to the greatest continent on the globe, and build up an negro nation. I don't hear you clapping now. Until we do this until we hoist our flag to the winds of heaven and present a united front to the world—till then we will not be respected. Mexico has offered ten million acres to black men, and has within the past two years passed a law making the black man a citizen as soon as he has taken the oath of allegiance. Some of the South American States also want us. But I do not think our destiny lies there. As for Mexico, the United States has annexed the best half, and is going to annex the rest. Uncle Sam wants more room, but he is afraid to crawl over into Canada. He wants Canada, but there is a lion over there that he is afraid of—the British lion. (Cheers.) Our destiny is to build up a country where the very soil respects our color."

A Grand Feature.

Os Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

GENERAL NEWS.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 5.—Crops in Manitoba are beginning to move; prices vary from 42c to 46c per bushel. This is equal to 56c at Fort William or a shade higher than Duluth wheat. The general feeling of the farmers is to thresh and sell at once, and deliveries will be quite large during the next ten days and will keep on increasing to November 1st. The conditions of the crop could not be better. In quality it is equal to, if not better, than last year, and the yield is considered by conservative dealers to be about 2,000,000 more than the crop of 1893. The oat crop is also a very large one, larger than in previous years.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 5.—A despatch from Battleford, Northwest Territory to the Globe says: "We are threatened with an Indian uprising. On Saturday a settler named Day brought word that the Indians around Jackfish Lake were threatening, and had seized all the guns, ammunition and horses belonging to the settlers in that neighborhood. It is said that Gabriel Dumont is there inciting the Indians to make trouble. That story is not sustained by evidence, however. Thirty mounted police went there late on Saturday but nothing has been heard of their movements since. The Indians are non-treaty Indians and belong to the Sotos. All white women have been removed to one large house, which is a sign of danger. Six young Indians in the Industrial School ran away two days ago and joined their brethren who are threatening trouble."

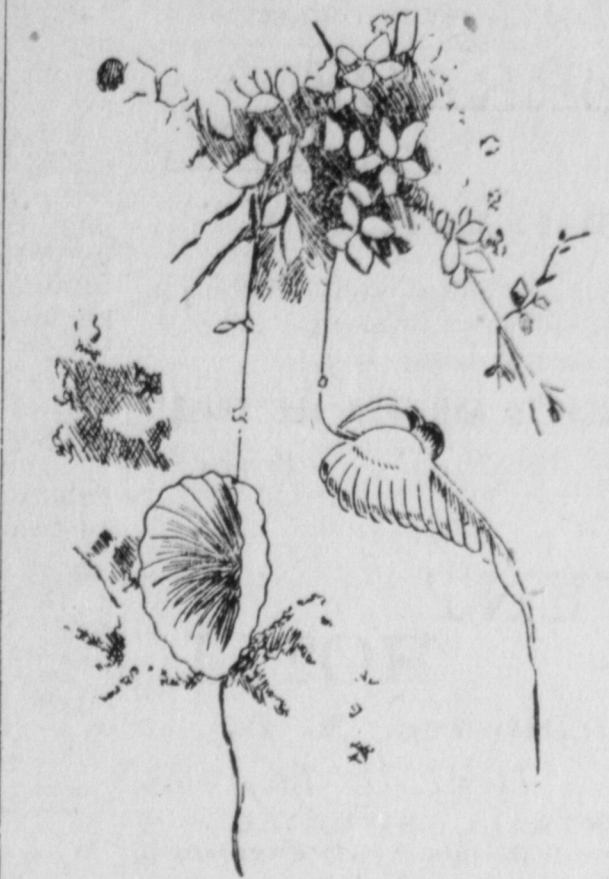

MUSQUASH, N. B., Sept. 7.—This village has been enveloped in smoke since yesterday from surrounding forest fires which are raging at different places within four or five miles of here. The wind has almost died out and the fires are not burning so fiercely to-night. There are forest fires at Prince of Wales but as yet no houses have been destroyed. At Cranberry Head they were not so fortunate. A house and barn owned by A. G. Murray, and barn owned by Mr. Kaue and barn owned by Mr. Italy were burned to the ground. The two former were unable to save any of their household effects. The barns were well filled with the summer's crop and the loss will be severely felt. At Chance Harbor several families are packed up while others have moved their household effects to a place of safety. A large crowd are watching and fighting the flames along the shore and if the wind remains as at present it will not be long before the fires are extinguished.

CHICAGO'S GOOSE PLANT.

Just Missed Blooming in Time for the Goosey Dabs Strike.

This is from The Chicago Inter-Ocean: "The 'goose' plant in Washington Park Conservatory is now at its best. One of the biggest 'geese' is over a yard long, and broad in proportion. The plant is one of the most unique, rare and valuable known to scientists. The correct name is aristolochia zigzag Struettantii, and it was at the World's Fair. When there it bore only one or two flowers, owing to its being too young to bear more. It is a native of South America, and even there is considered a marvelous production."

THE GOOSE PLANT.

In one of the greenhouses next to the "goose" house at Washington Park is a collection of caladiums of the most varied shapes and colors. Mr. Kaust, the head gardener, says the collection has no duplicate. Many of the plants have leaves as delicately traced as the finest valenciennes laces. A newspaper may be read if covered with one of these transparent leaves. The colors are all shades of red, pink, maroon, crimson and yellow.

THE GRAND PRE OF TO-DAY.

The Present Villagers Deny the Truth of Longfellow's Legend.

Down by the little station where we had landed stretched a line of willows, with heads grown hoary with pollarding, and with trunks gnarled and knotted with age. These are doubtless the remnants of those planted by the Acadians, for they mark a decided street line, and near by them is the well called Evangeline's, now desecrated by an upright wooden pump. There have also been found here traces of graves, thus locating also the position of the village church, and in a field near by are still to be dug up bits of iron and cinders which are said to mark the situation of the forge of "Basil the blacksmith." This is a more probable hypothesis than that of Evangeline's well.

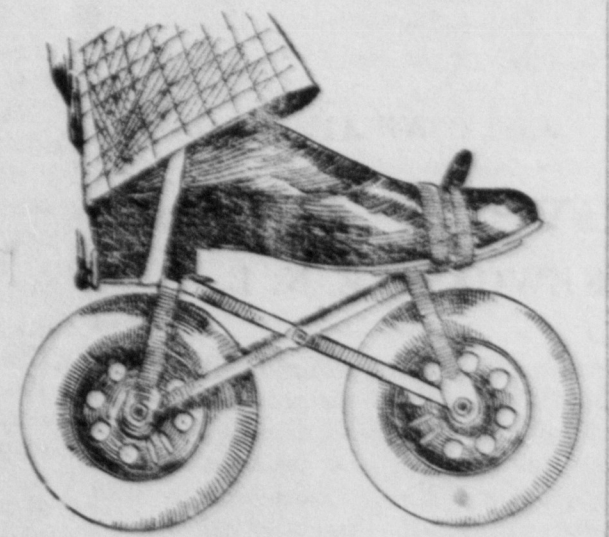

But that this was one of the old French wells there is no doubt, for from it have been taken all sorts of antiquated table forks, knives and spoons, and some heavy forged articles.

There are many ruins of the old French cellars to be found, and willows with immense trunks, and "o. chards and cornfields spreading afar," but no Acadians are here, although they have returned to other sections of the country. The villagers of to-day are willing to profit by the interest attached to the place through Evangeline's story, but they deny the truth of it. Old records are still in existence bearing the names of the exiles, but Evangeline's name is not there, although that of Lajeunesse is; but what matters it? Would not Grand Pre, like its former inhabitants, have died long since if it had not been for the inspiration of an American poet? No houses whatever are found on the plains to-day, but the fields are as fertile as ever, and on the 3,000 acres of dyke land immense crops are raised.—N. Y. Post.

CYCLING NOVELTY

Device for Attaching Pneumatic Tires to Skates.

Various are the uses to which pneumatic tires are put. The most recent of them is discoverable in a bicycle skate. It is quite likely that within a year or so this form of locomotion will be widely put in use. A company owning the patents on the inventions is negotiating with capitalists in America for the speedy manufacture of the skate. It is stated by those who have experimented with it that it affords an ease of locomotion far superior to that obtainable from the roller skate, which was so fashionable some years ago. It is also claimed that there is less vibration. The wheels run upon ball bearings and are securely fastened to a cross frame, which in its turn is fastened to a skeleton metal plate which firmly grips the heel, and like the ordinary ice skate is bound over the fore portion of the foot by straps. The heel is kept firmly in place by a strap across the instep.

Impeded His Utterance.

Eastern Visitor—Why did not the mayor read the Riot Act during the last disturbance here? It always has a wonderful effect upon a raging mob.
 Quick Drop Dan—Wal, he did. But it didn't have much effect on the boys. He didn't read plain.
