JUDGE LANDRY AND THE GRAND JURY.

While we are in hearty sympathy with the movement of the Acadians of Kent County to present Judge Landry with a supper and address on the evening of November 1st, but we regret that some of those who appear to be engineering the affair have made it an excuse to endeavor to arouse a feeling among their compatriots against certain gentlemen who have in the past been among Judge Landry's warmest supporters and whose support in a great measure contributed to his elevation to the Supreme Court bench. It is asserted that the object of the address is to make amends for the neglect of the grand jury in failing to present Judge Landry with an address at the last September Circuit, the occasion of his first appearance in Kent County since his promotion to his present position. It is openly charged that the omission of the grand jury to present the customary address on such occasions, arose from the fact that Judge Landry is an Acadian, and that so strong was the prejudice of the jurors against him on account of his nationality that the address was withheld. It is further asserted that the matter was discussed in the jury room, that the opinion was freely expressed that Judge Landry had received more than he deserved and that the omission to present the address was a premeditated insult. Those who attended the Circuit Court here last month are in a position to know how little truth there is in these statements. As a fact the question of presenting an address was brought up by the grand jury, and the jurors after discussing the matter arrived at the conclusion that it was not Judge Landry's first appearance in the County since his promotion. Their mistake can be easily understood when it is remembered that as County Court Judge he visited Kent County only two months before his appointment to the Supreme bench. Several of the jurors were Acadians and it certainly cannot be supposed that they would be party to any act of disrespect to their distinguished compatriot. The foreman of the jury when apprised of the mistake immediately went to Judge Landry, explained to him how the error occurred, and no doubt satisfied him that the omission was altogether unintentional. These are the facts concerning the affair, and it is to be regretted that a back number politician who only keeps himself before the public by small practices of this kind, has sought to make it appear that a slight to Judge Landry was intended.

MR. BLAIR AND THE "GLENER" LIBEL SUIT.

The prosecution instituted by Mr. Leighton, Registrar of Deeds, for Carleton County, against Mr. Crockett, editor of the "Gleaner," for criminal libel, was tried last week at Woodstock, (Mr. Leighton's own home) and resulted in a disagreement of the jury after a long and sharply contested trial, which it is alleged was pressed by Attorney General Blair with considerable of that personal bitterness and acrimony he is known to entertain against Mr. Crockett. The jury, it is said, stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction. The result under the circumstances cannot but prove exceedingly disappointing both to Mr. Leighton and Mr. Blair. We observe that a St. John paper, which appears to be now the only local government champion amongst the press of that city, intimates that the disagreement of the jury is due to the fact that they were influenced in their judgment by political feeling. This no doubt is an indication of the opinion entertained by Mr. Blair, and he must now feel doubly mortified at the failure of his attempt to make the trial a political one. Under any circumstances the prosecution of a newspaper for charges of malfeasance in office made against a public officer in the clear and positive way in which the "Gleaner's" charges against Mr. Leighton were made, would necessarily be invested with considerable public interest; but when, in addition to the ordinary features of the case, the first law-officer of the Crown undertook the prosecution, and stated that he and his colleagues in the Government had read the libelous article and decided that the Crown should proceed, a special importance is given to the case. Mr. Blair's statement was of course intended as an intimation of the decision of the Government to ascertain the truth or falsity of the charges made against Mr. Leighton. His conduct of the case, however, shows that his special desire was not to expose any wrong-doing on the part of a public official, but to convict Mr. Crockett at all hazards. The trial, however, has proved a veritable boomerang. No.

one reading the evidence as published, can resist the conclusion that the business in the office of the Carleton County Registrar has not been conducted in such a way as to inspire public confidence. Mr. Leighton's "usefulness" is gone, and Mr. Blair will probably find it necessary to ask for his resignation. If he does not, then the inference must be drawn that the Attorney General's only object in the trial was to secure a conviction against Mr. Crockett and thus gratify his personal feelings against that gentleman. The sworn testimony cannot however now be disregarded. The public will await further developments, with considerable interest.

AN IMPORTANT INCIDENT AT A COUNTY AUCTION SALE.

Quite recently a country store stock was sold off by auction, in lots to suit purchasers. The sale, which had been well advertised by circulars distributed throughout the country, drew a large crowd of sturdy farmers and their good wives; the bidding was fast and spirited, and good prices were realized for all useful and staple goods. Amongst the vast variety of articles put up for sale were two lots of package dyes for household dyeing. The auctioneer announced that he would first dispose of the "Diamond Dyes," goods that every farmer and farmer's wife knew well and favored. The women, being most interested in these goods, did the bidding, and in ten minutes time, some six gross of the "Diamond Dyes" were sold to anxious buyers. The other dyes were then brought forward, and introduced by some oriental name. Said the auctioneer: "I give you the name of these dyes, but I know little about their manufacture or qualities; come, give me a bid, any price." There was no response—not a bid to encourage the auctioneer's heart. Seeing that time was being lost, and anxious to get rid of those dyes at any price, the auctioneer, in a joking way, said: "You surely want your garden fences and barns painted; if these dyes are not good enough to color your dresses, shawls, jacket, coats, silks and ribbons, they will surely do for common wood painting." The idea was a novel one—it was a revelation—and seem to meet with the favor of a few, and for a small price, the entire stock of worthless dyes designated by a high sounding name, was sold to one farmer, who was heartily laughed at. There is a most important moral to be deduced from the results of the auction sale just referred to. The moral taught is, that poor and worthless dyes, wherever sold, are dear at any price—even when used for common fence painting. The "Diamond Dyes" are well known, popular and always reliable; they sell everywhere and under all circumstances and give wonderful results in restoring to beauty and usefulness old faded articles of wearing apparel. "Diamond Dyes" save many dollars each year in every farmer's home.

Buctouche Notes.

Oct. 29.—On Thursday the Presbyterians of Buctouche and Mill Creek gave a harvest supper in Barnes' Hall. The proceeds, amounting to $60 are for a manse to be built here next summer.
 On Friday, H. A. Ryan, lately conductor of the Central at Norton, took charge of the station at this place. R. S. Chestnut has been ordered to St. Anthony to take the place of Mr. Langis, dismissed, no reason assigned. Mr. Langis keeps a general store and buys wood and general farm produce, and is probably the heaviest shipper over the B. & M. railway.
 On Saturday evening another of the small social dances was enjoyed at the Victoria Hotel. The happy party dispersed before midnight.
 Last week a new society was instituted. The Order of the M. of R. has the following officers for the ensuing term:—Honorary President, J. Grattan; Pres., C. White; vice-Pres., W. Johnson; Sec'y., Treas., R. Chestnut; Chap., J. Hannagan; Marshal, N. Ross; Guard, J. W. Hannagan; Past Pres., W. Mooney; P. Wry, Organist. The society is a benevolent order and no doubt has before it a prosperous future in Buctouche.
 Jas. T. Hannagan received a despatch calling him to Madison, Maine, at once, as the mills open this week in which he is machinist.
 Rev. J. D. Murray of Redbank, occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church, yesterday.
 R. A. Irving spent Sunday at home.
 Geo. E. Irving and Thos. Fitzgerald left this morning to take charge of a lumber camp on the Miramichi for Mr. Sinclair.
 The train commenced coming over Buctouche over the bridge last week. It is much more convenient.
 Several marriages took place this morning. Miss Marie Blanche Jollette of Black River, was married to Sifroy Jollette, and the daughter of Councillor G. S. Richard was married to Fishery Warden Oliver J. LeBlanc.
 Considerable preparations are being made for the presentation of an address to Judge Landry at St. Jean Baptiste Church, after mass on All Saint's Day.
 Rheumatism can be Cured.
 Hagyard's Yellow Oil has cured Chronic Rheumatism, Stiff Joints and Swellings of years' duration after all other means had failed. In all forms of inflammatory and muscular pain it is a specific cure.
 K. D. C. will give strength to the weak.

Coal Branch Items.

Oct. 22.—As "Pomp" did not write any notes from this place last week, we have decided to send a few.
 The annual school meeting of this place was very slimly attended. Mr. Andrew Hudson was re-elected trustee.
 Mrs. John Woods accompanied by her son Johnnie, returned from Lynn, Mass., last week, and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Spencer.
 Mrs. Thomas Calder, of Moncton, who was visiting relatives of this town, was called home last Friday, on account of illness in the family.
 Mrs. John T. Swift paid a flying visit to Moncton, last week.
 On Thursday evening last, a number of our young folks assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Swift, where a most enjoyable time was spent. Refreshments were served during the evening and dancing and other amusements indulged in.
 Mrs. F. Cormier, of Moncton, has returned home.
 Mr. C. J. Sayre, of Richibucto, spent a day in town last week, the guest of Mr. John Swift.
 A very serious case of diphtheria was reported on "Railway Avenue," a few days ago, but we are pleased to state it was a false report.
 Miss Sadie Masterton attended the Teachers' Institute at Kingston, last week.
 "Bill" has finished digging "the widow's" potatoes.
 Mr. Wm. Gotro and Fred Sherward, of Canaan, spent a few hours in town, last week.
 Why is it that "Our friend Thomas," does not attend Lodge? Perhaps he's afraid of soiling his shoes.
 "W. J. S." was counting sleepers last Sabbath.
 We learn that a certain young lady of this town is about to establish a soap-factory, and purposes converting some of our young men into soap-grass. We think that this young lady never was in society before, or else she is suffering from softening of the brain.
 No more for this time.
 "ONE OF THE BOYS."

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

ALIVE AND WELL.

After a Mysterious Disappearance Fourteen Years Ago.

Boston, Oct. 26.—W. D. Mansfield, the husband of Mrs. Maggie Mansfield of this city, formerly well known in different parts of New Brunswick, who has been missing for fourteen years and mourned as dead, has been heard from by his relatives.
 The startling information that he was alive was received by Mrs. Mansfield at her house, 1201 Washington street, a short time ago, and to-day the Boston Globe publishes a detailed history of the family and Mansfield's disappearance.
 Mansfield who is a native of Framingham, this state, met a Moncton girl, Miss Maggie Wallace, in Lynn, over twenty years ago, while the latter was visiting friends here. She was a handsome girl and of a well known family. Her father was David Wallace, a Canadian government contractor, and the builder of St. John breakwater. Her uncle was Hon. John Wallace, a New Brunswick politician and J. J. Wallace of the I. C. R., Moncton her brother. Maggie's mother was a Miss Steeves of Albert Co., and a sister of Dr. J. T. Steeves, superintendent of the insane asylum, St. John.

To cut a long story short Mansfield and Miss Wallace were married in 1871, and after living two years in Lynn, where a daughter was born, they went to Mrs. Mansfield's old home and purchased a hotel at Hillsboro.

For nine years they lived apparently happy and one morning Mansfield went away. Some said a woman was in the case, but his wife said that he merely went west to make some money. He wrote for a few weeks the last letter bearing a New York date. Her reply was never answered and after a few years she gave him up for dead. She sold the hotel and came to Boston where her daughter is now married.

Three months ago her heard that her long lost husband was alive, and that he had telegraphed from Buffalo to J. J. Wallace, Moncton, asking if "Maggie" was alive and married again, and if his daughter was married. Mr. Wallace replied, it is said, answering the questions. Upon this Mansfield wrote to George Wallace of Dorchester, N. B., giving an explanation of his departure years before. He said it was his own fault.

George Wallace replied and also told Mrs. Mansfield here. She also received a copy of her husband's letter, and her daughter addressed a letter to Buffalo, but no answer has as yet been received. They have not given up hope, however.

His family are still true to him and the door plate still bears the name "W. D. Mansfield."

WE ARE GLAD to learn that the "PAIN-KILLER" is having so large a sale in our city. We have every reason to believe it to be an almost never-failing cure for pain, and is a medicine that no family should be without. Only 25c. for a big bottle.

Death of Ella Farrish-Brown.

(Grand Rapids (Wis.) Reporter.)
 We have a very sad duty to perform in noting the fact that Mrs. Ella Brown died at the home of her father, Mr. Robert Farrish, in this city Tuesday morning, October 23rd, at 9 o'clock. In the prime of life with everything to live for, a kind husband, a devoted father and mother, loving sisters and a host of friends who had learned to love her because she possessed those traits of character and womanly virtue greatly admired by all good people she passes away. Cut down in early womanhood with heart disease, at the age of 27 years, amidst such favorable surroundings to incline her to cling tenaciously to life, she did not and could not believe that death with all its icy coldness at d read awaited her. She felt that she had reached the period of greatest usefulness and interest, where life would be most enjoyable and profitable and in which would be found greater possibilities. Her going has made many a heart sad and the vacant place she leaves at the Farrish home will never be filled with that perfectness made possible by Ella. She bore up with great fortitude during two years of illness which gradually sapped her life away. She was patient to the end hoping against hope. She was confined to her bed only a few weeks.

Mrs. Ella Brown was born in this city August 10, 1867, where she has always resided, and was educated and married. Her education was completed in the Howe High School of this city in 1884, she having graduated in that year. She was married to F. W. Brown, of Chicago, November 24th, 1892, with whom she lived very happy and contented.

The funeral service took place today at the Cong'l Church at 2 p. m., Rev. Mr. Kilburne officiating.
 Deceased was the daughter of Mr. Robert Farrish and granddaughter of Mr. Wm. Farrish, who formerly resided in Richibucto.
