

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC

Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of Last One Hundred Years.

It is as Taste as the Sweetest Nectar, and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

The Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nerve Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative is known by a few of the most learned physicians, and its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with the Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the human body, and as a great renewer of vitality. It is also of more real permanent value in the cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption in this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical age in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, for the space of two or three years. It will carry the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of value to the aged and infirm, because its great energy will give them a new lease of life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of it each year.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nerve Tonic has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDVILLE, IND., Aug. 20, '86.
To the Great South American Medicine Co.,
DEAR GENTLEMEN:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could get, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nerve Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it, I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy, as I do, you would not be able to supply the demand.

A SWORN CASE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887.
My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nerve Tonic and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nerve Tonic

Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nerve Tonic.

HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynesboro, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the Great South American Nerve Tonic. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

No remedy compares with South American Nerve Tonic as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nerve Tonic as a cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nerve Tonic as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon. If you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nerve Tonic is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weakness.

The Stupendous Failure of High License.

By A. G. WOLFENBARGER, Esq. (CONCLUDED.)

In other words, it creates a monopoly of the business, and facilitates the accumulation of profits without decreasing consumption. The two conspicuous examples quoted are only types representing the confederated liquor-dealers of the United States, and Canada might be added without destroying the unanimity of sentiment.

THE PUBLIC PRESS.

The high license system has been condemned by the confessions of leading license newspapers. The Chicago Times said editorially in 1889:

"The difference between those who believe in Prohibition and those who believe in license, is precisely the difference between right and wrong. The wrong may triumph, but it is none the less wrong. The right may fail, but it is none the less right. * * * Whatever the great bulk of those who are friendly to High License may think or believe, or however conscientious they may be, it is plain that the leaders in the movement are but instruments in the hands of the brewers and distillers. They know as well as they know anything that High License will not lead to the checking of intemperance in this country. They know as well as they know anything that the licensing of saloons legitimizes the traffic that fills the poorhouses, the jails, the penitentiaries and lunatic asylums, and that it furnishes victims for the gallows."

The Chicago Daily News, an independent newspaper, gives the following editorial view:

"We have had High License ($500) in Illinois for five years, and while it is a success as a revenue measure, it is an undistinguished failure as a temperance measure. It in no way checks the consumption of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, nor does it in the least degree lessen the evils or crime from such use. * * * The dives and dens, the barrel houses, and thieves' resorts are as bad and as frequent in this city to-day, after five years of High License, as they ever were. Call High License what it is, an easy way to raise a revenue from vice, but let there be an end of endorsing it as a temperance or reform measure."

High License has become a demonstrated failure in Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia Press in 1890, after investigation found the condition in Pittsburgh to be as here given:

"All accounts agree that High License is a failure in Pittsburgh. 'Speakeasies,' or unlicensed groceries, have multiplied in every section of the city, until it is now believed that the number of places where liquor is sold is considerably greater than it was two years ago under low license."

Testimony from the columns of the public press might be quoted by the page, but limitations of space forbid. Let us now see what effect High License actually has on consumption.

SURPRISING INCREASE IN CONSUMPTION.

In the matter of malt liquors alone, the consumption has increased in the United States from 8.26 gallons per capita in 1880, to 15.28 gallons per capita in 1891. The total for all kinds of liquor in the United States in 1880 was 10.09 gallons per capita; in 1891, 17.04 gallons per capita. The typical High License State of Nebraska has kept up with the procession. The Brewers' Journal in a table of the production of malt liquor by States, shows Nebraska to have made the following record:

YEAR.	BARRELS.
1886.....	84,838
1887.....	108,758
1888.....	124,158
1889.....	136,681
1890.....	129,916
1891.....	146,341

The same Brewers' Journal gives the sales for Kansas, a State with 350,000 more population than Nebraska, but under Prohibition, as follows:

YEAR.	BARRELS.
1886.....	17,482
1887.....	16,438
1888.....	16,285
1889.....	0,700
1890.....	2,700
1891.....	2,070

These two tell-tale tables from the enemy's own statistics show how prohibition and high license respectively affect the traffic.

In 1889, the two Dakotas adopted prohibition by constitutional amendment. The first year of enforcement was 1891, when the sales of malt liquors dropped from 32,386 barrels in 1890 to 9,444 barrels in 1891.

CRIME HAS STEADILY INCREASED.

High License has not decreased the commission of crime growing out of the liquor traffic. To the student who has time to master detailed tables of police and criminal statistics, reference is here made to the Cyclopaedia of Temperance and Prohibition, published by Funk & Wagnalls, New York and Toronto. I can give only the summary of 41 typical High License cities that are compared with 38 low license cities for the year 1888. The population of the 41 High License cities was 4,599,189; that of the 38 low license cities was 4,599,957. The number of saloons in the high license cities was 12,295; number of saloons in low license cities, 25,783. Average high license, $665 per year per saloon; average low license, $122. Total number arrests in high license group, 219,132; low license group, 230,877. Population under high license to one arrest for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 36.6; under low license, 37.6; showing less arrests under low license than under high license for same period. The percentage of arrest for "drunk and disorderly" to total arrests were as follows: under high license, per cent., 56; low license, 52.

This is no justification of low license, but simply a fair comparison to expose the baseless pretences of high license claimants. Neither high nor low license has proven a remedy for the myriad evils and shocking crimes that grow out of the drink traffic. The only rational remedy for this universal curse is total suppression by and through a law of prohibition.

IN CONCLUSION.

The evidence against high license might be extended through many pages, but my limits of space are reached. I ask every reader to note these conspicuous facts:

1. High license is wrong in principle, because it sells privileges to men engaged in a wicked and damaging business.

2. It creates a monopoly for the few, and tends to solidify their strength in the community, and augments their profits, without decreasing consumption.

3. Drunkenness, lunacy, pauperism and crime of every grade, increase under high license, and nothing but the prohibitive features of the law avail anything, and even these are overridden by the greedy desire to make money out of the business.

4. There is not an atom of morality in high license over low license, and both are a shame and a disgrace to Christian civilization.

5. The business community is robbed; the morals of the people lowered; the wealth of the country decreased; taxable values reduced, by the existence of the traffic under any policy of regulation.

The moral manhood and the patriotism of the people should be invoked to reject all overtures of the drunkard-makers, and sweep this entire criminal business from a legal place in society and government.

Economy and Strength.

Valuable vegetable remedies are used in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla in such a peculiar manner as to retain the full medicinal value of every ingredient. Thus Hood's Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength and is the only remedy of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Pills do not purge, pain or gripe but act promptly, easily and efficiently.

A Canadian of Enterprise.

Mr. Geo. T. Fulford and family, of Brockville, Ont., have returned home after spending the last few months in London. Being interrogated as to the condition of Pink Pill business in England Mr. Fulford said he was told that his business had broken all records of any similar undertaking in the old land. It is rapidly increasing, and is highly satisfactory. As a proof that his business is a great success, it is only necessary to say that Pink Pills are being counterfeited by several imposters. Four of these he "knocked out" in law suits and several have abandoned their dastardly work sooner than go into the courts. One individual he had considerably difficulty with styles himself Dr. Williams, and goes from town to town saying he is the gentleman whose goods are being so extensively advertised, and he offers during his visit to a town to sell the pills at one shilling a box, though he tells them that when he is gone the regular price two-and-nine-pence will prevail. He will soon be caught, however, as the police are on his track. "I have my trade mark registered in every country on the globe where trade marks are registered, and I intend to defend it," said Mr. Fulford as he thumped the table.
