All men covet perfect health but very few have it, because of the wide-spread prevalence of dyspepsia. K. D. C. is the cure for dyspepsia. Try it!

Fifty fishing boats arrived at Yarmouth, county Norfolk, all much damaged in the storm. Seven men were drowned.
It's scatica, bathe with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, pressing the muscles and nerves hard.

The House of Commons on Thursday rejected the House of Lords amendments to the parish councils bill. Chamberlain did not vote; one Conservative and several Unionists voted with the government.

SAFE AND PLEASANT to take, sure to cure—Hawker's Tolu and Wild Cherry Balsam, the favorite Cough cure.

Denis J. Buckley, inspector of the election district, second assembly district, New York, was convicted for receiving fraudulent votes and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary and fined $500.

Nothing else can equal Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for any form of sore throat. Try it once.

John A. Dunphy, of New York, who was convicted for administering illegal oaths to voters and allowing politicians to accompany them into the booths to prepare their ballots, was after a severe lecture by Judge Barrett, sentenced to two years in Sing Sing. Peter Neville, another inspector, got one year in the penitentiary. Jas. P. Rae, a newsdealer, admitted that he received $2 for his vote and got six months besides.

Many incidents could be related to offset the ridicule heaped upon the self-sacrificing women of those trying days; but God will "avenge his own elect who cry unto Him day and night though He bear long with the oppressors!" Time forbids our making mention of but one, that of a man from the country, who strolled along the street and when the voice of song arrested his attention, he stopped to listen to the words once so familiar to his ears, and when the women knelt he removed his hat and reverently listened. When they arose from prayer and commenced another sweet hymn, he reached across the street and grasping the hand of an acquaintance, said, "I have taken my last drink! I never felt before what a wrong the cursed habit was to poor women." That man had been a tippler from his youth, he is now over eighty, a kind, good man, but since that day has been a total abstainer, and he never fails to bless the "praying band." Thus while this "whirlwind of the Lord," was "to the Jews a stumbling block and to the Greeks a foolishness," it was to many "the power of God and the wisdom of God." Persistent, earnest work had been going on in the way of visitations, prayer, song and persuasions, in connection with the three remaining saloons, Ward, Bales and Whig; to all human appearances these men seemed "joined to their idols," yet they did not feel at liberty to "let them alone," so one icy morning a service was held on the pavement in front of the Whig saloon. Some of the good thoughtful ladies of the neighborhood sent door mats for the comfort of the women in kneeling. Mrs. Foraker, who led in the first prayer, placed a rug upon the top step and kneeling upon it with her mouth at the key hole, offered one of her apostolic prayers. When asked why she did such a queer thing, her answer was, "When a man locks his door on good women's prayers he is apt to be listening inside to hear what they have to say about him," and sure enough that prayer was heard, and the man was miserable because of the women's prayers, songs and entreaties, and he decided to close his establishment and seek a better way. There was a feeling of real interest in disposing of the liquors of his saloon so that no one should be harmed, therefore a days-man was chosen to settle prices and so on. The committee determined that the liquor owned by Mr. Whig should be bought and burned, so upon a fixed day the ladies met and purchased all there was for sale. A delicately painted league bottle was purchased by Mrs. Thompson, which now has a place of honor as a relic of the Hillsboro Crusade, in the castle of Lady Henry Somerset of England. A large concourse of people gathered to witness the ceremony of burning the whiskey. The ladies came in procession from the church and formed a circle around the barrels. After prayer by the Rev. S. D. Clayton the heads of the barrels were broken in by Mrs. Eliza J. Thompson, Mrs. General McDowell and Mrs. H. T. Foraker and the liquor set on fire. The scene was one of solemn joy never to be forgotten by those who participated in it. When all was over the ladies and gentlemen returned to the church to unite in thanksgiving to God, being more than ever convinced that He who began the work has continued it and will in his own good time and way complete it. Read account of the Dunn trial No. 15. After the weariness and excitement of the Dunn trial, the undaunted, invincible Crusaders met in the dear old church where their first vows were recorded, and proceeded to business as quietly and peacefully as though they had not been under the arrest of human judgment, feeling in their hearts the comforting assurance, "If God be for us who can be against us?" It was then decided to meet weekly at the homes of the members, but a feeling had been growing on the ladies that a room set apart for their own line of work was a necessity, and they voted unanimously in favor of immediate action. From the minutes we find Monday evening Dec. 6th, 1873, the first meeting was held in their own room. By request of the ladies, Dr. McDowell, a friend, tried and true was invited to dedicate their little temple to God and humanity. Not one dollar of debt was left on the ladies, but all the expense of renovating the building as well as the entire furnishing and decorating was met by the spontaneous offerings of earnest hearts. Cheering reports now came into the meetings of conversions in prison, and letters were received from prisoners in the county jail, who felt they were God's free men saved from their sins by the merits of Christ, and the kindness and prayers of the good women. Many of the men who were then redeemed from the curse of appetite are to-day beacon lights, and some have left "Footprints on the sands of time for a forlorn and shipwrecked brother." During all the years since '77 the work of the Crusaders, although taking on new forms of service and new lines of work, kept marching on. As the tenth anniversary drew near, the Crusaders were impelled to celebrate it in a service commensurate with the thanksgiving in their hearts. By invitation of the Union, Frances E. Willard, the beloved national president, accompanied by Miss Esther Pugh, treasurer of the W. C. T. U., Miss Anna Garden, Miss Willard's faithful private secretary, were present to add honor to the occasion. Services for the children were held on Sunday, the 23rd, conducted by Miss Garden, assisted by Miss Pugh. At one of the meetings held that day, Miss Willard narrated the call to which she surrendered the cherished plans of her life to become an evangelist to "the great unwashed, untaught, ungodly multitude." Notwithstanding the severity of the weather, for they had become used to the storms and cold, the morning of Dec. 24th, 1883, found the Temperance Crusaders assembled in the old Crusade church. The same faithful pastor of the same old church, as true to the cause as ten years before, opened the meeting with devotional exercises and cheering speech, then called to the chair the first Pres. who read again the 146th Psalm and gave testimony to the faithfulness of "a covenant keeping God." Very many touching testimonies were given, and tender reference was made to the members of the original Crusade band, who had gone from labor to reward, and of whom it might well be said, "Their works do follow them." To have heard the experiences of the good women on this "decennial anniversary" morning, would have proved to the most doubting minds that the Crusade movement was from God. Indeed it was a wonderful meeting, one long to be remembered, and with glad hearts they sang together with the sisterhood of all lands, warmed by the same fire, "Blest be the tie that binds," and putting on anew the whole armor of God, resolved to battle with renewed zeal and courage for God and home and native land.

Miss Lettie Huntley

Is the sister of Mr. W. S. Huntley of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope
and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

A Waste of Money
but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to subside. I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years
I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably saved my life."

Messrs. Sagar & Jennings, the well known druggists of Cortland, say that Miss Huntley "is a highly respected lady; her statement of what has done for her is worthy the highest commendation."

Hood's Vegetable Pills
are prepared to meet a legitimate demand for a mild, efficient and reliable family physic. They are purely vegetable, containing no mercury, calomel, or mineral substance of any kind. Hood's Pills act upon the stomach, liver, and alimentary canal, and cure Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nausea, Biliousness, Headache, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Distress after Eating, Jaundice. A cold may be broken up and a fever prevented by promptly taking Hood's Pills.

Hood's Pills

FOR SALE AT SHORT'S DRUG STORE.

The Delineator for April is the second of the "Great Spring Numbers," and has many special features in addition to the unusually fine display of attractive styles. Prominence is given to Bicycling in an illustrated article which describes How to Ride and What to Wear, and also in a full page of figures in Bicycling Costume and an original piece of Music entitled The Cyclists' March. Mothers of families will be glad of the aid of the very suggestive paper on Fitting Out the Family for Spring and Summer, and both Mothers and Daughters will be interested in the opening chapter of a series treating of the relationship between the two. Some new dishes are given under the head of Dainty Cookery. The paper on How to Live wisely opens a subject that should commend itself to all housekeepers, and the chapter on The Etiquette of the Dinner Table treats of the most refined observances at the festive board. The contribution on The Uses of Crepe and Tissue Papers gives further instruction in the making of many useful and ornamental articles. Around the Tea Table furnishes both instruction and entertainment, and further entertainment is provided in An Easter Party and Literary Charades. The latest literature is discussed in Among the Newest Books, and Flower Culture for the Month tells what work should be done in preparing the Garden for the Spring and Summer. The illustrated articles on Netting, Tatting, Knitting, Crocheting, etc., are as fascinating as usual to the lover of fancy work. The subscription price of the Delineator is $1.00 a year. Single Copies, 15 Cents. Address orders to The Delineator Publishing Co. (Ltd.), 33 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ont.
