Beaman, of Boston, charging him with alienating his wife's affections. The affidavit states that Beaman's wife came from Boston for the purpose of visiting her mother last summer, but instead of doing so spent her time with Gregory. The latter had been admitted to bail. Gregory is not a very popular fellow in St. John. He is a leading member of the Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

She has not used glasses for a number of years and reads readily without them. During all of these years she has lived within one mile of the house in which she was born and has never seen Kentville or Hantsport, and never been within a rail-carriage or seen a railroad train. She has brought up a large family, all of whom are comfortably circumstanced and living near her.

Winnipeg's exhibition, which opens the latter end of this month, will be the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted in the Northwest. The entry list is nearly double what it has been in previous years. The race meeting in connection promises to be a great success. The race entries are larger than was ever obtained by any trotting association in America, averaging fifteen to each of the twenty events. As the C. P. R. is running cheap excursions, many visitors are expected from lower Canada.

One of the most important occurrences which will tend to a solution of the school difficulty in Winnipeg transpired last Tuesday night. At the meeting of the School Board, a deputation representing the Catholic Ratepayers, attended to see if some satisfactory compromise could not be arrived at, looking to a final settlement of the difficulty. According to the school law of Manitoba, the entire body of Catholic pupils could now be turned over to the Board to look after, and this would involve a big expense. The deputation made a proposition for the next school year: (1.) That the Catholics would furnish the building necessary for the accommodation of the scholars, run them according to standard, allow the regular school inspector to make his inspections whenever he pleased, as in the case of the Protestant schools, furnish fuel, light, etc., all the necessities of equipment themselves, using the same teachers as were now employed. (2.) This they were ready to do, if the School Board would grant them the sum of $13,000 for the year's running expenses. Special certificates could be granted the teachers by the advisory board, to enable them to continue teaching for the period desired, namely, one year. They would furnish a guarantee that everything would be conducted in the most satisfactory manner, and would meet the board or a committee to still further discuss the matter, in order that an agreement which should be satisfactory to both sides might be arrived at. The proposition will be discussed at a special meeting of the board.

The results of the election of the legislature for the province of British Columbia, to serve the next four years, show that out of a total of 33 members, Vancouver island returns 14 and the day's voting resulted in a solid delegation of 14 government supporters. On the lower mainland of eight seats, all went to the opposition; but from the upper mainland the government will get a safe working majority. The campaign was one of unusual bitterness, arising out of the agitation of last year for the separation of the mainland from the island of Vancouver, upon which the capital of Victoria is situated. The fight was between the island and the lower mainland, and the island has won.

The Senate Investigating Committee at Troy is revealing a system similar to that unearthed at New York, in the matter of the proprietors of disorderly houses paying for police protection.

George Kirkby, a farmer living a few miles west of Bathgate, was away from home with his wife and left a girl of 12 years in care of the house. She called another little girl of 9 years to come and stay with her. She took down a loaded gun to show her playmate how she could defend herself in case a tramp should call. The neighbor's girl looked in the muzzle of the gun just as the Kirkby girl pulled the trigger. The charge blew off the top of the head of her playmate.

The prisoners in the house of correction at South Boston mutinied and refused to work. In a few moments all the shops were in a state of tumult. All the officials drew their clubs and charged on the prisoners. The men resisted and attacked the officers with their tools, and anything they could lay their hands on. Unable to drive them into their cells, the officers fired several shots at the convicts. Only one shot took effect. This struck a convict in the cheek and effectually frightened the mutineers. The men have been restless for some days, and have threatened trouble. After the shooting the prisoners fell back and were driven to their cells.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company

broke the blockade at Sacramento Wednesday. The engine that hauled the first train out lies on its back in a slough by the side of a broken bridge with three of the cars that made up the train. Under the wreck lies the bodies of the engineer and three soldiers who were guarding them. Three men were injured and one, a soldier, will almost surely die. The wreck of the train was accomplished by a loosened rail. The fish plates were removed, spikes drawn, bolts taken out and the rail left in the place. There was nothing to show the engineer, who was running the train slowly and cautiously, that there was anything wrong with the track ahead. When the wheels struck the loosened rail it sent the engine into the ties. The whole forward end of the train plunged into the muddy water. The trestle is a complete wreck. The effect of the outrage has been to make the soldiers desperately bitter against the strikers.

Considerable excitement was caused recently at Bangor, Wales, by an incident connected with the visit of Prince and Princess of Wales. While they were driving through the town a man, who, it was subsequently learned, was drunk, forced his way through the barriers and approached the landau in which the Royal couple were riding. He drew near before the police could prevent him, uttering threats against the Prince. Lord Penrhyn had gone to the station to meet his guests and was riding in the landau with them. As the man stepped alongside the carriage Lord Penrhyn struck him a heavy blow, which staggered him. Inspector Sweeney, who accompanied the Prince, sprang upon him after Lord Penrhyn had struck him and placed him under arrest.

A Paris paper of July 4th asserts that the archives of the Elysee Palace contain documents showing that shortly before the late president, M. Broken in Health

That Tired Feeling, Constipation and Pain in the Back

Appetite and Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. Chas. Steele
St. Catherine's, Ont.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "For a number of years I have been troubled with a general tired feeling, shortness of breath, pain in the back, and constipation. I could get only little rest at night on account of the pain, and had no appetite whatever. I was that tired in my limbs that I gave out before half the day was gone. I tried a great number of so-called blood purifiers, but with no good results. I was also under the care of several doctors. Frequently I had such bad spells that I had to be Brought Home from Work during the day and have a doctor called in, but did not get any permanent relief from any source until, upon recommendation of a friend, I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which made me feel better at once. I have continued its use, having taken three bottles, and

Headache and Impure Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla Quickly Cured.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "About a year ago I had an attack of the grip, followed by a continued headache and dizziness. And shortly after this my face broke out in blotches like ring-worms. I tried numerous medicines to see what they would do for me, but never found anything to take effect until, at last, I thought I would give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. I purchased one bottle which soon took effect for the better, and by the time I had taken half the bottle the headache had ceased and the blotches had all left my face. I have never felt better than I do now, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla the best blood purifier on the market and readily recommend it to anyone in need of the same."
