

NUGGETS.

Farmers have about finished seeding. The O'Leary mill began sawing last week. Tuesday was the first warm day this season. Mr. Wm. S. Loggie of Chatham, was in town Tuesday. Miss Lena Rhodes arrived home from Rothesay last week. Mrs. John Bowser, of Mill Creek, Buctouche, died Sunday. Mrs. Thomas McWilliam, of McWilliam's Mill, is seriously ill. Mr. J. Ferguson left Monday on a trip to Moncton and Newcastle. School Inspector Smith will spend the next fortnight visiting the schools of Kent County. Mr. James McLeod, representing the Ambrose Boot & Shoe Co., was in town over Sunday. The Mount Allison exercises began last Thursday and will conclude today, (Wednesday). Rhodes Curry & Co.'s warerooms were burned at Amherst, Friday morning. Loss $10,000. The St. Louis creamery has resumed operations under the management of Mr. Cyringha Daigle. A number of the young people of this town enjoyed themselves at a dance at John Legoff's, Tuesday night. A number of gaspereaux nets have been set out in the river near this office. The catch so far has been small. The parish assessors have finished the revision of the lists and will have them ready for the tax collectors this week. Mr. Philip Murphy and sons, of South Branch, passed through here last week with a drove of ten fat cattle for Chatham. Mr. G. Fred Doherty has taken the management of the Butter and Cheese Factory at Tatamagouche, Nova Scotia. A paper called the Harcourt Advertiser, will be published by Mr. Gordon Livingston, in Harcourt, during the month of June. Mary Robertson, daughter of Mr. Alexander Robertson, died suddenly at Harcourt, on the 18th inst. She was 42 years of age. A Norwegian Bark arrived at this port last week, and proceeded to Kingston where she is loading a cargo for Mr. E. Walker. The Kent Hotel was decorated with bunting on the 24th. Flags were also flying from the Court House and several other buildings. Mr. L. T. Joudry has purchased Mr. Wm. Forster's trotting mare Islewood. This mare is the dam of the Stallion "Forsters Almont Wilkes." Orders for fresh caught salmon left at the house of R. W. Beers, in town, will be filled on Monday and Thursday evenings at the lowest market prices. A dead whale washed ashore on Calendar's Beach, last week, measured twenty-eight feet in length. One hundred and sixty-four gallons of oil were obtained from it. The death of Mrs. Jonathan Forster of pneumonia, occurred at Kingston, Monday. Deceased was 45 years of age. Her funeral takes place this (Wednesday) afternoon at three o'clock. Don't forget to attend the stock and farm implement clearance sale at the late James Graham's, South Branch, Wedford, Saturday next, June 2nd, at 10 a. m. Terms easy. See posters. Miss Avalina Allen, of Richibucto captured the R. McDonald studio prize of $25 at Mount Allison, for oil painting. Miss Annie Maxwell of Wedford, secured the $15 prize for the highest average for the year. Lobsters were very scarce at the beginning of the season, but the prospect of a good season's fishing begins to look brighter. It is reported that the boats at Point Sapin are getting as high as sixteen hundred. At Richibucto Cape and along the beaches the average for the last few days has been about one thousand to a boat. Further south the catch has been small. A package of tickets for a lottery run in connection with the Louisiana State Lottery, arrived at the Custom House some time ago. They were addressed to a man in town and a letter accompanying them requested him to hand them to some third party if he could not see his way clear to accept an agency for the sale of them. The letter further assured him that a prize would be drawn by the agent in order to advertise the lottery. The affair is clearly a fake. The celebrated trotting and carriage stallion "Island Messenger," will be in Chatham, May 30th, and 31st, in Kouchibouguac, June 1st, in Kingston, June 2nd, 3rd and 4th and 7th, in St. Louis on the 8th, at noon, in Chatham again on the 10th and 11th in Kouchibouguac on the 13th, and in Kingston, June 16th and 17th. Returning he will be in Kouchibouguac, June 21st, in Chatham on the 23rd and 24th, and in Kingston again on the 30th. This route will be followed during the season. Mrs. Norman McKendrick formerly of Harcourt died on High street yesterday of congestion of the lungs. She leaves four daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. A. H. Friars, Moncton, Mrs. David Tabor, Springhill Mines, Mrs. Melvin Colpitts, Harcourt, and Mrs. Welsford Marks, Grand Bay, Kings County, Mrs. William Bovard, of Moncton who died last Tuesday was also her daughter. The sons are John McKendrick of the I. C. R. shops and Mort McKendrick now in Pennsylvania.—Moncton Transcript. A sad drowning accident occurred at the public wharf, Newcastle, on Monday afternoon. It appears that a young French lad, an orphan, accompanied two men on their trip from Caraquet to Newcastle. While the men had gone up town to do some business and the boy loaned the boat to some party or parties, but on seeing the men returning, he started to run down the wharf to call back the boat. In his haste and flurry he tripped and fell over the wharf. His body was recovered about twenty minutes after but life was extinct. Warden Forster, of Dorchester penitentiary, had a narrow escape from serious or fatal injuries the other day. He was driving down Robb's hill when his horse became unmanageable. Two convicts, who were working near, saw Mr. Forster's danger and ran out and caught the horse. Had it not been for the promptness of the convicts Mr. Forster thinks he would have been thrown out and killed. Only a few days before Mr. Patrick McGowan, of Stoney Mountain penitentiary, formerly of Dorchester was killed while out driving.—Moncton Record.
