DESTITUTION IN THE UNITED STATES.

Canadians have reason to feel grateful that notwithstanding a severe winter and hard times generally, there is not in Canada such wide spread destitution as appears to exist in the United States. As affording evidence of the condition of affairs across the line we quote from the New York World:

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—The work of relief for the poor was given an impetus to-day by the organization of the Central Committee of Fifty. The money furnished by the Central Bureau will not be used except under the condition that able-bodied men, receiving food and lodging, shall render the equivalent for it in work and, with that end in view, work for those who are willing and able to perform it will be provided by the Street Cleaning Bureaus.

The storehouse for receiving supplies of food and clothing is now in operation at No. 82 Market Street. Five public shelters are now in operation, accommodating 4,000 men. Fully 10,000 are fed daily by the various organizations. Notwithstanding these accommodations, 500 men are still sleeping in the City Hall. During the last week the Hyde Park Relief Society has received at its relief-station applications for food and clothing from 500 families. Cases of want are growing in number.

BUFFALO, Dec. 14.—The destitution in Buffalo is assuming such proportions that the matter has been officially called to the attention of Mayor Bishop by a special committee of the Charity Organization Society. The Mayor has called a public meeting for Saturday to devise means of relief.

The Poormaster and the Charity Organization Society are overrun by applications for assistance, and individuals have been donating bread in great quantities. This has been distributed by Poormaster Stanch at the rate of from 500 to 1,000 loaves a day, each family of three or four members receiving two loaves.

OMAHA, NEB., Dec. 14.—Great destitution and suffering prevail among the farmers of Northwestern Nebraska. Hundreds are in absolute need. No local aid is available, because of the general poverty and the great distances between the farmers on the open prairies. These conditions have been produced by three successive crop failures. They are without provision, and need clothing and fuel. The ministers and missionaries at that section have issued a general appeal for help.

DETROIT, MICH., Dec. 14.—Supt. Martin, of the post-office, says that the board will have 7,000 families to care for, this winter. Many persons are applying every day for aid who have never done so before. There are many heads of families who have been out of work from four to six months, and who usually had their coal, potatoes, flour, and sometimes meat, laid away for the winter; but this year they are unable to pay even the interest on the mortgages on their small homes.

NEWBURYPORT, MASS., Dec. 14.—Arrangements have been made here to furnish unemployed and destitute residents with free soup two days in each week.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 14.—It has been the custom of the Chamber of Commerce to give an annual banquet. It is now proposed, in view of the suffering and destitution, to give up the idea of the banquet this year, and to donate several thousand dollars to alleviate the distress of the poor. This will probably be done.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 14.—Some of the men on strike at Oliver's Lower Mills, in Allegheny, have been receiving assistance from the Allegheny Charity Department, but an order was issued by Mayor Kennedy to-day cutting off this source of supply. The Mayor says he received complaints from prominent business men, and issued the order for that reason. The company offers to pay union wages, but will not recognize the union.

A SCHOOL DIFFICULTY.

The legislature of New Brunswick is not the only legislature that will have to deal with a school difficulty arising out of sectarian differences. Much discussion is just now taking place in the state of New York over a measure which has been drafted and will be presented to the State legislature when it next meets, concerning the schools and school funds of that state. The Spelisey Bill, as it is commonly called, provides that private schools and other schools conducted under non-state auspices shall be entitled to a share of all state and other moneys now apportioned and distributed among the common schools of the State. The critics of this bill attack it as a measure devised to give state aid to the Catholic parochial schools, and thus to effect a change in the present non-sectarian school system of the state. A similar bill has been also prepared for the legislature of the State of Maryland. The introduction of these measures will probably arouse a stirring debate. A leading Protestant journal declares that "The American people cherish their public-school system as a peculiarly precious institution, and, next to an attack on their flag, they will resent an attack upon their schools. The warning-cry ought to ring every where in the land, 'Hands off the public-schools!'" On the other hand, a number of the leading Catholic organs doubt the wisdom of the bill. The Freeman's Journal says:—"To introduce the Spelisey Bill is to court defeat. The question of school tax should be left an open one—each taxpayer, as in Canada, paying into the school fund of Catholic, Lutheran, Episcopal, or public boards, as he elects. Presented in this way, all can see the justice of the thing; presented as a demand upon the public funds for the support of sectarian institutions, the subject is most likely to be misunderstood."

Present returns of the plebiscite vote on the prohibition question in Ontario indicate that prohibition has carried in the province by almost one hundred thousand majority. Complete returns will not be in for several days. The vote in Toronto was, for prohibition 10,879; against 8,879. Several thousand of those who went to the polls did not take the trouble to vote on the question, but the temperance party have a clear majority over both non-voters and pro-liquor men.

Declaration figures make no material change in the result of the Prince Edward Island election. The legislature will stand 23 liberals to 7 conservatives. In the plebiscite in the prohibition question the vote stands 10,616 for prohibition and 3,390 against it; 3,589 electors did not vote on the question. Charlottetown gave over 600 majority for prohibition.

A Bad Clique.

Dear Editor:

One might feel inclined to think that the author of this article should be less severe in the criticism bestowed upon a certain "clique" of three should-be-men, who have recently written over the signatures of "Snowdrop" and "Santa Claus" to the Plain Dealer, for a number of weeks, during which time some very unpleasant taunts as well as many untruthful statements have been hurled against our fellow citizens. Those however, who are acquainted with the above mentioned facts will desire with writer that this be republished and given in exchange for their impudence and self-complacence.

Now I do not intend entering into warfare with my neighbors, but if ignorance and jealousy push them to publishing further falsehoods, we certainly will do some publishing too. We will publish a few facts that will in no way rebound to the credit of "Snowdrop" or "Santa Claus."

"Santa Claus" in his infantile style, compared one of my friends to a "brainless Philosopher." I'll say nothing on that point just now. Time, (and that ere long) will show where a "brainless Philosopher" is to be found, and should he appear, I earnestly trust that "Santa Claus" will remember his insinuation.

Everybody knows that the "clique" who writes over the signatures of "Snowdrop" and "Santa Claus," (leaving the poetess out) is composed of one who went through a course in a Montreal college, a second who is a production, (though a very poor one) of Memramcook college, while the third, who, though he never went to college, has more presumption and self-conceit than would be suited to the Professor of any college.

Simpletons that they are, they allow all fancied grievances to fill their brains, (not a difficult job, when one considers the size of that article) and so they go on making cowardly statements, untrue and unfair against people who are as respectable as themselves. Now let "Snowdrop" and "Santa Claus" be sure they have no faults of their own before finding fault with others.

Really one would be inclined to laugh at this "clique," if the consequences of their ways of acting were not so serious. Don't make fools of yourselves. Take a friend's advice—a word to the wise is sufficient. But unfortunately these simpletons are not wise and need many words and many warnings to bring them to their right senses.

Restigouche.

The River Charlo Superior School, taught by Mr. Masterton, is in a high state of efficiency. He has great aptitude in imparting instruction to the young, and in stimulating them in their studies. During the few months he has taught the school he has won the respect of the people, and attachment of his pupils. He is at present spending his holidays with his friends in Kent Co. On his return he will be welcome back to Charlo.

There are upwards of three feet of snow in Restigouche, and as a rule snow falls every alternate day.

There are about eighty shingle machines in Restigouche. At present there is great activity in the lumber woods in cutting cedar logs to supply them, and pine and spruce for the other mills.

Those engaged in smelt fishing are encouraged by their prospects. This is almost a new industry in Restigouche.

DEC. 1.—It is fine this morning, but it may be snowing before night. Our prophets are getting discouraged. They can do nothing with the weather. When asked if they think we will have a thaw they look queer, and say "I do not know all old signs have failed."

Christmas passed off very quietly with us. There was a social dance at Mr. Patrick McPhadden's at night.

Miss Edith Dickey is home from Dorchester spending her holidays. We have Miss Sutton teaching our school this term, she is well liked.

Last Thursday at about 5 o'clock, after a lingering courtship, one of our fair ones passed off very quietly from amongst us, to take up her residence in another locality.

Messrs Henry and Harley Smith are going to the lumber woods at Nova Scotia, to-morrow.

The Dog Poisoner Abroad

Dear Editor: The dog poisoner has appeared on Little River. Can it be the same one that poisoned so many valuable dogs in Richibucto some time ago. If Samuel Al'naach would only hurry up and get the pews made for the new church, and the good preacher hold a few revival meetings, perhaps the dog poisoner might step on to the strait and narrow path again and take up his Cross and be a leader once more in the prayer meetings. Don't be disgusted beloved brother with your own actions. The vilest sinners have been saved, but we don't know whether they ever poisoned any dogs for their neighbors or not.
