Colossal Fortunes.

By a calculation made a year or two ago by an American statistician, it seems that seventy citizens of the United States possessed among them an aggregate wealth of $540,000,000. That gives an average of about $7,500,000 ($37,500,000 apiece). To come to particulars: There was one estate—we refrain here from mentioning names—returned as worth no less than $30,000,000, $150,000,000. There were five individuals valued at $20,000,000; one valued at $14,000,000; two valued at $12,000,000; six valued at $10,000,000; six valued at $8,000,000; four valued at $7,000,000; thirteen valued at $6,000,000; ten valued at $5,000,000; four valued at $4,500,000, and fifteen at $4,000,000.

The brain reels before such figures. They express measures of wealth which the ordinary mortal is powerless to grasp.

Besides these seventy colossal fortunes, there are fifty other persons in the Northern States alone valued at over $2,000,000 each, thirty of them being valued in all at $90,000,000. There was some little time ago published lists of sixty-three millionaires in Pennsylvania possessing in the aggregate $60,000,000, and of sixty persons in three villages near New York whose wealth aggregated $100,000,000. In Boston fifty families pay taxes on annual incomes of about $200,000 each.

We have nothing to compare with such individual cases of wealth in Great Britain. Baron Rothschild and Lord Overstone each left about $3,500,000; the late Lord Dudley left $4,000,000; the late Duke of Buccleuch, estimated to be the richest Scotchman, left estates valued at $6,000,000. One living English Duke is valued at $10,000,000, and another at $8,000,000; but not many names could be added to these, to place against the above list of American fortunes. In 1884 there were only 104 persons in the United Kingdom whose incomes from business profits were returned as over $50,000 a year. In 1886 there were only seventeen estates which paid probate duty on about $250,000 each.—Chambers' Journal.

A Knowing Dog.

There is a Newfoundland dog, Lion by name, says the New Orleans States, which gives daily proof of his comprehension of what is said to him. A lady called on his mistress the other day. During her call Lion came in rather slyly, lay down on the parlor carpet and went to sleep. The conversation ran on, and the visitor said finally:

"What a handsome Newfoundland dog you have."
 Lion opened his eye.
 "Yes," said the mistress, "he is a very good dog and takes excellent care of the children."
 Lion opened the other eye and waved his tail to and fro complacently on the carpet.

"When the baby goes out he always goes with her, and I feel perfectly sure that no harm can come to her," his mistress went on.

Lion's tail thumped up and down violently on the carpet.

"And he is so gentle to them all, and such a playmate and companion to them that we would not take $1,000 for him."

Lion's tail now went up and down, to and fro, and round and round with great and undisguised glee.

"But," said the mistress, "Lion has one serious fault."

Total subsidence of Lion's tail, together with the appearance of an expression of great concern on his face.

"He will come in here with his dirty feet and lie down on the carpet, when I have told him time and time again that he must not do it."

Here Lion arose with an air of the utmost dejection and humiliation, and slunk out of the room with his lately exuberant tail totally crestfallen.

A Good Joke.

A traveler who took some Kafirs from their inland desolate home in the Himalayan gorges beyond the mountain ranges to the more civilized south. Like most savages, they looked with stupid indifference at the marvels about them, and once only were they excited by an incident which opened their eyes to what they considered a most extraordinary state of things.

hungry, and the English "sahib" bought him some food at a wayside shop. The Kafir saw the money change hands, and seemed astonished.

"How is this?" he inquired in surprise. "Do you pay for food in this country?"

"Certainly."

"What a country!" cried the man in amazement. Then, after pondering a while he continued doubtfully: "Suppose a man had no money in this country: he might starve!"

"It is quite possible!"

The Kafir shook with uncontrollable laughter. It was the best joke he had ever heard. He explained the ridiculous system to his companions, who roared in chorus.

The Lawyer's Speech.

A lawyer, whose eloquence was of the spread-eagle sort was addressing the jury at great length, and his legal opponent, growing weary, went outside to rest.

"Mr. B. is making a great speech," said a countryman to the bored counsel.

"Oh, yes, Mr. B. always makes a great speech. If you or I had occasion to announce that two and two make four, we'd be fools enough to blurt it right out. Not so, Mr. B. He would say:

"If by that particular arithmetical rule known as addition, we desired to arrive at the sum of two integers added to two integers we should find—and I assert this boldly, sir, and without fear of successful contradiction—we, I repeat, should find by the particular arithmetical formula before mentioned—and I hold myself perfectly responsible for the assertion I am to make—that the sum of two given integers added to the two other integers would be four!"

The Trap Caught the Milkman.

A family lately moved into a house on Prospect Avenue, and the next morning a passing milkman was hailed.

"You're sure your milk is good?"

"Yes, Ma'am."

"Sure you don't feed your cows swill?"

"Yes, Ma'am."

"Sure you boil every quart of water you put in?"

"Yes, Ma'am."

"Yes, Ma'am, eh? Put water in your milk, eh? You don't sell watered milk to my family, Go'long."

Then the milkman went his way, cutting his horse viciously.

Provisional.

"I'm sorry to hear, John, that you've lost your wife. But is it true you had no doctor?"

"Ave. It came about this way: a fortnight since, I was ill and gaged the doctor. He gaged me a bottle, but when I was home I was better, so I didna use it. When the wife took sick, I gied her the draught, and she died by mornin'! Isn't it a mercy I didna tak' it myself?"

An Evident Eden.

In Mongolia, close to the borders of Siberia, is Maiwatchin, and it is the only city in the world peopled by men only. The Chinese women are not only forbidden to live in this territory but even to pass the great wall of Kal'han and enter into Mongolia. All the Chinese of this border city are exclusively traders, and they accumulate money till their trading with Europe through Siberia has created sufficient fortune to enable them to return to their native cities and live there in ease with their families.

Like a Miracle

In Very Low Condition With Consumption

Physicians Said She Was Incurable

Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, as the doctors there could do nothing to help her, and said she would never be any better. She was in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. She would go ten days without a movement of the bowels. All medicine seemed to do her no good. She would have spells when her heart would palpitate, and then, with the outside door open in mid-winter, would faint away. Physicians, after holding a consultation, said she was past all help and wanted me to send her to the 'Home for Incurables.' But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go, and about this time a kind neighbor came in and asked me to get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and try it. We did so and she has taken the medicine regularly. She is getting strong, walks around, is out doors every day; has no trouble with her throat and no cough, and her heart seems to be all right again. She has a first class appetite,
