doubt there reigned in the vast past. After a brief rest I regained my power of speech, and called out hoarsely, "The rope! The rope!" This aroused the professionals from their stupor, and the climbing rope by which we ascend and descend to and from the trapeze was brought within my clutch. More dead than alive I slid down it with Jim still in my arm.

I was told afterward that I cried like a child when I recovered from the swoon into which I had fallen, and learned that my partner had, by the aid of a doctor who chanced to be present, also regained his senses. I pulled myself round sufficiently to go on with old Morritz, and bow my acknowledgments to the deafening applause with which I was greeted.

It was a terrible experience, and I have never been on a trapeze since—neither has Jim. We set up in business as makers of gymnastic apparatus, are doing fairly well and remain better friends than ever.

What became of Flora Denbigh? Oh, she jilted us both and married a rich, retired old tradesman. She buried him recently, and is quite ready to lead another victim to the altar—but it won't be me or Jim.

Why People Like Dogs.

And why do people keep such lots of dogs themselves and go in such numbers to see other people's dogs? Because the dog is at once the sincerest flatterer and the most successful cheerer that the human race ever had. A good dog always gives us the feeling that we men and women are a sort of gods. No other animal does anything of the kind. The cat treats us as an inferior, and the horse will treat us as a dear friend, not a divinity. The dog, moreover, imparts something of his peculiar gaiety to us in a way that is irresist- ible. He mingles his suggestions of gay- ety with his flattery, for he not only leaves his dinner to walk with us, but the mere fact that we are apparently giving ourselves the pleasure of a walk raises him into such a delirium of delight that the sight of it puts all our dumps and blues to such reproach that we shake them off in very shame. And when we don't walk, but sit moodily at home, the dog curls up lovingly at our feet and looks up now and then into our eyes and 'glides into our darker musings with a mild and heal- ing sympathy.' Yes, there is a solid reason for the fondness of men for dogs and it will never come to an end until either men or dogs become very different beings from what they are now.—Boston Trans- script.

Threatened With Pneumonia.

GENTLEMEN,—Last spring I had a very heavy cold and was threatened with pneu- monia. I used two bottles of Norway Pine Syrup and it completely cured me. It is the best preparation for a cough I ever used.

J. K. MacDonald
Whycocomagh, Cape Breton.

Annie Pearson, about 45 years of age, was found dead in a little basement room at 16 Margaret street, Boston, and her husband, Paul Pearson, was placed under arrest. Pearson, who is a laborer, is held on suspicion of murder, but the probabili- ties are that the investigation of Medical Examiner Harris will corroborate the the- ory advanced by Dr. Dunn, after a superfi- cial examination, that the woman died from natural causes. She was a native of St. John, N. B., and her maiden name was Downey. Before her union to Pearson, which took place about six years ago, she was married to a man named Garland.

VERY HELPFUL TO LADIES.

Quick Relief With No Displeas- antness. Comes To Those Who Use South American Kid- ney Cure.

While both sexes are sufferers from kidney trouble, in many respects women are liable to peculiar weaknesses and pain because of disorganization of the kidneys. Obstruction, taken, and rightly, to many quarters because of the methods of use, as well as after unpleasantness. This is over the case with South American Kid- ney Cure. It gives ease to the patient in its action, and no annoying effects follow. In a short time even the aggravated cases an entire cure is effected. There is no other medicine like South American Kidney Cure. It is a remedy for the kidneys and bladder only—not a general purgative that is supposed to cure every- thing and thus by effecting no cure, South American Kidney Cure does its particular work and does it well. A SKEPTIC CONVINCED

HE HAD NO FAITH IN ANY ADVER- TISED MEDICINE.

Attacked With a Bad Cold, His Trouble Went From Bad to Worse Until he Was Threatened With Locomotor Ataxia—Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured After Other Medicines Had Failed.

From the Yarmouth, N. S., Times.

The remarkable cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have long been a matter of newspaper notoriety, and many of them—well described as miracles—have been in our own province, but we believe so far none have been published from Yarmouth. A Times representative enquired in a quarter where such matters would likely be known, and learned that there were several remarkable cases of res- toration to health directly traceable to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, right in our midst. Curious to ascertain the facts in relation thereto, our representative called on Mr. Charles E. Trask, who had been known to have experienced a long illness, and now was apparently in excellent health, his cure being attributed to Pink Pills. Mr. Trask, who has been an ac- countant in Yarmouth for many years, was in his office on John street when the reporter waited on him.

Found Mr. Trask in His Office.

"Yes," he said, "there can be no pos- sible doubt of the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in my case, and I will be pleased if the publication of the facts helps some other sufferer back to health. I caught cold, was careless and caught more cold. The first thing I knew I was sen- sibly ill. I could not walk. All strength seemed to have left my legs and the weakness increased. From being obliged to remain in the house I became obliged to remain in bed, but still sup- posed it was but a very bad cold. I be- came so helpless I could not move in bed without help. I had good attendance and the best of care and nursing, but as week succeeded week I seemed to grow worse instead of better, till I was worn to a mere shadow and began to care very little if I ever recovered. A hint that I was threat- ened with something called locomotor ataxia reminded a friend that my case seemed similar to some of those described in the Times, which had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this first drew attention to them as a possible aid to me. I admit that I was skeptical—very skeptical—there are so many medi- cines being advertised now, and I was never much of a believer in them. Well, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were purchased and I took them, as I suppose I would have taken anything else, simply as the routine of a sick room. The first box seemed to show little effect, and by the time I had got through with the third box there could be no doubt my condition showed a marked improvement, and I was correspondingly encouraged. The pills were continued and I became rapidly bet- ter, so that I was able to sit up and go about the house, and occasionally go out if the weather was fine. Day by day I grew stronger, and to make a long story short, I feel I am to-day in as good health as ever I was in my life, and I can hardly realize I am the same man who suffered for six months, a helpless, dependent being, who never expected to be on his feet again. While I have no desire for publicity I am quite willing these facts should be made known for the benefit of others, and am ready at any time to bear hearty testimony to the genuine worth of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They restored me to health when I never expected to be about again."

Mr. Trask certainly looks the picture of health, and remembering the long period when he had been laid up, our repre- sentative left fully convinced that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have well deserved all that was said of them elsewhere. When such cases can be pointed to in our own midst there can be no longer be any doubt of the reliability of the many won- derful cures effected through- out the country.

Doctors Say It Is The Best.

GENTLEMEN—I recommend Dr. Williams' Kidney-Liver Pills. I was suffering with a severe cold, and was in bed for four weeks. I was very weak and could not speak. I was whispering. Dr. Williams' Kidney-Liver Pills cured me and sent a bottle of Dr. Williams' Kidney-Liver Pills. It is the very best medicine I ever used. It restored my voice and brought me back to health again.
