

PARSMAN McLusky.-The wedding of Mr. J. A. Bateman, formerly of Shediac, and Miss Annie F McLusky of Dorchester, Mass., was celebrated on the evening of the 9th inst., by the Rev. J. A. Smith. The cosy residence of W. E. Bishop, of Melrose, Mass., was the scene of the pleasant event. Over one bundred invited guests were in evidence, "and all went merry as a marriage-bell." The happy young pair were handsomely supported by Mr. D. B. Hicks and Miss Sopha Bateman, sister of the groom. 'The presents were numerous and costly, serving as a true expression of the esteem in which both the young people are held. Among other valuable articles were an excellent china tea-service, a full set of Japanese parlor vases, and a silver water service, valued at seventy-five dollars. On their return from the wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Bateman will give their first "at home "at their future residence in Malden. -Com.

HYMENEAL. - The residence of Bowen Smith, Esq., merchant and lumber dealer, of Cocagne, Kent Co., was the scene of a very interesting event Wednesday evening, Oct. 2nd, when his eldest daughter Marjorie Anna was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Milne, of the firm of Webster & Co., Shediac. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Bert, Episcopal minister of Shediac. The bride looked very pretty in her travelling suit of cream cloth shot with green and a very becoming hat to match. Miss Hilson, of Richibucto was bridesmaid. G. H. Smith brother of the bride, supported Mr. Milne. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful gifts, among which a handsome residence in Shediac and a cheque from her father, from her mother a set of furniture and piano case organ. Her brothers and sisters a seal cape and from friends many gifts of table silver and other useful and costly articles. After lunch amid the good wishes of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Milne drove to their residence in Shediac. Miss Smith will be much missed by the church and Sabbath School as she was a willing worker in both. THE REVIEW extends congratuletions.

St. John Buisness College. (Telegraph Oct 7 1895.)

It always gives us pleasure to direct attention to the good work done by this college. It has served the public for over a quarter of a century, and its work has always been done with commendable thoroughness. Even during the years following the great fire, when a commercial school could only be kept in Saint John at the cost of much self-sacrifice, the college was kept in a state of superior efficiency, as those who attended it at that time gladly testify. During its recent years of prosperity, new departments have been added, and new facilities employed, but the same features of thoroughness, intensity of purpose, and adaptability to the wants of the times have characterized its management during all the years of its history.

A good example of the hearty good will old students have for the college is shown by the following extracts from a letter shown us, which was a few days ago received by an old schoolmate in Saint John from a New York accountant, who writes, after many years testing, of the value of the training he received. The writer when at the college was a lad only about 17 years old. He obtained a position in New York immediately after leaving the college, and has not only been able to hold his own in New York, but has made reputation for himself as an expert. He writes that he has a good salary, and, in addition to his regular employment, does a great deal of expert work, for which he is paid $1 per hour.

After mention of other matters, he writes as follows :-

"I would like to advise students who have finished their course of study by all means to hold on to all the books which have been furnished them by college, for after 10 years experience in keeping books for different firms, and in different lines of business, I find new ideas and new methods of simplifying my work present themselves to my mind while looking over the books which I used at college. I would not take $20 for the old sets, not friend a sentimental point of view, but for the eason that I have made that sum several times over since leaving college, which in all probability I would not have made, if I had destroyed them.

* * * * As you are aware I spent but six months under Mr. Kerr's tuitien, and when I entered I could not tell a Dr. from a Cr.; but after leaving college, I immediately took charge of a set of books for firm in this city doing a business of $32,500 to 400,000 per year, and since then have done a great deal of expert work in straightening out books and opening new sets. "My predecessor here is new in Sing Sing for 24 years, having taken about $6,0 0 of the firm's mency. I was called to examine the books and smooth things out, and after doing so to the entire satisfaction of the firm, was offered the position I now hold. . . . I can h nestly say that I owe what success I have so far met with to the St. John Business College, . . . and if a testimonial is ever wanted I will be glad to give it. . . . Kindly remember me to Mr. Kerr. . . .

"(Signed.) B. MACGIBBON." This is a sample of the letters, greetings, and expressions of gratitude sent from time to time by old students.

$29.00, We can manufacture fibre for $8.25 per ton cheaper than in the United States which equals $57,750.00 per annum or about 28 per cent, on $200,000. The above figures are right, as fibre is sold at from $35.00 to $45.00 per ton in the States, leaving the pulpmakers there but little profit. There is hardly any clean pulp made in America now as it is all imported. We can make better and cleaner pulp than and gives better fibre. Fibre in England is worth from $35,00 to $55,00 a ton according to quality. There is an unlimited on the part of the manager.
