

LOCALS

ACCIDENT.—Ignatius Hackett of St. Margarets met with a very serious accident while chopping in the woods at that place Tuesday.

A NEW BRUNSWICKER, IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.—A writer in the Vancouver World, speaking of the Fraser Valley Lands, mentions favourably "H. D. Benson's Broadview farm which embraces 640 acres, 525 of which are cultivated."

A FOOLISH ADVENTURER.—When the Scotch sailor, Robert McCallum, was in St. John last spring with the 19-foot boat in which he proposed to cross the Atlantic, he was deaf to all suggestions that he was undertaking a foolish venture and that he would probably pay the penalty with his life.

CONDIE GRAHAM.—We take the following from a Cobden, Ont. paper. Miss Graham accompanied by her father visited friends in Richibucto a few years ago: The Methodist church at Cobden was beautifully decorated for a very pleasant event which took place on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock; the marriage of Mr. Richard C. Condie of Beachburg to Miss Annie Graham, daughter of Mr. William Graham of Bromley.

PERSONAL

Miss Bessie Keswick, of Buctouche, was visiting friends in Point du chene last week. Miss Edwina Grey (Mrs. Price Webber) the well known actress, has recently undergone a critical operation at a private hospital in Boston, and is now rapidly recovering.

been in British Columbia for 33 years is visiting his friends in Kent. Mr W. says British Columbia is a fine country, and many New Brunswickers are doing well in the Pacific Province, among others he met was Mr. Robert Brown, shipbuilder late of Bass River, this County.

Miss Ella Ferguson went to Moncton, Tuesday.

Miss Mamie Stevenson went to St. John on Tuesday to attend the exhibition.

Miss M. E. Powell went to St. John, Tuesday.

Mrs. Martin Flanagan is visiting friends in Moncton.

Miss Cynthia Barnett, who was visiting friends in town last week, returned to Harcourt Saturday.

Misses Maggie and Bessie Callendar, who have been spending some weeks with their parents in Kouchibouguac, left for Portland, Me., yesterday.

Mrs. Fred. P. Cail, of Reading, Mass., who has been visiting friends in Kent for some time, called on THE REVIEW last week.

Mrs. Daniel Ward, of Molus River, called on THE REVIEW yesterday.

Mr. Geo. F. Bissett, representing Messrs. Manchester, Robertson & Allison, was in town last week.

HAVE YOU TRIED

Our Mail Order Service? It places you in direct contact with the novelties, the best goods and the lowest prices. It is systematic, prompt, precise. Try it. It's convenient.

Our fancy dress materials are cutting so fast already that we have repeated many times. There is a line of two toned Boncle cloths which seems to sell on sight, cutting all the time. The beautiful effect for the price surprises everyone.

A diagonal tweed mixture in 8 shades that we are selling at 78c. a yd. (46 inches wide) makes as pretty a fall costume as anyone could wish. Just suits the large sleeves and high collars.

Ten patterns of new fancy blacks turn out beautifully in the piece the figures on them are dainty and the cloth will wear like a cashmere.

Write us for samples.

DANIEL & ROBERTSON, ST. JOHN, LONDON HOUSE RETAIL.

RAKINGS

—This is a week of cattle shows in Restigouche. Some fine animals are being exhibited.

—The Sumner Co. of Moncton has purchased the St. Lawrence Lumber Co.'s Bathurst mill for $29,000.

—A shark was recently captured at Havana and when opened two human legs and arms were found inside.

—The grain crop in Restigouche, which is magnificent, is being harvested in fine condition writes a correspondent.

—It is systematic, prompt, precise. Try it. It's convenient. This is true of a service Daniel & Robertson draw attention to in this issue.

—Safe crackers are operating throughout the province. We wish they would come and crack our safe and find some money in it. It's more than we can do.

—The Rev. J. W. Fowler has received a call from the Presbyterian congregation of Sherbrook, N. S. This is the second call which Mr. Fowler has lately received.

—The story that an Ohio woman who had been speechless for six years was cured by hypnotism is highly improbable. Who can believe that any woman was ever speechless for six years?

—Mr. Geo. Smith, inspector for counties of Westmorland and Kent, has removed his place of residence from Petiscodiac to Sackville. In future his address will be Sackville, N. B.

—Auctioneer James L. Hutchinson will conduct a sale of crop, agricultural machinery, furniture, etc., at the residence of Mrs. Hannah Spencer, Mill Branch on Thursday the third of October.

—The cheese factory which was established in Eel River, Restigouche last spring, was closed sometime ago after only being operated for a little over two months for want of a sufficient quantity of milk.

—Lobster packers on the south beach of P. E. Island are agitating for a change in the open season for fishing, making it extend from July 10th till Sept. 10th, instead of earlier in the year as has been the case heretofore.

—The oysters now in on our shore, Buctouche Bar, my Buctouche Bar. Li-tum-ti-tum ti as before, Buctouche Bar, my Buctouche Bar. Ri-tooral looral o'er and o'er, tra-la-la-la abundant store, hi-umpty bumpty send some more, Buctouche Bar, my Buctouche Bar.

—The following from the London Advertiser applies to a not inconsiderable class of people: "Too many people forget the space of a newspaper is its stock-in-trade. When a man requests a free advertisement he asks for a present of that which costs the newspaper proprietor money to provide."

—The Rev. J. M. MacLeod, M. A. late of Kensington, P. E. I. was inducted, by the Presbytery of Miramichi, into the pastoral charge of New Mills on Tuesday last. The large church was filled to its utmost capacity. The whole services were very impressive. The newly inducted pastor received a very cordial reception from his people at its close.

—While it has not yet been decided, it is probable that Harley Davidson will race Special Blend on Moosepath track, St. John, sometime during the exhibition. Mr. Davidson will be at the exhibition looking after the exhibit of the Brantford cycles, and in conversation with the secretary of the agricultural society, Mr. Davidson expressed his willingness to go up against any trotting horse in the vicinity for a mile.

—Mr. Mackelvie, agent of the Bible Society, is at present making his annual visits to the different branches in the county of Restigouche. His lectures have an additional interest this year by illustrations of great beauty of Bible scenes in the land of Palestine, and of various places of note where the society carry on their operations. The illustrations are impressive, instructive and very memorable. Mr. Mackelvie intends soon to visit the societies in the county of Kent. We would advise all who may find it convenient to attend his lectures, and see the fine illustrations which are given by a lantern of considerable power, and not have to regret, as many in Restigouche, that they did not avail themselves of seeing them.

—As mentioned in our last issue Mr. F. W. S. Colpitts, the popular representative of Mr. E. C. Cole, Moncton, has been admitted to a partnership by Mr. Cole in the clothing and men's furnishing business carried on by him. The business in future will be conducted under the firm name of E. C. Cole & Co. Mr. Cole has long been noted throughout the north shore as an up-to-date tailor, as the quality of his goods and the manner in which they are always made up invariably give satisfaction. The admission into the firm of Mr. Colpitts, who is an artist in his line, and withal a jolly good fellow, will have a tendency to enhance the popularity of the house, if indeed that is possible. Mr. Colpitts will soon start on his north shore trip, and expects to call on his friends in Kingston and Richibucto on or about the 30th October, with a full range of samples.

—Falling leaves. —Ninety-four in the shade Monday. —See our new ad. to-day. K. E. Forbes.

—Twelve inches of snow fell in Colorado on Saturday.

—David Cochrane brought a fine horse from the Island last week.

—Mr. K. B. Forbes' residence is receiving a new coat of paint. The work is being done by E. Pine and R. J. Flint.

—Strawberry blossoms are quite plentiful, and if the weather continues warm we may expect another crop of strawberries soon.

—J. N. Black, Bridgewater, Mass., THE REVIEW is mailed regularly to your address and if you do not receive it the fault does not lie with this office.

—We direct attention to Geo. E. McLeod's advertisement in this issue offering for sale his valuable mill property, etc., at Kouchibouguac and elsewhere.

—Richard Hebert, proprietor of the Kent Northern Hotel, Kingston, went to the Island last week to purchase another horse to replace the one that died last week.

—The entertainment given in the temperance hall on Tuesday night by Prof. Dayton was a good one and attracted a large crowd. The show was repeated Wednesday night.

—Rev. Sam Jones says the most beautiful sight in the world is to see a family gathered around a hearthstone, with the head of the household reading the local paper—paid in advance.

—The September Circuit Court opened here Tuesday, Judge Hanington presiding. The only two causes for trial were settled at the opening of Court. A number of jurors and witnesses were in attendance.

—Quite a number of Kingston folk left on Monday to attend the Charlottetown exhibition, among others were Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Miss Sinclair, of Miramichi, Mr. Martin Lanigan and Mr. Sam Girvan.

—Mr. Henry O'Leary has constructed a marine slip on the sawdust wharf and the steamers Alcione and Marion have been hauled up for the winter. The Marion is being enclosed in a shed to protect her from the weather.

—Messrs. A. & B. Loggie intend to push the fish business here and with that end in view are much enlarging their facilities. In addition to the large ice house recently erected at South Beach they have built a large storehouse, etc., at Big Cove, and are just finishing a large freezer and packing shed combined in Richibucto, size 40 x 85 feet. The Bell store has been removed to the rear of the Samuel building.

—The schooner British Eagle, Captain Kennedy, of Charlottetown, lumber laden, bound for Souris, grounded on the South Beach last Wednesday. She was got off and brought back to port by the tug Calluna on Saturday and now lies at Wark's wharf, a total wreck. She was owned by the captain and was uninsured. Mr. T. C. Burns loaded the vessel. The captain was endeavoring to leave port without a pilot.

—A St. Margarets correspondent writes that a pie social was recently held in the Black River school house for the purpose of raising funds to repair the school building. About two hundred dollars were realized. Quite a number attended from Chatham and St. Margarets. He also says that a number of men have gone to the woods to commence the season's lumber operations. They are employed by Messrs. Barchill & Sons.

Thomas Pearson, 70 years of age, of English Settlement, Kings county, dropped dead a few days ago.
