

K. & R. S. Convention.

The convention met according to appointment in the Methodist church at Buctouche at 2.30 p. m. Sept. 17th. Rev. F. W. Murray led the opening prayer service. Andrew Dunn, president, apologized for doing so little through the year and read an opening address.

The several committees were appointed and the work of parishes taken up. Some of the parish officers had not yet arrived, and this part was not as full as desired. This feature was taken up instructively by the field secretary. The principles of this parish work were made plain, and its certain home mission benefits brought out.

The annual session opened at 4.30, led by Mr. Robinson. A normal lesson was given by the field secretary. The need and benefit of such studies for teachers and young was made clear. In the absence of an appointed minister, the next subject of great interest to teachers was discussed by several of the most prominent members in a way helpful to all present.

Rev. F. W. Murray, county secretary, read the list of schools which had made offerings for this work, and heartily encouraged a cheerful response for the good work done through the country.

The field secretary in his address gleaned some facts growing out of the work, expounded important principles, and showed lines of need for the work in this country. The questions were taken up with the offerings and answered intelligently by the question committee.

The third session opened at 9.30 on Wednesday morning. Rev. E. Ramsay led the opening Bible reading, after which President Dunn exhorted to prayerful, devout purpose in the work of this day and called for the minutes of the previous session.

The credential committee's business-like report, was read by Mr. Robinson, and showed a good delegation. Another instructive normal lesson was given, of great interest to superintendents. The strong feature of the session was the consideration of county S. S. work, led by the report of the county secretary Rev. F. W. Murray, who has been a most excellent co-operative worker with the field secretary and moved the work forward.

Mr. Lucas asked some questions on certain items, and the answers brought out clearly the improvement in Sunday school work in this county. The people were grateful and a vote of thanks was accorded the secretary by the congregation rising.

Alex. Mundle had represented this county in the last provincial session and pledged it to raise a certain portion of the work. He now spoke of this and others followed. To-day saw the sum fully paid up.

The following officers were elected: President, H. A. West, Cocagne; secretary, Rev. F. W. Murray, Bass River, with a good list of parish vice-presidents and central executive.

Mr. Lucas asked the new officers to meet him in committee between this and the afternoon session. Other subjects were on the programme, but as time for adjournment had come they were left over for another session.

The new executive held at its first meeting from one to two o'clock, and took a review of their work. It was a practical committee meeting.

At 2 o'clock Alex. Mundle led the opening especially emphasizing a few Bible promises to cheer the workers. President Dunn, in a few choice words, induced the president elect, H. A. West, whose brief address asked all to unite earnestly in the great work to which they were called. After the minutes were read, Rev. E. R. Foote gave a paper on Teachers Teaching by their Personal Life. Others discussed in a few brief words.

Mrs. Olloqui read a short paper on The Opportunities of a Sunday School Teacher. Although this paper was short, it was very full and elicited bright discussion from others.

A normal lesson of encouragement to the Sunday School teacher was given. The questions were taken and answered by Mr. Lucas.

The fifth and last session was opened by devotions, led by Rev. W. R. Foote. President West took the chair and the minutes were read. The credential committee made its final report. Resolutions of thanks were presented to Rev. E. Ramsay and his trustees for the use of their comfortable church; to local committee and kind friends for entertainment; to the Richibucto Review for its frequent insertion of articles from county officers held to the work during the year, and to the united choirs.

Rev. Mr. Robinson from Kouchibouguac gave an address on Temperance Teaching in Sunday School. Mr. Lucas followed, giving information on what is really done on this line in some of the schools and how the association keeps it in view.

Rev. Mr. Ramsay spoke on the importance of a soul saving power in S. S. work. Rev. Mr. Hamilton being called away at an early session, Rev. F. W. Murray read his short paper on Spiritual Power.

A few parting counsels were given, the choir led in the hymn, God Be With You Till We Meet Again, and this best convention of Kent Co. was closed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Jack.

PASSENGERS ROBBED.

Money Stolen From Two Ladies While They Slept on the I. C. R. Train from Moncton to St. John.

(St. John Globe.)

Among the passengers in the Pullman car attached to the mixed accommodation and freight train which arrived in this city at twelve o'clock Friday night was a party of six ladies en route to Boston. They had bought their Pullman tickets at Moncton and had immediately entered the car there. The train stops at St. John but the Pullman passengers are allowed the privilege of sleeping in their berths until morning. The car, soon after its arrival here, is backed out of the station and remains over night in the yard. The car on Friday night was in charge of Conductor A. L. Walker and a colored porter. There were quite a number of passengers in the car and the berths were nearly all occupied. The party of six ladies who were travelling together were Mrs. Little and her daughter and niece, the Misses Dickinson, Mrs. McNair, her step daughter, Miss McNair, and her niece Miss Gifford. They are all related to each other. Miss Gifford and the Misses Dickinson were formerly Moncton ladies, but now belong to Boston. They have been spending the summer in their old home. The older ladies were accompanying them to Boston on a visit. Shortly after the train left Moncton on Friday they all retired for the night. They occupied berths together. One of the young ladies left her coat containing her purse hanging over the side of the berth. The satchels and small valises belonging to the party were on a shelf at the bottom of the berth. The party slept quite soundly and woke about five o'clock this morning. Miss Gifford opened her satchel to procure some article, when she noticed that it looked deranged. She picked up her purse which was in her satchel, and noticed a gold piece sticking half-way from the corner. That alarmed her, as she knew she had left the coin securely fastened between two bills. Upon looking in her purse she discovered that her money to the extent of $52 had been taken. It was in five five-dollar bills, two tens, and the remaining seven in odd notes. Her friend, Miss Dickinson, who also kept her purse in the satchel, discovered that she had been robbed of two dollars. The coat that was hanging near the side of the berth had been ransacked and six dollars taken. Mrs. McNair's satchel containing her money was lying beside Miss Gifford's but strange to say had not been touched. Their jewelry and watches, which were hanging near the satchels, were also untouched. Miss Gifford immediately told the conductor and porter of the loss, and they instantly instituted a search. The conductor curiously enough did not lock the car door and examine the passengers. When officer Stevens heard of the robbery he hastened to the car, but not a soul was in it except the ladies. Four of them continued on their way to Boston this morning, but Miss Gifford and Miss McNair remained over to try and recover their property. The police were immediately notified and Capt. Jenkins and Detective Ring visited the scene of the theft. Miss Gifford naturally feels indignant at the action of the conductor, and she asserts that neither he nor the porter made any determined efforts to investigate. The gold coin in Miss Gifford's purse had evidently escaped the eyes of the thief or it would have gone with the rest. The porter, when he was told the story, said that everyone was in the car with the exception of one man who was gone.

Miss Gifford is a niece of Baggage Master Gifford of the Moncton station. She states that the officers of the train seemed to be enjoying themselves and revelled till quite late in the train.

[All the ladies mentioned in the above belong to Kent County. The porter, who was arrested on suspicion, confessed to having committed the robbery and said he sent the money to a friend in Halifax. The ladies who had remained behind left for Boston on Tuesday, having in their possession all the money they lost. The railroad officials paid all their expenses.]

McLean Settlement Notes.
SEPT. 17.—Farmers are boasting of good crops this year.

McLean Brothers are industriously working with their threshing machine.

Misses Augusta and Jessie McDonald, of Boston, who have been visiting their many friends here, have left for Moncton where they will remain with their sister (Mrs. Rushton) for a short time before returning to the States.

Mr. and Mrs. L. McLean have been away visiting Mr. J. McLean, of Galloway.

We are pleased to have Mrs. Murdock and family of Halifax, with us once again.

Miss Flora McLean spent Sunday at home.

We are always glad to have our old teacher, Miss Price, visit us.

A very pleasant time was spent last week on the premises of one of our jolly fellows in which McLaughlin Road, Pine Ridge and Coatesville shared in tripping the light fantastic toe until the wee sma' hours of the morning. Music was voluntarily given by Professor Girouard. All went home thoroughly satisfied with the night's pleasure. Among those present were, Misses Augusta and Jessie McDonald, Miss Edith Price, Miss Murdock, Miss E. Cail, Misses Flora, Maud, and Sadie McLean, Miss Grigg and Misses Coates, Messrs. McLean, McPherson, Girouard, Coates, Sherwood and Murdock.

Mr. Angus Reid, of Peabody, Mass., is expected soon amongst us.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are still guests at Mr. H. McLean's.

We Pass This Way But Once.

We have not passed this way before, And we shall not pass again; Make the most of time, the most of life, And mind not the mingled pain.

If the path is bright and flower-strewn, Take in all the fragrance sweet; Thank God for the joy that comes to you In paths marked out for your feet.

If round the hearth an unbroken band Make up the circle of home, Oh, love them to-day and love them well, Ere the angel of death shall come.

You will not pass this way again; Be sure that you pass not by The old and tired, the sick and weak, And those not ready to die.

Look out for flowers along the way, And heed not the stinging thorn; There are stars above the darkest night, And sure is the coming morn.

And if the gathering storm is heard, And the waves beat wild and high, Look up for help to the far-off hills, And watch for the rifted sky.

Look up through tears, for on beyond Is the gleaming, golden shore; We can bravely bear a little while, For we pass this way no more.

Buctouche Notes.

SEPT. 20.—Times seem to be quite brisk here just now, quite a lot of building going on. Mrs. A. P. Cormier has a snug little building about completed and Mr. Richard is putting up a nice building on the old Burk stand. Mr. A. Cormier is erecting a large building. He is enclosing his liquor shop with the new one.

There is the usual amount of comers and goers. The Convention held here this week was well attended. The old fellow had a hard show of it. Rev. Mr. Robinson collared him and floored him, but through some misunderstanding he was helped to his feet and is still at large. The meeting ended by a vote of thanks to THE REVIEW moved by Mr. Robinson for its kindness in printing the notices of the meeting.

There is the usual amount of shipping going on. Mr. Irving's ship has been quite well patronized, it is a great convenience to the vessel owners.

The men who had their clothes turned inside out in the Hall believe in witchcraft now.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Review.

John B. Goggin M. P. P., is flying around making frantic efforts to secure a place on the government ticket. I understand that the influential portion of the government party doesn't want to have anything to do with that gentleman. The electors of Kent have no use for Mr. Goggin, and if he exhibits nerve enough to offer again they will let him see just what they think of him.

Agonizing, Transfixing Pain.

The most excruciating pain known is perhaps caused by Agina Pectoris which is most to be dreaded of any disease of the heart. It distinguishes itself especially by pain, and by pain which is best described as agonizing. The pain literally transfixes the patient, generally radiating from the heart to the left shoulder and down the arm. The face shows the picture of terror, and is either deadly white or livid. To a person suffering from this species of heart trouble or from palpitation or fluttering of the heart, shortness of the breath or smothering spells, the value of Dr. Agnew's Care for the heart cannot be estimated, as it will give relief in 30 minutes in every case, and if judiciously used, effect a cure. Dr. Agnew's Care for the Heart is the greatest life saving remedy of the age. Sold by W. W. Short.

WAS A PATIENT

In St. Joseph's Hospital, Hamilton, Ont.

THE DOCTORS SAID A SURGICAL OPERATION WAS NECESSARY TO EFFECT A CURE.

She Uses Paine's Celery Compound and is cured.

Another wonderful, almost miraculous, cure to report. As usual, the afflicted one is saved by the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. Annie Saunders, the cured lady lives in Bramdale, a pleasant suburb of Toronto. Her sufferings from a trouble common to many women, were terrible, and the wonder is that she now lives. To her, medical and hospital treatment proved of no avail. At a critical juncture, the doctors deemed an operation imperative.

Mrs. Saunders would not sanction the proposed operation; she decided to try a medicine that had cured thousands; she had faith in its wondrous powers to make her a new woman. Paine's Celery Compound was her chosen agent; she used it and thank Providence for the happy change effected. She writes as follows regarding her cure:

It is with much pleasure that I testify to the value of your wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. I was a great sufferer from severe attacks of neuralgia in the left ovary. At times the attacks were so acute that I thought I would lose my reason.

Several doctors treated me, and I was a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Hamilton. I obtained no relief from medical treatment. The doctors said unless I had the ovary taken away I could not be cured.

Instead of submitting to the operation, I used Paine's Celery Compound, and I am thankful your valuable medicine cured me. I feel like a new woman, and I would like all sufferers to know just what this great medicine has done for me.

Swedish Politeness.

A Stockholm correspondent says: Old men, workmen, porters, meet in the street and lift their hats in kindly recognition, with the grace of a courtesier. Time and again when we have asked the way in a certain street, we have been escorted part of the way, and clear directions given, and then an informal shake of the hand as parting, as if a favor had been shown him. The etiquette of the city is punctuated in American, and carried to a high extreme. So we have to be very careful of our acquaintances.
