WESTMORLAND STANDS FIRM. The triumphant election of Mr. H. A. Powell, Q. C., on Saturday last by a majority of nearly 800 over Mr. A. E. Killam, affords a splendid vindication of the Ottawa government. It entirely sustains the prediction of THE REVIEW, that the ministerial candidate would be elected, though by a less majority than that of Mr. Wood over Mr. George in 1891. On that occasion the ministerial majority was so great, so far beyond the average of the party's majority in the country, as to afford no criterion for an estimate of the relative strength of the government and opposition forces.

Never was a more energetic and determined effort made to capture a seat from the government than on this occasion. The opposition boasted that their party organization was complete, and they had most carefully looked after the lists at the time of the revision. On both these points they were probably better prepared than was the government party. Even the fact of the election being called at short notice was turned to opposition account by some electors being made to think that the government sought to snatch a seat when the people were unprepared. A host of liberal orators and campaigners was poured into the county and poured forth torrents of rhetoric from every platform in the county, afternoon and evening, during the days that intervened between the issue of the writ and the time of polling. These auxiliary forces came from the east, west, north and south, and included some of the most effective speakers of the party. At least four provinces were represented, among their number, Mr. Davies, from P. E. Island, Mr. Fielding, Mr. Fraser and Mr. Macdonald, from Nova Scotia, Messrs. Tarte and Choquette from Quebec, being imported to assist the various Liberal speakers from New Brunswick. The latter included Messrs. Killam, Hawke, Robinson, Grant and others from Moncton, Emmerson, of Dorchester, Copp, of Sackville, Dickson, of Albert, McKeown, McAlpine, Carleton, Trueman and McIntyre, from St. John, and many others from various parts. In fact, the county was literally overrun with opposition speakers who poured out statistics by the acre and rhetoric enough to fill the space between Heaven and earth. These declaimers, by sheer force of numbers and the noise they made managed to raise their own and their party's hopes till not a few of them became believers in the election of Killam!

It was all in vain. They were met with calm confidence, with great ability though with vastly unequal numbers on the platform. Mr. Powell proved a host in himself. Senators Wood and Ferguson with Mr. McInerney, M. P., and a number of local speakers well sustained the government side in the controversy. The shallow sophistries and contradictory canvasses of the opposition were met and exposed. Among the latter were the appeals made in the Protestant sections to vote against the government because the government had gone too far in the matter of remedial legislation, while Messrs. Tarte and Choquette were making frantic appeals to the French-speaking electors because they alleged the government had betrayed the cause of the Catholic minority of Manitoba.

The intelligent electors of Westmorland took a deep interest in the contest. They attended the political meetings in hundreds and sometimes in thousands. They listened to the arguments pro and con, and by a very handsome majority they gave their verdict for Mr. Powell and the government. That majority is large enough for three or four victories. It is the largest but one in the political history of Westmorland since confederation, and is nearly twice as great as the majority of Mr. Wood over Sir Albert Smith in 1882. Thus after thirteen years in which the Conservative party has held the seat, after the loss of such great leaders as Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson; with new and perplexing questions to be grappled with, and in a season of commercial depression such as is always trying to a government, the old party is able to command a doubled majority in the fine county of Westmorland. The result cannot but be cheering to every supporter of the ministry and of the ministerial policy. It must be even more depressing to the opposition. There are not even the elements of a "moral victory" in it. It is a demoralising rout.

It is a feature of the Conservative history that the party has called so many clever young men to the front in all the provinces. In our own province Messrs. Foster, Weldon, McInerney, Hazen and Baird are all of more than average ability and prominence in parliament and the quintette of able and comparatively young debaters is now re-inforced by Mr. Powell who will speedily take a front seat in the commons.

The Albert Star, published at Hillsboro is now ably conducted by Mr. Hammill Prescott, who after long service in the Liberal ranks in Westmorland now joins the Conservative party as a recruit. He is making it very lively for his old-time associates along the Petitcodiac River.

Mr. H. T. Stevens formerly of the Moncton Times and who once did strong party service went over to Mr. Killam in the late contest, in time to share in the defeat of his new allies. A man with a grievance can seldom turn the world upside down.

A point made in favor of Mr. Killam in the Westmorland canvass was that at the local election of 1892 he had polled more votes than Mr. Powell. In fact he has been a great man to get votes, and there can therefore be no doubt that in the contest of Saturday last he polled the full party strength.

Mr. Killam is supposed to have resigned his seat in the local legislature on accepting a nomination for the commons. We shall soon see whether he is resigned to his fate as decreed by the electorate of Westmorland. Rumor has it that he wants to get back to his local seat.

Mr. Powell will be a strong acquisition to the debating strength of his party in the commons. He is a fluent and forceful speaker, and well-informed upon public questions. He has always been a consistent party man and has the courage of his convictions.

The Westmorland election was a Killamity to the followers of Mr. Laurier.

The Transcript says Mr. Powell's majority is "only" 758!

AUG. 22.—Mr. Coates has been putting his water mill in thorough repair and now has one of the best in the Co. Mrs. Edward Coates is visiting her son Adam Coates, Esq., of Buctouche. The crops are going to be good in these parts and times are looking up. Large quantities of bark is being brought out to the river to be shipped for J. D. Irving, of Buctouche, who does a big business in this line every season. Mr. Charles McLean, of Lincoln, U. S., is home on important business, to secure a suitable partner for life, so report says. Mrs. Thos. Coates and daughter Miss Kathleen, have returned from an extended trip to Richmond, Ontario. We notice a fine Jersey heifer in Mr. Thomas Johnson's pasture. No doubt he intends going into thorough bred stock raising.

Father Richard's Silver Jubilee.

The Moniteur Acadian publishes a long description of the ovation given to Father Richard on the occasion of his Silver Jubilee Celebration. On the 14th a grand picnic took place and in the evening a very enjoyable concert was given by amateurs from Richibucto and Campbellton. The fireworks exhibition was grand. The address of Rev. Father Blanche, founder and superior of St. Anne College, N. S., was learned and eloquent, and delighted the audience. Father Richard's short eulogium was much appreciated. On Thursday, 15th, a solemn mass chanted by Father Richard, assisted by Father Hebert as deacon and Father Cormier as subdeacon, inaugurated the Acadian's national feast. The vestments used were presented to Father Richard by friends from Paris, France, a most beautiful set they are. Father S. Doucet, of Shippegan, delivered a very able and learned discourse.

After dinner the multitude surrounded the presbytery where addresses and discussions were to be delivered. The first address was read by Basile J. Johnson, Esq., of St. Louis, in the name of parishes served by Father Richard during his 25 years pastorate. Mr. Johnson is evidently a clever young man, judging by the efficient manner in which he acquitted himself of the task. The second address, in English, was read by Arthur O'Leary, son of Henry O'Leary, Esq., of Richibucto, in the name of the English speaking parishes served by Father Richard. Father Richard has reason to feel pleased that his liberal and truly christian pastorate is appreciated not only by his own countrymen but by all others who had been the object of his pastoral solicitude. The third address was read by Senator Poirier, of Shediac, in the name of Acadia and though short, it is a valuable document.

The fourth address was read by Mr. Comeau, of St. Louis, in the name of former students of St. Louis College. It is a beautiful and delicate piece of composition and was well delivered. After these addresses Father Richard spoke first in French and afterwards in English. He handles the English language with as much ease and facility as he does his mother tongue. Whoever heard his remarks and listened to his able eloquence and patriotic address must have been convinced that in him the church to which he belongs and the country which has the honor of claiming him as his child, has a most worthy minister, and a most devoted patriot. His reply both in French and English delighted the audience.

Father Belliveau, of Barachois, came next to the front and made one of his best discourses.

George V. McInerney, Esq., M. P. for Kent delighted the audience by his honest, eloquent and manly observations.

Senator Poirier, who had presented the address, said but few words but to the point. He was applauded.

Michael Adams made a few observations which pleased the audience and he was cheered by the audience.

Father Comeau, of Madawaska, also addressed the institute and his remarks were much appreciated.

Rev. Father Blanche offered to Father Richard in his own name and that of old France, his felicitations and good wishes. Three cheers were then given in honour of the day and the crowd dispersed after having enjoyed a most agreeable time. It was the most orderly and agreeable gathering and celebration that the writer has ever witnessed and it reflects credit on the pastor of Rogerville and his good and devoted people.

The purse presented to Father Richard on the occasion of his silver jubilee is said to have exceeded $1000 in cash, besides several valuable presents. These were two subscriptions of $50 each, two of $50, one of forty, two of twenty, and several of ten and five. The sum of $1100 was collected on the grounds on the 14th and 15th.

AN ANECDOTE OF SEASHORE LIFE.

Some people find it great fun to wallow in the sand after a sea bath and be covered up to the tips of their noses. It seems to me like an excellent method of catching cold, but worse than that happened to a young girl with whom I am acquainted. She had come dripping from the sea, and kind friends hollowed out a trench in the sand, and after she lay down in it she was covered up until only her face was in sight. Then her friends went back to wrestle with old Neptune, and she reclined in a delicious dreamy state. She dozed off for a few minutes and was aroused by a severe slap on the face. She screamed out, and as she did so she was dragged to a sitting position by her hair, and a woman's voice shouted: "I've caught you, have I? Oh, you husky! This is what you call goin' to Mrs. Mullins' and helpin' her with the baby, is it?" A coarse-faced vixenish-looking woman was shaking her by the collar, but as the young girl pushed her assailant away the latter dropped her hands and her jaw, while a look of mortification swept over her face as she exclaimed: "Why, it ain't Linda, after all! Well, for the Lord's sake!" Then away she flew down the beach and was out of sight "in no time."—Philadelphia Times.
