BROWN CAKE.—One-half cup sugar; one cup molasses; one-half cup butter; one teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves and allspice; two teaspoons of soda in one cup of boiling water; two and one-half cups of flour; two well beaten eggs, the last thing. Bake in layers and put together with white icing very thick between the layers.

CORN FRITTERS.—One pint of grated corn; one half cup milk; two eggs; one-half cup flour; one teaspoon baking powder; one-half teaspoon of salt; fry in boiling lard.

PUMPKIN PIE.—Pare and cut up a pumpkin; stew till if pressed with a spoon it will mash fine; then drain off all the water, and press through a sieve. For each pie use one cup of pumpkin; one egg; one-half cup of sugar; one-half teaspoon each of ginger, allspice, cinnamon and a pinch of salt; one-third of a quart of milk. Make the pie crust of three cups of flour; one teaspoon of salt; one cup of lard; enough cold water to make the dough hold together. This makes crust for three pies.

FILLING FOR MEAT.—To make filling for meat a good way is to get a stale loaf of bread, cut in slices and steam; it will not get too moist in that way, as it often does by pouring water over it.

CHICKEN PIE.—Cut a fat hen up and stew till you can pick the meat from the bones with a fork, remove the chicken, make a rich gravy in the pot. (Have a crust in the pan made of one pint of flour; one-half teaspoon of salt; one teaspoon of baking powder; two good table-spoons of lard; water to form a dough.) Fill the pie with a layer of chicken; a layer of sliced hard-boiled eggs, till all is in (usually four eggs to a chicken) then pour the gravy over; cover with a top crust and bake to a nice brown. Veal pie made in the same way is very fine, or if your chicken is not large, use veal with it; stew them together, and few can tell that it is not all chicken.

ENGLISH STEW.—One and one-half pounds of lean beef; one pound of pork chops; cover with boiling water and boil slowly for one hour; have one quart of potatoes cut in small dice; two onions cut fine; add this to the stew, also salt and pepper, and cook one-half hour; if the water boils away, add more to keep the meat covered. Make a drop dumpling of one cup sour milk; a little salt; one-half teaspoon of soda and flour to make a very stiff batter; drop in small spoonfuls over the stew; cover closely for 15 minutes while boiling fast, and serve hot.

BREAST OF VEAL STUFFED.—Select a breast of veal weighing about three and one-half pounds; have the butcher make a pocket from one end neatly to the other; if he is careful he will not break the skin at either side, so there will be no danger of the filling coming out. Wash the meat; season with salt and pepper; make a filling of one quart of steamed bread crumbs; one slice of bacon cut in tiny bits; one egg; one teaspoon of powdered sage; one small onion chopped fine; one-half teaspoon of salt; a good sprinkle of pepper; mix thoroughly; stuff the pocket not too full, so as to leave room to swell; fasten the pocket with a wooden skewer; pour one-half pint of boiling water over it and roast for two hours; use a roaster if you have one, if not cover a pan over the meat.

OYSTER PIE.—Four cups of flour; one heaping teaspoon of baking powder; one teaspoon of salt; one teaspoon of lard; make as for biscuits; roll out a little thicker than for fruit pies; line a bake pan; put in a layer of oysters, pepper, salt and small lumps of butter; sprinkle well with cracker crumbs; then another layer of oysters, seasoning and crumbs; pour in a large cupful of the oyster liquid if you have it, if not use milk instead; cover with a top crust and bake in a quick oven.

Most Excellent.

Rev. J. W. Leggett, Brookline, Ont., writes: "After giving the K. D. C. a fair trial, I am satisfied it is the best remedy for dyspepsia ever brought within my reach. I have found in it all that is claimed in its behalf, and have much pleasure in recommending it as a most excellent remedy."

To Drive Away Aunts.

If you get some green peppermint which usually grows by the brookside, and lay it on the floor and shelves of your pantry and kitchen you will find that the ants disappear immediately.

Apply powdered sulphur very liberally to the parts most frequented by them and they will turn their feet in some other direction; or sprinkle sugar on a damp sponge, and when the heat is under way drop the sponge in hot water.

Put pieces of camphor gum or cloth wet with camphor on the pantry shelves and the ants will disappear.

Use plenty of powdered borax in the pantry.—Philadelphia Times.

GENERAL NEWS.

Great Britain has about 1,300,000 cyclists, and a capital of £75,000,000 is invested in the production of bicycles and tricycles. The factories in which the machines are made give daily employment to 43,000 men.

The Governor of the Punjab, in India, has ordered that half the prisoners in the jails there be kept on fresh water and half on boiled, records being kept to see whether the boiled water has any effect in the way of preventing ordinary sickness.—New York Medical Record.

Bangor, Me., has lately been invaded by an army of skunks, and the unpleasant visitors are so numerous, and naturally, so objectionable, that the residents are at a loss what to do. The State authorities have been asked for advice and assistance in getting rid of the animals, though just what the State can do is not very clear.

The bill to legalize marriage with a deceased wife's sister in England lost its most devoted champion in the recent death of the Marquis of Waterford. At one time he got it passed through the second reading form in the House of Lords, but greatly to everyone's amazement, the then Duke of Marlborough (grandfather of the present Duke) fought against its final passage and succeeded in beating it.

A large coal area, twelve miles long by six broad, has been discovered on the new line of railway to the west coast of Newfoundland. The geological surveyor estimates that one seam alone, which is four feet wide, contains 11,000,000 tons of excellent canal coal. Six other seams have not yet been traced. The discovery has caused great rejoicing, as it immensely enhances the value of the railway and brightens the prospects of the colony.

The earthquake that recently shook the country from the Gulf to the great lakes is held accountable for a phenomenon near Fowler, Clinton county, Mich. At one time there was a little creek near the village, known as stony creek, but for several years it had been entirely dry. On the day of the earthquake water rose at various places along the creek, and there is now a considerable stream running. No rain fell in that section to account for the water.

THE MCCARTHY CASE.

Another Dispatch Confirming This Remarkable Remedy.

Had Bright's Disease—Was Given up to Die—Got Well—Calls Dodd's Kidney Pills His Doctor's Stays Cured.

Special to The Review.

OTTAWA, Dec. 5.—A despatch from Richmond reached the Citizen and Free Press here and copied by both of them was the first news, to a wide circle of interested friends, of the recovery of Mr. J. McCarthy, harness-maker, of that place, from a hopeless condition of Bright's disease. His friends had expected to hear of his death at any time.

Inquiry direct with Richmond confirmed the fact that his shop was open and that the late patient was hard at work.

"Is it true that he owes his life to Dodd's Kidney Pills?" was asked. "Yes. He gives that remedy all credit, for he had quit the doctors and took no other medicine," was the answer.

"Mr. McCarthy had been running down for some time from Bright's disease and deciding, after hearing of another remarkable cure in the same vicinity, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"He was not disappointed, and after a few weeks reopened his shop."

Such were the replies confirmatory of the original dispatch concerning this remarkable cure.

It seems only necessary for any person despairing of life to let go all other remedies and use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Out of over a million boxes sold there has never been a complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills has disappointed expectations.

Mr. McCarthy calls these pills his doctor, and so they are; and are used at present in a million homes in Canada.

Effect of Eriquit on Lobsters.

Lobsters are not warlike creatures. They do not mind boiling, but have an extraordinary terror of the smell of powder and the sound of big guns. Such, at least, was the statement made last night at the weekly meeting of the Piscatorial Society in the Holborn Restaurant. It was affirmed by one of the speakers that during big-gun practice by coast artillery lobsters in the neighborhood become so terrified that their claws drop off from sheer fright. Other kinds of fish, more alert in their movements, also become alarmed at the sound of big guns and leave the locality of the range in millions to take refuge in the deep sea.—London Telegram.

Farm for Sale!

That valuable farm at Bass River, Kent Co., known as the Robert Brown farm, is offered for sale or rent.

The farm contains about 186 acres of the best land in the County, over 100 acres of which are cleared and under a high state of cultivation.

There is a large first-class, two-story dwelling house, two large barns, one stage house, grainery and stable combined, and other outbuildings. It is situated in the most thriving and popular part of Kent County, within two minutes walk of the post-office, where a daily mail is received, and quite close to the superior school and within half a mile of Mr. E. Walker's lumber and grist mill.

For further information and particulars address the undersigned at above-mentioned location. JAMES BROWN.
