"Well, then, I'm Yours."

They stood in the moonlight, under a large, spreading elm. The elm stood near a corner, and its broad branches completely hid the window of a second-story room in the corner house. The weather was exceedingly warm, and the windows were all open. The moon was up, and it was a beautiful, balmy, hundred-and-ten-in-the-shade sort of an evening. They came along on the sidewalk and stopped under the large elm tree. It was very late, and the porches in the neighborhood were all deserted. They stood under the elm tree and leaned up against the fence. They were talking very earnestly. The youth was speaking of the way that the whole world would be a blank to him without her beside him, and how glorious would be everything if she would only consent to become his wife.

"George," said she, tenderly, "George, will you allers love me in this way? Won't you ever git sick of me and go to lovin' somebody else?"

"No, Mary, I won't never love nobody else but you."

"Well, then I'm yours!" she exclaimed, and there was a noise of a five-cent cracker as they fell into each other's arms. Pretty soon she straightened up and stood a few feet away from him, eyeing him intently. Then she said: "George, are you sure you'll allers love me?"

George protested that he always would. "Well, then I'm yours!" said the maiden, and there was another embrace. After a moment she backed away and said, "George, there's lots purtier'n I be, and don't you think that some day you'll love somebody mor'n you do me?"

George protested vehemently that he never would.

"Well, then I'm yours!" she said, emphatically, and there was another tableau. Pretty soon she stepped back and said, "George, I don't s'pose I'll allers be as purty as I be now. When I get old, there'll be wrinkles on my forehead, George, and may be I'll look real ugly. Do you s'pose that you'll love me then just the same, George?"

His solemn protestations were renewed.

"Well, then I'm yours!" said the maiden then followed another explosion, followed by a grizzly-bear embrace. In a moment she was struck with another thought. Her soul was harrassed with an other doubt. "George," said she, "when I get old, I s'pect I'll look awful. There'll be wrinkles in my fore'd an' maybe I won't have no hair, an' I'll have ter wear store hair, George, an' switches. Do you think you will love me then, George?"

George answered that he would.

"Well, then I'm yours!" she said with determination, and there was another loud osculation, and a tableau with blue lights. In a moment she said: "George, I—I don't know, but may be when I get old, I may lose my teeth. And I think I'll be very horrid, George. Just only think There'll be wrinkles on my fore'd, and I won't have no teeth, and I'll have ter wear store hair, an' false teeth, and—and—" "What's the matter with a glass eye, and a wooden leg?" observed a bad, wicked reporter, sitting at an upper window, by way of assisting the fair damsel.

Then there was a tableau: A stifled scream, some profanity in a bass voice and two persons moving down the street in a way that would have bankrupted a camel race.

"The Common People,"

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's PILLS are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache. 25c.

How to Avoid Grippe.

Prepare your system to resist the ravages of grippe.

This is the grippe's harvest season, and it's no respecter of persons.

If your system is run down you are a good mark for the disease.

Better to make some preparation for giving it a warm reception and turning it to the right about.

Almost any neighbour will tell you that to build up the system, purify the blood, ensure perfect digestion and give new vigor to the nerves there is no more effective remedy than Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic. Having by its agency recovered your full strength and vigor, the grippe is no longer an enemy to be feared. To all who feel the need of a strengthening and invigorating tonic this great remedy comes as a steadfast friend. It makes the sick well, the weak strong. Thousands testify to its merits. Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50cts. per bottle or six bottles for $2.50, and is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co., (Ltd.), St. John, N. B., and New York City.

Yellow Oil used internally and externally cures asthma, croup, coughs, sore throat, bronchitis and similar complaints. Externally it cures rheumatism, lumbago, sprains, bruises, cuts, chilblains, frost bites, and sprains and aches of every kind.

Kidney Talk.

Why is a person ever seriously ill?

Impure blood, nearly every time.

What is pure blood?

It is the vital fluid which, in passing through the kidneys, as it must do many times every hour, carries with it no impurity—perfectly filtered.

Will the kidneys always do this?

Yes, if they are not weak, or overworked, or injured by accident, or congested and inflamed by cold.

So long as the kidneys are in good health, so long will you be quite well and healthy.

What happens when the kidneys are out of order?

Why any form of illness may happen. You can never know where or how it may end.

In case the warnings called symptoms are ignored and the tissues of the kidneys break down, the doctors will tell you that it is diabetes and incurable, or Bright's disease and a hopeless case.

But after that?

Well, watch this paper and you can read of many great cures of these so called incurable diseases by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

But greater cures, we think, are the simple ones, the cures of the small beginnings, where the misery and harm to the constitution is escaped.

What a happy thing cure is!

How endlessly people will talk of their case!

With what smiles and enjoyment!

Some of our grateful patients never come to the city without calling to talk over their cures.

A man by the name of Joshua Clarkson, living at 114 Robert street, this city, came in the other day.

He had saved his life by using two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

What was the disease?

Diabetes.

Yes; he had lost thirty-one pounds in weight in five weeks.

It took him seven weeks to regain his health and his avoirdupois.

No one could hear him talk and not take courage, be he ever so sick.

A full account of this case will appear in this paper.

Then, not long ago Samuel Murray came in, looking well, too. He it was who was paralyzed for a whole year, given up by ever so many doctors and was cured by twelve boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

A reporter of a city paper saw him.

Seemed to think it impossible that a man could recover from such an illness.

There was no miracle about it. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hundreds of people are talking to each other about cures accomplished by this medicine, and these pills are selling everywhere.

And they always cure.

In Spring and Fall.

GENTS.—I have taken Burdock Blood Bitters every spring and fall as a blood purifier for several years and find it does great good, building up my system and making me feel like a new man. My wife also has taken it for nervous debility and weakness, receiving great benefit when doctors' medicine seem to do no good.

We Have Found

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia, and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, &c., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for urgent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.
