

A Mother's Beautiful Child

Dragged Nearly to Death's Door by Severe Nervous Disease—Suffered Extreme Pain in the Head—Doctors Could Do Nothing—South American Nervine Called in at the Eleventh Hour and Restores to Health Little Annie Joy, of West Toronto Junction—The Great Remedy is Reducing the Death Rate of All Canadian Cities.

MISS ANNIE JOY, WEST TORONTO JUNCTION.

A bright little lad, or golden-haired girl, is the delight of your home. Whether you revel in riches, or know something of the privations of poverty, that child is all the world to you. It is no wonder that mother and father become anxious when sickness overtakes the little one.

The remedy, fathers and mothers, is near by. South American Nervine has been the means of giving back the bloom of youth to thousands of suffering little ones. It is not a medicine that buoys up the parents' hopes, only to have them in a short time dashed down again lower than ever. Whether with child or adult, it promptly gets at the seat of all disease, which is the nerve centres. From this fact it is peculiarly efficacious in the treatment of nervous diseases of man, woman or child.

A recent case is that as told by Mrs. M. A. Joy, of West Toronto Junction, whose little daughter Annie, aged 15 years, had been a sufferer from severe nervous depression for about two years. As with all mothers, no trouble and expense was spared in the effort to bring relief to the child. The little one suffered extreme pains in the head, so distressing at times as to render her completely helpless, sapping all her strength. The best skill of the most skilled physicians was called into request, but little Annie steadily grew worse. Becoming more hopeless and discouraged as the weeks went by, Mrs. Joy decided on trying South American Nervine as almost a last resort. Employing her own words she said: "I determined to give it a trial, although I felt it was useless."

To-day it is all happiness around that home, for before one bottle of the medicine had been taken, the mother tells us Annie commenced to show decided signs of improvement. The child has taken three bottles and has practically regained her natural health and vigor. There is nothing surprising in the fact that Mrs. Joy cannot speak too highly of South American Nervine.

Much was at stake, but this wonderful discovery proved equal to the emergency, and so it does in every case. Thousands of letters on file from well-known citizens prove this. For nervous diseases of young or old, from whatever cause, it is an absolutely infallible cure.

The Canadian Live Stock and Farm Journal for March has come to hand. As usual, it contains much that is interesting on various topics in connection with farming. The first page is embellished with an illustration of a fine specimen of a Thoroughbred horse belonging to Mr. John Haig, Hoard's Station, Ont.; and the following are a few of the many articles of interest:—"The care of lambs"; "Foot rot in sheep"; "Succession of pastures"; "Growing of spring wheat"; "Sowing of spring grain"; "Gooseberries for profit"; "Beckkeeping on the farm"; "Poultry raising," etc.

George J. Gould made a statement at New York on Wednesday after the Count and Countess de Castellane sailed: "I wish to deny," he said, "the published report of the marriage settlement made upon the Count de Castellane. He asked for none and none was made. The reports are absolutely untrue as regards the $2,000,000. The Count de Castellane has money in his own right. His income is more than sufficient for all his wants and desires. My sister loves the count, is loved in return, and there was no pecuniary interest in their nuptials."

That Monster Polygot Petition.

The miles on miles of written names, and addresses appended to the text of the petition have been mounted on white muslin by Mrs. Rebecca C. Shuman, of the Evanston (Ill.) Women's Christian Temperance Union. The magnitude of the task which Mrs. Shuman has undertaken may be imagined from the fact that the aggregate of time she has already spent at it amounts to about two years of steady work. The labor of sending out the blank petitions for signatures was attended to by the late Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge of Chicago, and that of gathering them in after they were signed has fallen to Miss Alice E. Briggs, at the Woman's Temple, Chicago. From her the documents, of all sorts, lengths, and languages, are turned over to Mrs. Shuman in quantities that might be most adequately measured in bushels. Next they must be sorted, trimmed, and prepared for mounting as compactly as possible on interminable webs of white muslin, one half yard in width, one edge of which is bound with red and the other with blue tape. The names are necessarily mounted somewhat irregularly, but they average four columns abreast, making, in reality, a quadruple petition, with about 100 names to the yard in each column. Mrs. Shuman has now mounted 1925 yards, or over one mile of canvas—making five miles of names written solidly one under the other—771,200 in all. This is exclusive of about 350,000 names that came from Great Britain, already mounted making the total of 1,121,200 actual names on the document that will be submitted to President Cleveland. Besides these, there are hundreds of thousands of names yet waiting to be added to the long roll. Nor will Miss Willard, it is said, ever rest, until she has 2,000,000 actual names, besides the present 5,000,000 additional signers by attestation. It must be remembered that the signatures to this petition are of three kinds: First, the names of women, second the written indorsements of men; third, the attestation of officers of societies which have endorsed the petition, by resolution or otherwise. The document has been circulated in fifty nations, and in three ways stated has received over 6,000,000 signatures. The total number of signatures from outside the United States is 480,000. Great Britain, with Lady Henry Somerset's name at the head, leads the procession with its 350,000. Canada comes next with 67,000, Burmah, follows with 32,000, and Ceylon, Australia, Denmark, China, India, and Mexico follows, with all the others coming after.

Whatever men may think of the practicability of Miss Willard's idea or of the amount of influence it may have, they cannot but admire the pluck and enthusiasm that have sent the "arrest of thought" into every land of the globe in the shape of the following forcible bit of composition:

PETITION OF THE WORLD'S WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION for the PROTECTION OF THE HOME. Addressed to the Governments of the World.

Honored Rulers, Representatives and Brothers:

We, your petitioners, although belonging to the physically weaker sex, are strong of heart to love our homes, our native land, and the world's family of nations. We know that clear brains and pure hearts make honest lives and happy homes, and that by these the nations prosper, and the time is brought nearer when the world shall be at peace.

We know that indulgence in alcohol and opium and in other vices which disgrace our social life, makes misery for all the world, and most of all for us and for our children.

We know that stimulants and opiates are sold under legal guarantees which make the Government partners in the traffic, by accepting as revenue a portion of the profits, and we know with shame that they are often forced by treaty upon populations either ignorant or unwilling. We know that the law must do much now left undone, to raise the moral tone of society and render vice difficult.

We have no power to prevent these great iniquities beneath which the world groans, but you have never to redeem the honor of the nations from an indefensible complicity.

We, therefore, come to you with the united voices of representative women of every land beseeching you to raise the standard of the law to that of Christian morals, to strip away the safeguards and sanctions of the State from the drink traffic and the opium trade, and to protect our homes by the total prohibition of these curses of civilization throughout all the territory over which your government extends.

The Diner Out.

Fruit is not to be bitten. It is to be peeled and cut with a fruit knife.

Never drum with the fingers upon the table or with the feet upon the floor.

No gentleman will ever place his arms upon the table, either before, during or after a meal.

Never hurry the dinner. Let everything come along promptly on time and move steadily thereafter.

Meats are to be cut with a single gliding movement of the knife, not by converting it into a saw.

Keep the elbows always close to the side, no matter how ample may be the room between guests.

Take soup only from the side of the spoon, unless wearing a moustache. Never sip it with an audible sound.

Never play with knife and fork or other table utensils. Do not touch them at all, except when about to use them.

If an accident of any kind should occur during the dinner, do not seem to notice it unless help may be quietly given.

Fish is to be taken with a fork only. It should be carried to the mouth with the tines of the fork pointed downward.

Most vegetables are to be eaten with a fork. The spoon should only be employed when the fork cannot be made to do the service.

It is proper to eat green corn from the cob, lifting the ear to the mouth with the napkin as a protection to the fingers and to the mouth.

Rheumatism Cured.

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood attacking the fibrous tissues of the joints. Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives the blood vitality and richness and tones the whole body, neutralizes the acidity of the blood and thus cures rheumatism.

A Miraculous Romance.

Meeting love at first sight, courtship, popping the question, getting the license, married, dinner eaten and on the train for their future home in the short space of two hours, is something the most imaginative romance writer would never dream of. Nevertheless such an event has taken place in our town during the week. One of the most prominent, far-seeing and business-like ladies in town, had a letter from a gentleman friend in Gloucester county, who, by the way, was a wealthy widower to act in his behalf in selecting a good, sensible and thrifty partner in life for him. She wrote him saying she had one to fill the bill, and in the meantime notifying the young lady in question. He came and they met at the lady's on Thursday last. It was a genuine case of love at first sight, both frankly acknowledging that their expectations were more than fully realized. After fifteen minutes consultation he hustled to get the license, while she bought the bridal trousseau and packed her trunk. It took him only forty two minutes to return with the license. Then they went with haste and had the knot tied in due form, had dinner with the lady friend, and took the train for their Gloucester home.—World.

A Remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jennison, Gilford—Spent between $200 and $300 in consulting Doctors; tried Dixon's and all other treatment but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies, in fact I consider myself cured, and with a 25 cent box at that.

Eighty Miles an Hour.

A mile a minute has been considered the limit of railway travel, and, indeed, when one considers what the hurrying onward of 200 tons of wood and metal sixty miles in the hour really means the imagination is stunned with contemplation of the forces brought into play. Now, however, several railroads are building great engines which will run heavy trains at the rate of eighty miles an hour. For a short space over the New Jersey Central trains are now being run at the rate of 112 miles an hour. But with the engines now in use the road must be nearly straight to accomplish such speed, whereas, with the enormous machines now in course of construction, one and one-third miles a minute or 118 feet a second, can easily be accomplished over curves and grades, the one requisite being a solid and well ballasted road bed. As may readily be understood, the spreading pressure on the rails, and the pounding of the ties which such titanic masses at such speed must occasion, would be an element of danger as well as cost. Given, however, a sound, well-constructed road, and the question of rapidity is merely a matter of power. Steam as a motive power is probably nearing the limit of usefulness, but it will doubtless be superseded without ever having accomplished its utmost.—Chicago Herald.

It is not to be wondered at that Ayer's Pills are in such universal demand. For the cure of constipation biliousness, or any other complaint needing a laxative, these pills are unsurpassed. They are sugar-coated, easy to take, and every dose is effective.

DEAR SIR—My family have received great benefits from the use of the PELEE ISLAND GRAPE JUICE during the past four years. It is the best tonic and restorative for debility, nervousness and weak lungs we have ever tried. It is much cheaper and pleasanter than medicines. I would not be without it in the house.
