

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—"Merchant," Coögné. The publication of your letter containing an undesired attack on a well known clergyman would not do any good. You are entirely astray as to the authorship of the letter.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Sylvain Thibideau, a young man from the Village, aged about 23 years, was drowned on Monday afternoon while taking a boat load of stones to the beach. The accident was not witnessed by anybody, but it is supposed that he overloaded the boat causing her to swamp. The body was recovered yesterday, and taken to the village, where Dr. Olloqui is holding an inquest. The accident happened near Indian Island.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE.—On the 22nd April, William Harnett of Moulins River, ceased from his earthly pilgrimage at the advanced age of eighty-five years. He was born near Queenstown, Cork Co., Ireland, in 1810, and emigrating to this country in 1823, could relate many interesting reminiscences of pioneer life in N. B. Out of seven brothers and sisters, the survivors are Mr. T. Harnett of Main River, and Mrs. Chrystal of South Branch. Considering state of roads, the funeral was well attended. The pall-bearers were Wm. Stevenson, M. Whalen, Geo. Warman H. Graham, Albert Barnes and Patrick Harnett. Interment took place in R. C. Cemetery, Kingston. Deceased leaves a sorrowing widow, four sons and one daughter, Mrs. Cronin, of Bangor, Maine, who arrived in time to attend funeral. The bereaved have the sympathy of the community.

"Father, thou hast gone before us,
And thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us
He can all our sorrows heal."

Here though never more we meet thee,
Let us hope to meet above,
Meet with thee in joy eternal
Till that time farewell, farewell.

A CLEVER ELOCUTIONIST.—A treat is in store for the people of Kent on Monday, May 20th, as on that date Miss Sara Lord Bailey, the celebrated elocutionist, will give one of her entertainments in the Public Hall, Kingston. The Toronto Globe said of Miss Bailey when in that city: "Last evening at association hall, one of the first lady readers of the United States, appeared for the first time and more than sustained the great reputation that had preceded her. Her readings were good, particularly her rendering of the 'Chariot Race,' which has probably never been equalled in Toronto. This brilliant reader is already becoming quite popular with Canadian people." The following is from the St. Louis Evening Chronicle: "Sara Lord Bailey, plump, pretty, eloquent and vivacious, assumed ownership of the audience instantly. Her comic recitations dealt matrimony and celibacy terrific blows, while her railroad burlesques hit the Benton people right where they lived. Sara Lord Bailey's imitation of a kettledrum, the different kinds of locomotive whistles and bells, showed a culture and training of the vocal powers as marvelous as it was pleasing. In Mr. Campbell's parlor she recited 'Money Musk' in inimitable fashion. Maggie Mitchell, Lotta or Minnie Palmer, could scarcely have done it as well."

School Inspector Smith was in Kent last week on official business.

Mr. B. S. Smith, representing Messrs. F. & P. Reid & Co., wholesale grocers, was in town last week.

Mr. Solomon Allen, Harcourt was in town last week.

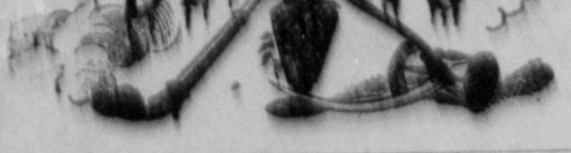

Mr. John Manzer was in town Tuesday. Messrs. Andrew McIntosh and William Ferguson, of Harcourt, registered at the Kent Hotel, Monday.

It Feels That Way.
[Detroit Free Press.]

There's a soft, mellifluous murmur
In the circumambient air;
There's a lazy, languorous feeling
That is spreading everywhere.

There's the rustling of the robin
In the bushes and the hedge,
And the water fowl are piping
In the pond beyond the sedge.

The sunshine's growing warmer,
And the flies are getting tame;
While an all 'round combination
Seems to tell us spring has come.

Japan Gives up the Territory She Had Acquired.

LONDON, May 7.—France has been informed by Japan of the latter's renunciation of her claims to the permanent possession of Liao Tung.

The Morning Post commends Japan for yielding to the demands of the three powers and condemns Russia, Germany and France for acting in their own interests and ignoring China. "Great Britain," it says, "was disinterested and equally loyal to both China and Japan."

The Daily News says: "The coalition has made a deplorable mistake in coercing Japan, but it is enough for us to know that we did not share the mistake."

The Times says it is reported that in consideration of her abandonment of all claims to Liao Tung Japan will receive additional indemnity of ten million pounds.

Artificial Sunlight.

Nicola Tesla's idea of electric illumination is different from any hitherto conceived. His theory is that the light of the sun is the result of electric vibrations in the 94,000,000 miles of ether which separate us from that luminary, and does not proceed from a great orb on fire, as the sun has always been supposed to be. Now, if these vibrations can be reproduced by artificial means, the light will follow. The rapidity of the vibrations in a second necessary to produce the desired result is expressed by the figure 5 and 14 ciphers, and Tesla is now trying to build a machine that will produce these vibrations. Should he succeed in only a partial degree the result will be to do away with lamps and wires. The machine will render luminous the ether of a room or city, giving a light like that produced by the sun.
