

CONSUMPTION

SO PRONOUNCED By the Physicians SEVERE COUGH At Night Spitting Blood Given Over by the Doctors! LIFE SAVED BY AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Seven years ago, my wife had a severe attack of lung trouble which the physicians pronounced consumption. The cough was extremely distressing, especially at night, and was frequently attended with the spitting of blood. The doctors being unable to help her, I induced her to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was surprised at the great relief it gave. Before using one whole bottle, she was cured, so that now she is quite strong and healthy. That this medicine saved my wife's life, I have no the least doubt."—K. MORRIS, Memphis, Tenn.

Obituary. The last sad rites of the late Lelia Horton were performed at her old home, Molus River, on Wednesday, 19th inst., Rev. W. Murray in attendance. About fifteen friends with carriages met the bereaved mother and sisters at the K. N. R., and escorted them and their sad charge home, where all vied with each other in attention to the mourners. The peculiarly sad circumstances of her death, together with the fact that she was one "whom to know was to love," rendered her funeral impressive. Very touching was the scene when her old school-mates shed hot tears o'er the white velvet casket containing all that was mortal of their dear friend.

The numerous and expensive floral offerings from Fall River friends testified to the esteem in which she was held in that city. While all were beautiful and touching, we have only space for the following: An anchor of white moss-roses and smilax and in purple letters, "Our friend, from the Ladies Fall River Friendship Club," of which she was a member. A pillow from her employer, H. J. Langley, made of white roses and white pinks, with lilies in the corners, bearing the word "Lelia," in blue letters. A bunch of June roses, containing, seventeen, the number of her years, looped with white satin ribbon from her S. S. Supt., Mr. Buffington. A basket composed of moss roses and ferns, from her S. S. Teacher, Mrs. Pate. A basket of smilax, ferns and pinks and a broken lily from her shop-mates, Misses Lizzie and Zillah Davidson. A bunch of roses and ferns from Mr. J. Thorpe. The following ladies also contributed: her old playmate, Rose Nevil, her schoolmates, Katie and Annie Delaney, Mrs. Dagrall and Miss Katie McCowan. The flowers kept well for so long a journey.

Considering the great heat of the day, 104 in the shade, a large procession followed the remains to their final resting-place, beside her father in the beautiful Riverside cemetery at Brown's Yard. The elder sister had a terrible shock in the finding and identification of the body, and as a result of the great mental strain, she fainted at the grave and was borne away insensible. "The Lord gave and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be His name."

"Gone in the freshness of spring time, Gone in the bloom of her youth; Gone to the home of the angels, Gone to the city of Truth."

"Lonely her loved ones without her, Lonely and sad is their home, Missing the light of her presence, Mother and brother alone."

"Sisters grieving in silence, Loved ones in bitterness weep; 'Tis all the pain of the parting, 'Tis all the sweetness of sleep."

"He who gave only has taken, Meekly we'll bow neath the rod, For a love unseen, eternal, Folds her in the arms of her God."

THE SASSOUN SUFFERERS.

Copy of a Petition Sent to the British, French and Russian Consuls. Boston, June 20.—The following sent to this city is a copy of a petition from the Sassoun sufferers, Erzeroum, Eastern Turkey, which has been addressed to the British, French and Russian consuls in that city:

"We, Sassounis, in our homeless condition, are forced to flee and come to Erzeroum to appear before you, not to relate what occurred in that terrible massacre which took place in our beloved home district, but to narrate our bitter woes to you resulting from the present severity of the government. They have been inflicting a terrible treatment upon the luckless remnant of the Sassoun people. Not only does the government use very severe measures to prevent the people of Sassoun from appearing before the commission to relate the true story, but it also imprisons them if they are bold enough to attempt to appear or even plan to do so.

In this manner the specially appointed police have imprisoned, tortured, persecuted and afflicted nameless evils upon hundreds of our people. They even brought women and girls and imprisoned them, naked and barefooted, under the surveillance of a wild and erratic people trying to force as they did other people (prisoners) to give testimony contrary to the truth before the commission, to the effect that the massacre occurred in a quarrel between Kurds and Armenians, and that the Turkish soldiers did no evil, but on the contrary defended them against the Kurds. And because these poor people were unable to witness to such a bare-faced falsehood they were tortured, abused and subjected to the misery of imprisonment for many days. Still at this present time there are in Moorish prisons more than twenty Sassounis, of whom the principal ones are Hazar and Michael Arakelias, Guneseerko, Hebo Masean, all of Shenik, Avak Merkan of Semal, who has forty-two bayonet wounds; Anna Boghasian, who came here and on returning was imprisoned: Vartan, Stepan, etc.

These are at the present moment suffering bitterly in prison, while other Sassounians are being persecuted and abused in the Moosh and Khanos villages by the local governors. I myself, Hagob D. Arakelian, went to appear at Moosh before the commission to relate my sorrows and to entreat for the liberty of my two imprisoned brothers. The police besides preventing me from appearing before the commission, took me directly to prison, where I remained for five or six days, and only escaped by representing that I came from another district.

Pitying sirs, we in our bitter and unbearable condition have lost wives, children, sisters, brothers, relatives, friends, home and possessions, and in short, everything, and the present new persecution and unrighteous imprisonment are heavier for us to bear than the bitter cup of death.

Because of this, our fearful condition, we are unable to appear before the commission, and were forced to secretly flee to place before your excellencies this condition and entreat your immediate pity and assistance for ourselves and those in prison. Otherwise we and all the Sassoun remnant will be lost. To your conscience and sense of pity be the judge.

In hope we remain your humble servants Signed—Hagob D. Arakelian of Shenik; Khaso D. Markarian of Shenik; Girago Bosian of Talvorig; Humar Aprahian of Semal.

Cocagne. JUNE 24th.—The weather last week was the warmest experienced here for many a year. The heat was unbearable in its intensity, which, with the smoke from innumerable forest fires, made out-door exercise certainly uninviting. The crops too, suffered severely from drought, but the refreshing showers of Saturday and Sunday came out in bold relief, doing an inestimable amount of good, and bringing gladness to the heart of the farmer.

Sheriff Leger was in town Saturday. Rev. F. X. Cormier, of Memramcook paid his old parishioners a visit on Sunday.

Miss Alicia Dvart and Maggie Hannagan of Buctouche spent Sunday here. Mrs. C. Aresneau of St. Charles is visiting her daughter Mrs. Michael Bloddeau.

Mrs. J. Seely of Buctouche spent a few days with her daughter Mrs. John Elliott last week. A number of our young men will attend Camp Sussex. They are determined to show their loyalty in a practical way, at least.

The Dundas Cheese and Butter factory has, since it commenced operations three weeks ago, manufactured 9000 lbs. of cheese. This is a very good showing considering that the farmers were unprepared for such an industry. The Grandguie Cheese and Butter factory commenced manufacturing cheese, last week, but, having far fewer patrons has not made such a good showing.
