

GENERAL NEWS.

The steamer Virginia Lake took 300 barrels of flour northward from St. John's, Nfld., to relieve the distress along the coast.

Dr. Fryzant, a young man of Montreal committed suicide at Halifax Wednesday night by taking a large dose of carbolic acid. He has a brother in Halifax and his father is a physician at Wolfville, N. S.

The London Telegraph expresses the hope that the news of a daily mail service between Southampton and New York is not premature. It urges the establishment of a penny post to the United States and Canada as a means to render the project a success.

Lena Lieman, aged 24, her son two months old and her daughter of two years were suffocated by smoke on Wednesday in a tenement house fire on Pitts street, New York.

Five Wednesday afternoon gutted the Prince Knitting Works at Chicago. There were 150 girls employed in the works and 30 had a narrow escape. They were rescued from third story windows by firemen.

Reginald Sanderson was committed for trial at London, Thursday, for the murder of a young woman named Augusta Dawes, whose throat he cut in Holland Park Road on the night of November 25th, 1894. Sanderson, who is barely 21 years of age, is a nephew of Colonel Sanderson, the well known member of parliament for North Armagh, and is related to several titled families.

Wm. Johnson, a workman at the St. Croix cotton mill, Milltown, died suddenly Wednesday of heart failure. He was working in the cotton mill yard, and not feeling well went into the mill and almost immediately expired. Dr. Deacon was called and considered an inquest unnecessary. He was aged 56 years, and leaves a widow, four daughters and two sons.

The premier of the Nova government has sent a protest to the French government against the occupation of Tamatave by the French, which is declared to be a violation of the treaty between France and Madagascar.

St. Anne.

JAN. 7.—Winter has come at last in earnest, and the roads are almost impassable.

The other morning, Mr. Michael O'Mara left the residence of Mr. Simon Basterache of this place, to visit a friend of his on Main River. His horse got beyond his depth in a snow drift, capsizing the occupant. Happily the progress of the unmanageable animal was stopped by the timely arrival of Mr. Patrick Cadegan. Thus an accident, (probably quite serious) was averted. Mr. O'Mara proceeded on his journey apparently none the worse of his fall.

Mr. John Basterache has commenced hauling his hay from the Brook's Meadow. He reports the hay in very bad condition. He simply puts the blame on the stack-builder.

Our energetic blacksmith, Mr. Reuben Richard, is kept very busy this winter, although our friend Dan says, "Oh, Gosh!" he burns half the iron. But Cyril contends that Dan knows nothing about it.

Our very popular school mistress has come back to us again. We were glad to hear she spent a happy vacation. She will board in the future at Mr. Louis Bourque's. We are all glad to see her back looking hale and hearty. Take care Frank, you don't get caught in a snow storm.

Our post-master, Docie Richard, has been very ill for a few days. John seems to take a great interest in his recovery, or perhaps there is some other attraction. Go ahead John, we wish you success.

Mr. Fidele Thibideau leaves next week for Stillwater, Minn. He says he has got enough of St. Anne. John says he thinks he will go too as soon as he gets his hemlock off the yards.

Rev. Fr. LeBlanc celebrated Mass in St. Ann's church, yesterday. Taking into consideration the bad condition of the roads, there was a large attendance. Our church reflects credit on our revered pastor. It gets the name already of being second to none in the County, and by the time it is completed it will probably be the best.

Saturday morning, while chopping in the woods, Hypolite, son of Charles G. Richard, gave himself a severe cut on the foot. He was nearly a mile from his father's house, and before he got home he was faint from loss of blood. He is recovering very slowly.

Mr. James Gallant has left us for the Land of milk and honey. He has undoubtedly left a broken heart behind him. We all wish Jimmy success.

Our weather prophets seem to be a long way behind time this winter. Some of them claiming to be versed in astronomy have already made several mistakes. Nory says it is owing to the cloudy weather which has kept him from taking an observation of the Planets. Certainly we are not supposed to know anything about it.

Dixon's Point Notes.

As I have seen no notes from this place for some time, I thought I would send a few to let you know that we are all living yet. Snow storms are the order of the day.

Mr. William Dixon of Sussex, who has been visiting his parents of this place, returned home last Monday, accompanied by his sister.

Who was it that sent his mother and father after his best girl? We are living in hopes of a wedding soon. Be careful Kate, what you are about.

Miss Edith Dickie is now at home spending her vacation.

Messrs. Harlie Smith, Mell Dickie, and Tom Seeley, went to Nova Scotia last Friday to seek employment for the winter.

Miss Edith Dixon is now expected home.

On account of the late snow storms, the Dickie Bros. are not seen going to the woods so regularly.

I wonder what has become of the Howler. Perhaps he is snowed up. Who knows?

Well Buttercup, I am sorry you have had so much anxiety on my account. You may be a good guesser but you are not in it with Zero, if you imagine he is the serpent or that he had anything to do with the Wood Lot. You had better guess again. Ha, ha, ha.

ZERO.

Coal Branch and Vicinity.

Christmas and New Year's passed away very quietly here, owing to the bad roads and unpleasant weather.

Mrs. George Robinson, who is visiting friends in St. John, is expected home in a few days.

Miss Flora McDonald and Miss Mary McLeod, who were visiting in Moncton, have returned home.

The five dollar tea given by Mrs. J. Little was a grand success.

Miss Minnie Sullivan, who was visiting friends in Harcourt, has returned home.

What two ladies got left at the turkey supper in M. Branch. We hope it won't be a rooster next time.

Who spent Xmas with the widow?

J. W. Howard and J. S. Steeves, two Coal Branch amateurs, are going to start a paper. Success boys.

The recent snow storm prevented a large number of folks from attending the ball and play at Harcourt.

Mr. W. L. Steeves, of Petitcodiac, who was visiting friends at King Square, has returned home.

Who let the horse go the other night? Better look out boys, Tom is from Bugtown.

Hunger forced the Lion from his den and he was seen roaming about the fields and brooks on Xmas Eve.

DAISY BELL.

I AM DYING.

I am dying, Edith, dying,
Tints of crimson, bright and fast;
Shades, too, dark as Pluto's regions,
And they cannot help but last.
Let me tell you how I do it,
Let me whisper in your ear,
Diamond Dyes is all my secret;
You can do the same, my dear.

Though my clothes get worn and dingy
And with stains are spotted o'er,
Though they look as fit for nothing,
I can make them good once more.
Though I have not many dollars
To expend on garments new,
I can dress as well as any,
And I know that you can, too.

Let not fashion's servile minions
Scorn the garments thus made o'er;
'Twas no dyer's hand that made them,
I have done the same before.
I, who took my last year's dresses,
Washed and dyed, and pressed and turned,
Made them o'er for this year's wearing—
Gowns for which the heart has yearned.

Yes, I'm dying, Edith, dying;
No, you do not need to go;
You've not hindered me a moment;
'Tis not hard to do, you know,
Now, no more one need to wonder
How to make their dresses do;
When with such a little trouble,
"Diamond" makes them good as new.

La mort toujours cruelle vient de faire son apparition lugubre à la Barre de Cocagne et de frapper de son glaive exterminateur, une de nos meilleures mères de famille, dans la personne de Julie Cormier, épouse chérie et tendrement aimée de M. Richard Poirier. La défunte était âgée de 46 ans et a succombé mardi, le 25 décembre, à une attaque de dyspepsie, après quatre mois de maladie soufferte avec une résignation exemplaire et munie de tous les secours que l'Eglise accorde à ses enfants à l'heure du grand voyage de Péternité.

Femme chrétienne, épouse modèle et dévouée, Madame Poirier comptait autant d'amis que de connaissances, et sa mort est vivement regrettée de tous ceux qui la connaissaient. Elle laisse pour pleurer sur sa tombe, un époux inconsolable et sept enfants qui ne pleureront jamais. Les funérailles ont eu lieu jeudi, le 27, au milieu d'un grand concours de parents et d'amis. ## Molus River.

Death has again visited this locality and removed from our midst our worthy neighbor and esteemed friend, Eleanor Barnes. She was born in England in 1828 and came to this country at an early age; she was an only daughter of George Warman and leaves five brothers to mourn the loss of one "whom to know was to love." She married Mr. Barnes, who died twenty-one years ago, leaving her with six children, the eldest only fourteen years old, the youngest two. Five survive her, viz: Mrs. A. J. Smith, of Norwood, Mass., Miss Jamie Barnes, Molus River, Mr. H. B. Barnes, Norwood, Mass., and Messrs. Albert and Fred Barnes, Molus River. Nobly by toil and self-sacrifice did she fulfil the solemn task of rearing those children, resting and trusting in Him who promised "never to leave or forsake." She was a true follower of the Master and a worker in his vineyard, having taught in the Sabbath School a number of years. She was a member of the Methodist church, and will be long and sincerely mourned by sorrowing friends in this section.

Mr. Fred Barnes has been ill with pneumonia since his mother died and is still quite weak. His sister, Janie, late of Norwood, is untiring in her care of him.

Mrs. Barnes was interred on the fourteenth of December in Bass River cemetery.

"Submission, submission!
Sweet angel of grace,
Come dwell with the mourners
And ease the distressed;
Bid Grief cease her weeping
And murmur 'Be still,'
For the Lord, He hath done it,
And good is His will."
