

GENERAL NEWS.

The Colorado Senate on Thursday passed a bill prohibiting capital punishment in the state.

A despatch from Che Foo states that after the capture of Wei Hai Wei the Japanese did little looting. No atrocities were committed.

The French government has deputed ex-Consul Durand, who served in Quebec and is now in London, to visit French ports and give information likely to develop France's trade with Canada.

Jason Swansburg, aged 18, of Little Harbor, N. S., was drowned on Wednesday while returning from a gunning trip, the boat in which he was with a companion having been capsized in the surf.

The news of the operations in Madagascar are rigidly kept from the public by the French authorities and forces operating there. It is known that there has been a good deal of fighting lately, however.

The agitation for the release of Mrs. Maybrick from the Working prison, was started again in Britain recently. A meeting for protest assembled at East Greenwich and steps to obtain a new trial were considered.

A reward of $250 has been offered by the Ontario Government for information that will lead to the conviction of the supposed murderers of Pte. Dan Shea, of the Thirtieth Battalion, who has been missing since November 22.

A summer cottage, which was being moved across Gardner's Lake (N. Y.) on the ice, was left with its contents upon the ice one night, and in the morning it was on the bottom of the lake with the roof just above the ice.

The body of Louis Starkes, a wealthy colored rancher, of the Cedar distr ct, a few miles from Nanaimo, B. C., was found in the bush last week with marks of violence on his head and the right leg broken. It is supposed that he was murdered by tramps.

Advices received at Tangier, Morocco, from Fez state that two carloads of salted heads of the leading Rahamo rebels which were taken to Sultan Abdul Aziz, by a detachment of the Moorish cavalry, have been suspended from the main gate of that city amid great rejoicing upon the part of the populace.

At the annual meeting of the Eastern Assurance Company held in Halifax, it was decided to ask the Dominion Government for permission to reduce the capital from $500,000 to $250,000, and the directors were empowered to continue the business or wind it up as they deemed most in the interest of the shareholders.

The terribly mangled body of Robert Huson, who for some years has been connected with the officers' mess room at the military barracks was found on the C. P. R. tracks, London. The victim's home is in Jarvis, Ont., and he was to have been married next month. Suspicions of foul play are entertained. An inquest will be held.

Early Saturday morning three bodies were recovered from the ruins of the buildings on Orchard street, New York, which partly collapsed Friday afternoon. Two more are believed to be still buried in the wreckage. Two of the injured died in the hospital during the night. Including the missing two men, the number of dead is seven.

The Spanish Government does not regard the reported state of affairs in Cuba with any degree of alarm. Although twenty-four rebellious persons were recently executed in Cuba, the fact is not looked upon as showing any widespread revolutionary feeling. The Government is of the belief that the reforms lately applied in Cuba will prevent any such revolts.

United States Senator Bryce has reported, without recommendation, a bill that the secretary of the Treasury shall pay the sum of $1,000 to any inventor who shall prior to 1900, construct a vessel that will demonstrate the practicability of safely navigating the air at a speed of thirty miles an hour and capable of carrying freight or passengers.

A despatch from Peking says Li Hung Chang has held three audiences with the Emperor, at all of which he was received with the utmost cordiality. He has definitely accepted the peace mission to Japan, which he was urged to do by the various foreign ministers. The details of the mission and the meeting place of the envoys have not yet been decided upon.

The Japanese are having all the glory and excitement of war without any of its hardships and without very much of its dangers. It is said that during the whole course of the present war they have not lost so many lives as were recently lost by sinking of the Elbe. The war has not been much more fatal to them than is Uncle Sam's annual Fourth of July celebration.

A curious circumstance in connection with the recent cold weather is reported from England. Though the frost has been several degrees below zero near the sea level in Scotland and elsewhere, the thermometer has not touched zero at the top of Ben Nevis. Two degrees above zero is the lowest point recorded on a peak where the snow sometimes lies till midsummer.

Armenians tell a marvellous story of the heroic death of Kriker, Elder of the village of Shenik, who, with his own hand killed twenty-one Turks before the Turks succeeded in killing him. As he fell dead they say a great light flashed thrice in the sky. This token convinced the peasantry that they would have the help of heaven in avenging his death and the massacre of so many of their relatives and friends.

Advices received from Honolulu last week, state that ex-Queen Liliuokalani has been found guilty of misprision or treason, and has been sentenced to a punishment consisting of five years' imprisonment without hard labor and a fine of $5000. Her sentence is under review, and will probably be commuted on condition that she leaves the country. Greig, Widemann and Marshall, the latter an American, have been sentenced to death.

J. Canston, one of the three men exiled from Hawaii for complicity in the recent revolt, has received a letter from Honolulu which explains the reason why so many of the remaining foreign conspirators preferred banishment rather than stand trial. Ashford, the Canadian revolutionist, was convicted on perjured evidence, the letter states, and although this fact was proved at the trial, he received a heavy sentence. A gallows was erected in the jail yard and this fact, together with the manner in which trials have been conducted, makes most of the prisoners glad to get away from the islands in preference to entrusting their lives to a military commission.

A horrible tragedy lately occurred in a peasant's cottage in the village of Dehdouir, in the district of Belchouff, in Russia. A peasant of the village a short time ago slaughtered a sheep in his cottage, which proceeding was observed with great interest by a little girl five years of age, the peasant's daughter. A few days after this incident, when the father was away from home, the girl suddenly said to her youngest brother, "Let us play at killing sheep, as our father did." The little boy, not knowing what was going to happen, lay down as requested on the floor, when his sister cut his throat from ear to ear. The poor little fellow died shortly afterwards.

At the Elbe inquest, Captain Gordon, commander of the Crathie, took the stand and testified that when the wreckage was cleared away from the Crathie's bows the ship was turned around to go after the Elbe. This was about three-quarters of an hour after the collision, but the Elbe had steamed away. Both the captain and the chief engineer of the Crathie deposed that the vessel's telegraph was frozen at the time of the collision. Orders were given to the lookout man, who shouted them to the engine room. The engineer admitted that he had not looked to see whether the telegraph was all right when the vessel sailed from Rotterdam. On the conclusion of the engineer's testimony the coroner intimated that the inquest would be adjourned until March 26.

Kidney Facts.

In Jan., 1892 my son was taken with Kidney disease. Though attended by three physicians, and change of climate he grew worse and by '93 had fallen from 195 lbs to 95 lbs. In 10 days from starting to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills we were able to move him home. In 4 months he gained 50 lbs. and was fully restored to health by the use of this medicine. Jno. S. An N. B. Lady Dies in the West.

The Minneapolis Morning Journal has the following concerning the death of a lady who moved from Bass River to the west in 1881:

COLBRATH—At her home in Hayward, Wis., Mrs. John Colbrath; departed this life Jan. 16, 1895. Aged 34 years and 9 months.

Mrs. Colbrath's death is a great loss to a large circle of friends at her late home in Hayward. She had not been feeling well all winter, but nothing serious was thought of it till within a few days of her death, she took brain fever that laid her at rest. In speaking of the deceased in a manner worthy of her estimable and womanly goodness, she was both a helpmeet and a helpmate to her husband; a faithful companion; a wise counsellor and a careful wife. She was a tender and lovely wife, a patient and steadfast friend. She had a sweet temper and kindly spirit, and was in charity with all the world. In his loss her husband is most truly bereaved. Mrs. Colbrath was a great sufferer for a few days. Her illness was marked with continued patience, loving thoughtfulness, courage and serene hope. She leaves a husband, father, three sisters and three brothers. The remains were taken to Minneapolis, Monday, and interred in Hillside cemetery, in the same grave with her mother, Mrs. John Keswick, who died at her daughter's, Dec. 28, 1884, and placed in the vault at Hillside until yesterday. Hence they were both laid side by side in one grave, at rest. Both she and her mother came from Kent Co., N. B., to Stillwater, Minn., in 1881. She was a sister of Revd. A. MacDougall, St. John, N. B., and Mr. Peter MacDougall, of this City as well.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dear Editor:

Allow me space in your valuable paper for a few items concerning our town. Beginning with farming, I have learned that some of our farmers in 1894 planted two barrels of potatoes and raised fifty-five barrels. This is about the best we have had for some time in Richibucto.

I wish also to make a few remarks concerning the fire on Sunday morning, the 3rd of March. The fire-wardens were so excited over the engine that if it had not been for our laboring men, a large portion of this town would now be in ashes. The fire-wardens held a meeting on Monday night, March 4th, but I don't know as yet what the results will be. My advice would be to get hooks made and appoint an engineer to look after the engine, and we laboring men will show you how to handle a fire. Our fire-wardens know as much about handling a fire as I know about sliding over the moon, but they take care that we pay our taxes and do the work also. That is a poor idea to come down on the poor fellow that does the work. I have not meddled with this before, but since the election is drawing handy, I thought I would show my nose.

White-washed Yankees are all the rage. One of our young gentlemen is about to depart for the land of milk and honey. Jim we wish you luck.

Misses Jessie McLean and Ethel Little are attending school in Kingston. Miss Maggie Masterton intends to resume her studies in April.

Our school is largely attended this winter and is progressing nicely under the management of Miss Warman.

Mrs. Alex. Curran, who has been ill for sometime, is recovering under the skillful treatment of Dr. Ferguson.

William Hanrahan has been laid up for the past week with a sore arm. We hope it will soon be better.

There is a youth in this vicinity who seems to be very obedient to the "birds" especially when sent to spy, and he does that to perfection. Franklin, when next you are sent on such an errand make sure you are not seen before you start.
