

Girls that are wanted.
 Girls that are wanted are good girls—
 From the heart to the lips;
 Purely white and sweet,
 From the heart to its sweet leaf tips.
 The girls that are wanted are home girls—
 Girls that are mother's right hand;
 That father and brothers can trust to,
 And the little ones understand.
 Girls that are fair on the hearthstone,
 And who sleep when nobody sees;
 Kind and sweet to their own folks,
 Gladly and anxiously please.
 The girls that are wanted are wise girls,
 That know what to do and say;
 That drive with a smile and a soft word
 The wrath of the household away.
 The girls that are wanted are girls of sense,
 Whom fashion can never deceive;
 Who can follow whatever is pretty,
 And dare what is silly to leave.
 The girls that are wanted are careful girls
 Who count what a thing will cost;
 Who use with a prudent, generous hand,
 But see that nothing is lost.
 The girls that are wanted are girls with hearts,
 They are wanted for mothers and wives;
 Wanted to cradle in loving arms,
 The strongest and frailest lives.
 The clever, the witty, the brilliant girl,
 There's a constant steady demand,
 But, oh! for the wise, loving home girls,
 There are few who can understand.

near Woodstock, Va., to allow a passenger train to pass. Just after it stopped Conductor Frank Norris saw something moving between the ties over which the cars passed. He went back to investigate and found the eighteen-month-old child of Farmer Jenkins, which had crawled out upon the tracks. The engine, moving very slowly, had pushed the child between the ties, where he lay until ten cars passed over. With the exception of a slight bruise on the shoulder, caused probably by the pilot of the engine, the child was uninjured.

The Origin of the Mafia.

Crime-stained as it is to-day and ghastly with murder every step of its tortuous, secret career, the "Mafia" of Italy sprang into being from an inspiration of patriotism but its very birth was heralded by a libation of blood. The "Mafia" Society is over six hundred years old, having its origin at the revolt of Palermo, which took place during an Easter ceremonial in the suburbs of that city in the year 1282. A beautiful young girl and her betrothed in accordance with the ancient and primitive custom of that people, approached the church of the Holy Ghost to be united in marriage at its altar, and while the lover sought the padre in the little room at the end of the building his bride paused upon its threshold. As she stood there a drunken sergeant of the French garrison, named Druet, strode up behind her, threw his arm about her waist and kissed her. With a cry of horror, she tore herself from his grasp and turned to fly, but the heel of her slipper caught in the coping of the stone pavement, and she fell, striking her head against a sharp projection of the cornice. At that instant the returning lover's eyes fell upon her prostrate form, and with the savage fury of a wild beast he threw himself upon Druet, bore him to the earth, and drove his stiletto to the wretch's heart, crying "Morte alla Francia!" ("Death to the French.") There was a moment's pause of silence, and then that maddened cry became the roar of infuriated thousands. It swelled and deepened; it took more solemn meaning—it became nationalized—and then burst forth: "Morte alla Francia Italia anela!" ("Death to the French is Italy's cry!") For seventy-two hours armed bands, headed by the father and betrothed of the hapless girl, hunted down the French. But retribution was to come after this carnival of blood, and in dread of the vengeance of the French nation those unhappy people formed themselves into secret organizations with the password and name of the society made up of the initial letters of the words which compose that fateful death cry, thus forming Mafia. Its object was resistance to oppression, and as the lapse of years added to its power and influence, it stretched forth its hands against the rich and mighty in behalf of the poor and downtrodden. To-day it is the hideous cloak of the assassin of the night. London Tit-Bits.

The Chain of Title.

An ancient deed on record in Northumberland county, Pennsylvania, is said in Lacy's Kent Vol. 3, p. 37c, to recite as follows:— "Whereas the Creator of the earth, by parole and livery of seisin, did enfeoff the parents of mankind, to wit, Adam and Eve, of all the planetary system by the name of the earth, to have and to hold them, the same Adam and Eve and the heirs of their bodies lawfully to be begotten, in fee tail general forever as by said feoffment recorded by Moses, in the chapter of the first book of his records, commonly called Genesis, more fully and at large appears." Tracing down the chain of title it further recites that the tenants in common, for the sake of convenience, "bethought themselves to make partition" and that the tract known as America came eventually to the Six Nations of North America, and that they conveyed to the Penns, thence by in mesne conveyances to the present grantor. The grant to William Penn by the King of England is ignored and was evidently regarded as outside the chain of title.

Chatham as Seen by an Outsider.

The New York Dramatic News of August 16th has the following paragraph, written by an actor in Sell's Brothers show which lately performed here: "Chatham, N. B. has been marked down as the toughest town in the provinces—and the United States, too, for that matter. There are bad people there, they all live in the last house on tough street. Fights were as thick as flies, and a heap of gore was spilled, while the majesty of the law as aged and whiskered individual, looked on and calmly remarked: 'Oh they don't mind that.' But then when you think of what they drink in Chatham it is no wonder there are so many fistic encounters. It is a cocktail peculiar to Chatham. Here are the ingredients, Whiskey, lemonade and beer. Mix well in a tall bottle taking and a guarantee is given that you will either smite someone or be smitten before another day has dawned. Well, so long as the people really were, there was not a single fist-fight in which persons with the show were engaged."

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.
 Piles—Moisture; intense itching and smarting; more at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue assume form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swelling of the rectum stops the itching and bleeding, heals the ulceration, and in most cases restores the rectum to its normal condition, for 10 cents. Dr. Sweeney & Son, Philadelphia. Father and Son Cured

THE VILLAGE OF WHITECHURCH DEVELOPES A SENSATION.

The Father Attacked With Rheumatism and the Son With St. Vitus Dances—A Story that Can be Vouched For by All the Neighbors.

From the Wingham Advance.
 Mr. Joseph Nixon is the proprietor of the only hotel in the village of Whitechurch, and is known to the whole countryside as a man who thoroughly understands his business, and a jovial companion as well. It is well known in this part of Ontario that Mr. Nixon's hotel was destroyed by fire, but with that energy which is characteristic of him he quickly set to work to re-build. His story as told to a reporter of the Wingham Advance, who recently had occasion to visit his hostelry, will prove of interest. "I was helping to dig out a cellar," he said, "and in the dampness and cold I contracted rheumatism which settled in my right hip. It got so bad that I couldn't sit in a chair without doubling my leg back at the side of the chair, and I couldn't ride in a buggy without letting the affected leg hang out. I suffered a great deal more from the trouble than anyone who has not been similarly affected can imagine. How I was cured is even more interesting. One day I saw a neighbor whom I knew had rheumatism very bad, running down the road. I called him and asked what had cured his rheumatism. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills he promptly replied, and that determined me to try the same remedy. Well, the result is Pink Pills cured me, and that is something other medicines failed to do. I don't know what is in them, but I do know that Pink Pills is wonderful medicine. And it is not only in my own case, continued Mr. Nixon, "that I have reason to be grateful for what the medicine has done. My son, Fred, about twelve years of age, was taken with an attack of cold. Inflammation of the lungs set in and as he was recovering from this other complications followed which develop into St. Vitus dance, which got so bad that he could not possibly stand still. We gave him Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the result that he is now thoroughly cured and looks as though he had never had a day's sickness in his life, and if these facts which are known to all the neighbors, will be of any benefit to anyone else, you are at liberty to publish them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a specific for all diseases arising from an impoverished condition of the nervous forces, such as St. Vitus dance, locomotor ataxia, rheumatism, paralysis, sciatica, the after effects of the grippe, loss of appetite, headache, dizziness, chronic erysipelas, scrofula, etc. They are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, correcting irregularities, suppressions and all forms of female weakness, building anew the blood, and restoring the glow of health to pale and sorrow cheeks. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excess of any nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper (printed in red ink), and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.
