Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For fully two years, I suffered from rheumatism, and was frequently in such a condition that I could hardly walk.

Acadieville.

JAN. 14.—Surely an old journalist such as Masque Noir ought to be able to read print, but I firmly believe that he does not, for in Mab's notes, there is no such a thing as that Coum. F. Bordage was married in Centre Acadie (which he says he read there.) When did Mab tell you that, Masque Noir? Even if it had been the case, Queen of Fairies has not the time nor the inclination to descend to such earthly transactions, for you must know that ruling Fairyland is not selling behind a counter. As to Machoire, is he not related to you, Masque Noir? Better ask him what he had to do with it.

The last fall of snow has put an end to skating for a while. Mr. Diogene Pineau nearly got drowned the other Sunday while skating on the river.

Mr. Basile Daigle, who has been very ill, is, we are pleased to state, slowly recovering.

John C. has returned from the woods with his toe cut off.

Miss Sophie Pineau, eldest daughter of Mr. A. Pineau, has gone to the Convent School to be educated.

MAB.

JAN. 12.—Wolves are spoken of as existing in Acadieville, till we are afraid to venture on the road. Where are the wolves, anyway? Old people tell us that wolves delight in fresh pork. Don't send little black pigs to market, farmers, especially as they must pass by the turn of the road.

What took the people off their balance the other day? Lots of snow now, but little news. I believe the snow has buried all.

Has Machoire given up his place of secretary to that company that Masque Noir has taken his place? A peaceful year to you all.

MARK.

The wolves have the road well tramped for their nightly prowls. Our gypsy queen has not returned from the South yet.

Morton Bros. & Co., are doing a big stroke of bark business. They have five teams hauling.

The yardmaster of Acadieville Siding is spending the winter in the woods.

Mr. M. McLeod is about to sell out. He intends to build a Man of War to compete with the Blenheim in a trip across the Atlantic. She will be launched at the dump of the Kouchibouguac River.

Mr. J. Desmond and some others are not suited with the arrangements that are being made about the schools and intend to sell out and move to Rogersville soon.

Who came on the evening freight with some rusty chains and lost them? We heard that they were polished clean enough before they reached Moncton. People better be careful getting off trains.

Tommy must have given up brown hunting and taken to the caribou. Masque Noir turned out to be very pale.

The head man of the school meetings beats the road regular. Look out for his club.

Woods Bros. are doing some big lumbering operations this winter. They are getting salt for their porridge, I think.

Paul has the road white with fur out of the rabbits.

Operator Desmond does not seem to get much work lately.

The Cedar Swamps are getting pretty well skinned this winter.

Mr. Thos. McGinnis intends buying up all the railroad property between here and Moncton.

WIDE AWAKE.

HEART DISEASE RELIEVED IN 30 MINUTES.—Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gives perfect relief in all cases of Organic or Sympathetic Heart Disease in 30 minutes, and speedily effects a cure. It is a peerless remedy for Palpitation, Shortness of Breath, Smothering Swells, Pain in Left Side and all symptoms of a Diseased Heart. One dose convinces. Sold by W. W. Short.

Main River Notes.

Winter has come at last, and the roads are almost impassable.

Fishermen say smelts are very scarce, but bass are more plentiful. Jim says he caught two eels last week.

We are pleased to hear that Miss Maggie Graham has reached Mount Allison safely, where she intends attending the Academy for the purpose of resuming her studies.

We are pleased to hear that Fred Barnes of Molus River, is slowly recovering from an attack of pneumonia, under the skilful treatment of Dr. Olloqui.

Miss Lida Foster of Kingston, has returned to her school in Molus River.

We wonder what has become of the man with the "high water" pants. Molasses on the toes of his boots didn't seem to take. It was quite an idea of Mary Ann's but she had better think again.

Your late correspondent thinks that Jessie has passed away. I beg to inform him that I am here yet, but if I should write such nonsense as Alpha or the late correspondent to the World, I think the country would not lose much if I did pass away. His statements concerning the Clifton Trustees are scarcely facts, as they were told at the annual school meeting that the Teacher's salary was too high, and as she knew of this and did not send in her resignation, there was nothing else left but to notify her. They did their duty, nothing more. All his correspondence seem of the same style—half facts. I think it must be his first.

Times are dull here, therefore news scarce. Most of the young men are in the woods.

The Councillors have met and appointed the officers for the next year, and adjourned without doing any business as the secretary-treasurer was sick. They meet again on the 15th inst.

Two liquor licenses have been granted in this Parish this year, but both are in the extreme end of the Parish.

Gloucester Division S. of T. is still working here, and for 20 miles from Bathurst no one could get the required names to get a license. It is hoped that the Division may long continue the work.

The Methodists and Presbyterians each have very hands-in churches here; also Sabbath school is carried on in connection with each. The Rev. Jos. Sellar preaches the Word of Life to the Methodists. He is a true servant of the Master and loved by his people here.

There is no Presbyterian minister this winter, but regular prayer-meetings are held, generally led by one of the elders.

In Clifton, the Episcopalians are building a new church. The Rev. Mr. Richards preaches occasionally.

JESSIE.

A BOON TO HORSEMEN.—One bottle of English Spavin Liniment completely removed a curb from my horse. I take pleasure in recommending the remedy, as it acts with mysterious promptness in the removal from horses of hard, soft or calloused lumps, blood spavin, splints, curbs, swellings, stifles and sprains.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
