THE EASTERN WAR.

When war was first declared between Japan and China the general opinion appeared to be that it would not take the Chinese very long to "do up" their island neighbors.

The terms of the proposed treaty of peace between the two countries are stated in a despatch to be as follows:

First—The treaty between Japan and China has ceased to exist by reason of the war, but on renewal of peace the new treaty will grant Japan extra-territorial jurisdiction over China, but the latter country will surrender the extra-territorial jurisdiction formerly held in Japan.

Second—There will be no extension of Japanese territory on the main land of Asia. But the Island of Formosa, a Chinese possession lying off the coast, will be permanently ceded to Japan.

Third—The Japanese will by treaty be granted the right to continue the occupancy of Port Arthur and Wei-Hai-Wei, the great naval stations leading to the Gulf of Pechili, for a term of years.

Fourth—The claims of China that Korea is a dependency of hers shall be forever relinquished and Korea shall henceforth be independent.

Fifth—The cash indemnity to be paid by China will not exceed $250,000,000 in gold.

USURY.

A new law just passed by the New York Legislature strikes a blow at usury in that state. A serious penalty is provided. The statute declares that any person or persons who directly or indirectly receive more than six per cent. on any sort of money or household goods or implements of trade or any sort of personal property in actual use, or any form of personal credit, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

It was announced that Friday's meeting of the cabinet would settle the question of a session or dissolution, but the cabinet members have been in session two or three times since then and the question is evidently still unsettled.

It is evident that they do not know just what action to take. It is possible that they will be unable to agree among themselves as to a solution of the difficulty and if so the probabilities are that a session of Parliament will be called to enable them to settle their differences.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

Symptoms—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and alternate, becoming very sore. Swabbing with astringent stops the itching and bleeding, heuristics, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. S. & Son, Philadelphia. Cocagne River.

MARCH 14.—Our community tonished Tuesday morning, on hearing that Mr. Aimé Langis, a well known farmer of this locality, had broken his legs. Dr. Landry was immediately sent for, and with his surgical assistance was able to replace the main bone which was broken about 6 inches below the knee. Mr. Langis was on his way to the hospital when, by some accident, got entangled in his bob-sleds, which broke the leg. A few years ago he met with a similar accident but not the same leg.

Mr. Edward J. Smith has just left with his camping apparatus. His teams, Martin LeBlanc and D. Cormier, both farmers in this locality were indisposed since last fall, the result of heart disease, and the latter of chills, are, we are happy to state, a better every day, and hope to be able to go to work soon.

Messrs. Martin LeBlanc and D. Cormier, both farmers in this locality were indisposed since last fall, the result of heart disease, and the latter of chills, are, we are happy to state, a better every day, and hope to be able to go to work soon.

Mr. Beverly Smith, agent for F. P. Reid, & Co., Moncton, and Bedford Bent, agent for Moore & Halifax, were in town last week on orders, the former for groceries and the latter for tea.

Lobster packers are preparing for the approaching season.

Oyster poachers met with a severe setback last week. There was a disturbance for a while. Some were killed as if to save their lives. We are glad that there are too many of these poachers. In this way our industry will soon be exhausted.

Our debating club is making lively since its beginning. Every description make speeches, their opponents, which at times they swallow. The debate of the evening which was: Water is an element destructive than fire, was discussed in able speeches. However, it was lost by a vote of 12 to 17. Mr. Ephraim D. Cormier acted as chairman. In the affirmative were Messrs. Thomas Williams, Benjamin Murray, Ephraim Cormier, etc. and in the negative, Messrs. Michael Collette, David G. Cormier, Alphe Cormier, Wilfred Cormier, etc.

There is much talk of an approaching general election in this locality. Our public men are beginning to get ready for a campaign. Some of our young men are beginning to leave for the States. We wish them a happy and successful trip, and their pockets full of money when they come back.

The M. & B. railway has not yet been able to shovel away the snow on the track. On this account there is a great depression of business all along the line. We hear that Mr. Theodore Langis, of St. Anthony has about 600 cords of wood on hand which awaits the train to be shipped to Moncton.

Kingston.

That we are—in our own estimation—the most important part of Kent County—especially in election times—no one will think of disputing; still there are people who move hither and thither without ever thinking of consulting your correspondent. Mr. Barnes, the oyster dealer, of Buctouche, comes here and talks politics and never once consults your correspondent; Mr. Sayre, that old time war-horse, goes to Buctouche on political business and never asks leave; Mr. McInerney visits his friends here and in other parts of the county, and never says he is going; Mr. eBlanc and Mr. Goguen talk of contesting the county without as much as sending a card to ask whether I approved of the course or not. There are many coming and going without asking if it is any wonder that I should feel that they lean when they thus themselves to talk election and me as much as two thousand my support? Would it be any should bring out one of my and elect him? In conversation with a gentleman who lives, not a from the north end of the he would vote for the party up the most boodle. Well that there are very few county who would sell they should get a dollar for them. However, I candidate to risk his There is a temptation in anything else therefore when we y, "Lead us not into that means "Offer tes." Other things the man who pays es, stands the best 3, and vice versa. of men here at the county who y will be candi asked them to vote for them if reason there will of candidates in ce, they should ere there might be like the Scotch ere twenty pipers n one tune, each twenty pairs of the tune of their amedley of music. n anyway. arse times are dull always dull at this spring opens up we ad times. There is more lumber out than the mills will be able to cut. This will have to be shipped, too, and we may expect good wages in the ships. Agriculture is taking a boom. The demand for milk to make cheese is increasing which will require an increase in milk producing fodder—and this will tend to improve the general system of farming. Of course, some people would grumble if their heads were afire.

Last Saturday, a large, healthy butterfly made his appearance in J. & T. Jardine's store. Is that an omen of spring?

There is one of the spans of the bridge in a very dangerous state. Could it not be fixed while there is ice to cross on?

This village contains about an average of one horse for every family. Horse trading is considered among the fine arts. A person who cannot "talk horse," isn't fit to mingle in polite society. Next to politics, "horse talk" is usually the leading topic. One dealer has handled in the vicinity of 100 horses since last spring. Another has started business by investing fifty cents in horse flesh, and I have heard that he has since been offered one dollar for his purchase. When a man can double his money on his investments, he ought to be satisfied. It is said that the late owner of the latter "critter" sold her for fear she would kick the eclipse off the moon, but I don't believe that story.

In your last issue there appeared a paragraph from the Chatham World headed "A Miramichi Romance." Now lest the people of Miramichi should think themselves ahead of us in matters of this kind, I will endeavour to describe a wedding which may be considered a parallel to the Chatham affair. The wedding I am about to describe was brought about without the intervention of any third party.

The girl was employed as a domestic with a family here. The young man had never spoken a word to her, and they had not seen each other more than once or twice—at a distance, of course. On Saturday evening the young man, who is a violinist, visited the house where the lady was employed. During the evening it devolved upon the girl to carry a pitcher of milk to a neighbor's house. The night was very dark, and of course she didn't like to go alone. It was suggested that the young man accompany her, which he did. I cannot say just how it happened but they became engaged in the short half hour that they were absent. The priest would be here on the next day (Sunday) and the young man thought it would be just as well to have the ceremony performed that day. There was one very serious drawback—the girl wanted a new hat and as the hour was late all the stores were shut and would not be opened till Monday morning. To get married with a borrowed hat was out of the question. But "Love laughs at locksmiths." There was a certain milliner who lives in a part of her shop. To this place the young woman hastened accompanied by her fiancee, and although the milliner was preparing to retire, she was induced to bring down the hat. They were married the next day before Mass. This happened half a dozen years ago and there has been no divorce yet. The marriage seems to have turned out as happy as such things usually do.

Should the editor of the World think of sending your correspondent a new hat, "7" is the size.

It usually takes a man half a lifetime to find out how little he knows. It takes some men longer, and some never make the discovery. Surely the weather prophets who said we should have no snow this winter will admit that they don't know a "blamed" thing about the weather; that a pig's mill, a partridge's feet, a rabbit's tail, or any of the thousand other nonsensical signs do not control the winter. The snow is nearly four feet deep now.

Kouchibouguac Notes.

The roads are in bad condition after the heavy drifts on Sunday, and we cannot take our fair ones out driving.

Joseph Grogan went to Chatham on Monday with the mail and returned on Thursday.

The young people are looking forward with pleasant faces to the supper to be given in the Temperance Hall after Easter.

Our veteran gunner Donald says he has four pounds of powder to send in smoke this spring after the henkers come.

A petition is being circulated to present to the Government asking for a bridge across the Kouchibouguac River near Burns Power's. This would be a great accommodation for the people in Point Sapin.

There will be a Liberal Conservative convention in Carleton in the Temperance Hall for the purpose of nominating a candidate.

A watch manufacturer was in the village last week looking over the chances to build a factory here, and it is probable that we will add a factory to our industries before long.

Bridget Thibideau came home from Chatham last week, where she was visiting friends the last two months.

Cliff is training his Kingstone on the ice every day. He says he is going to try Tom and Fred when the ice is in condition.

We are glad to hear that John Tweedie is getting quite smart again.

Robert Jenkins is laid up with a cut foot. Don't worry ladies he will soon be out again.

It is reported that some of the men in Whalen's camp had an encounter with Bruin, they say Jack has the hide for sale.

Larry Vautour is recovering from his recent illness under the skilful treatment of Dr. Bourque.

The village is in need of a policeman to stop the rowdism that is carried on by some of our old lumbermen.

Coal Branch Notes.

It is quite lively here this winter owing to the number of teams engaged in hauling bark.

Mr. John Wood, who has been visiting his daughter Mrs. T. Spencer, has returned to his home in Lynn, Mass.

Mr. H. H. Warman paid a flying visit to Coal Branch one day last week.

Charles King, of Canaan, is visiting his brother, Fred King at the Depot House.

What young lady asked you to escort her home from the party, Thomas? Probably she thought it was leap year. Walter says he won't go to any more dances. We will see now, Walter.

Mr. W. Spencer and Mrs. A. Hudson, drove to Harcourt one day last week.

The Inspector, Mr. Smith, visited Miss Sullivan and Miss Masterton's schools last week.
