Christian Socialism.

BY J. FOWLER WILLING.

All genuine philanthropy strikes root in Christian consecration.

In my first talk with Mark Guy Pearse that brilliant and effective teacher of Christian holiness, in his lovely London home, he described the work of the Wesleyan Forward Movement, of which he and Hugh Price Hughes are the leaders.

It was then in its second year; yet it had been marvelously blessed of God in the salvation of the poor.

By way of summing up, Mr. Pearse said: "It is simply Christian socialism. We get the chance to help people's souls, by making their bodies more comfortable. They can understand that expression of our love to them. The best workers we have are our Sisters of the People. Would you like to see them?"

He took me over to Kathrine House, and there I found a company of beautiful refined, cultured, young "ladies"—in the English use of that word—giving their lives to the service of Christ's poor.

One of them, "Sister Clara," is the granddaughter of the richest Wesleyan either side of the sea, I think they said. She was glad to leave her elegant home, and, in simple dress, and a plain house, to hard work for the "submerged tenth."

"O, yes," she said one day, in reply to a question about her friends, "they would give anything to get me back into society; some of them think me quite daft; but this work is dearer to me than my life—it is for our Lord, you know."

As I went about London with the Wesleyan "Sisters" in their slum work, my soul cried to God that a similar love for the poor, and zeal for their salvation, might come upon the young women of our own land.

The Lord is answering prayer for them. Many of them are at work in mission fields. The deaconesses in the thirty-nine homes where they are gathered, the thousands of young women who are officers in the Salvation Army, and the many who are evangelists, are helping multitudes by their sweet and earnest ministrations; yet there is need of thousands more.

Cuban Affairs

NEW YORK, May 14.—A despatch to the 'Journal' from Madrid says: The 'Imparcial' publishes an article asking for the renunciation of the treaties with the United States on the ground that the American nation daily violates openly and without scruple international neutrality and that existing laws and treaties are only used against Spanish interests. Many papers support the idea, which is very popular, and as soon as Congress is constituted some deputies will bring forward the question.

Articles in New York papers counselling the government at Washington to take violent measures if the prisoners arrested on the 'Competitor' be executed has been telegraphed here and are much commented on. The people and press are indignant and profess themselves surprised that Americans are not yet satisfied with the granting of a new trial.

The 'Heraldo' remarks: 'Up to the present the United States have carried on no foreign war and cannot flatter themselves in having conquered any one. The day they seek us they will find Spain at her post.'

Most papers seriously ask, but without violent language, if open war is not better than the existing state of affairs with the United States.

The official 'Epoch' publishes an article containing extracts from comments of foreign papers, chiefly French and British, which are favorable to Spain, and then expresses the hope that the moral support which European nations are now according the government at Madrid will finally convert itself into resolutions and acts considering the barefaced, unjustifiable and defiant conduct of the United States in opposition to all ideas of international Dutch and European interests. The people generally are calm here, but appreciate the gravity of the situation and the fact that the crisis is still far from over.

A Voice From Conestville

The roads are fairly good in places. The farmers are preparing the land for seeding.

Hay is reported very scarce in this locality, but we hope for a better state of things in the future.

Miss Rigley and Miss Murray, of McLaughlin Road, spent Saturday and Sunday last week with friends here.

Mr. Alex. McLean, of McLean Settlement, has returned home from the States, after an absence of two years. The folk are all glad to see him back, especially the young ladies.

Miss Bessie Coates spent Friday last with her cousin, Miss Edith Coates.

Our Sunday school has re-opened and we hope for a large attendance.

THE BEST OPINIONS!

Scientific Men Say Diamond Dyes Are the Best.

The best analytical chemists in the world affirm without hesitation that Diamond Dyes are the purest and best dye-stuffs for home dyeing. All the colors are fast to light and washing, and will color more goods, package for package, than any other dye in the world.

As there are many imitations of the popular Diamond Dyes, ladies should beware of dealers who attempt to recommend the worthless goods. It should be remembered that the imitation dyes are made up of poisonous and dangerous adulterations and the hands are often ruined by their use. Diamond Dyes are so easy to use that even a child can work with them successfully. See that you get the "Diamond," and refuse all others.

SKIN DISEASES!

One Remedy Which has Never Failed—Tried and Tested Ointment.

Because other alleged remedies for piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, chafing, black heads, salt rheum and skin diseases generally have proved useless, don't condemn Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. For instance, Nelson Simmons, Meyersburg, Ont., writes:

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itching Piles, and can recommend it highly. Since using it I have had perfect freedom from the disease."

Peter Vanallen, L'Amable, Que., had the eczema for three years. He tried three doctors, but received no benefit. One box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Pills cured him completely. Large scales covered his legs and body, but the Ointment soon removed them. He will swear to these facts.

Chase's Ointment may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto. Price 60 cents.

Mother's greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchial and lung affections is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The medicinal taste is wholly disguised making it pleasant to take. Large bottle 25 cents.

Blind

Sometimes persons become blind from impure blood, which develops scrofulous ulcers on the eyeballs, iritis, granulated eyelids, etc. In such cases Hood's Sarsaparilla has been marvelously successful in restoring sight. It shows its powers as a blood purifier and radical cure for scrofula, by removing the cause, thus curing the eyes and restoring all the affected parts to healthy condition. Read this:

"As an act of justice and for the benefit of other mothers who may have afflicted children, I write this. About the first of February, 1892, my daughter Zola, then three years old, contracted sore eyes of the worst form and in a few weeks was entirely blind, being unable to tolerate light of any kind. She suffered and cried until I was almost heartbroken. The best eye specialist in the county treated her for months, but the became worse. Then I took her to a specialist in Indianapolis, who said he could do nothing. I came away with a heavy heart. I met my father's physician, Dr. Berryman, who examined Zola's eyes, and told me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began to give it as directed and wash her eyes with warm water. Soon I began to notice improvement, and now, having given the child over a half dozen bottles, her eyes are greatly improved and she can see as well as any one. She is five years of age, and goes to school. When she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, she had to eat her meals in a darkened room, but now she is able to sit at the table with the rest of the family." MRS. OLLIE BUSER, Colfax, Indiana.

Cured

Leading Citizens

Of Colfax, including John D. Blacker, Township Trustee, W. H. Coon, Druggist, and Dr. J. A. Berryman, cordially endorse this statement. This and many other similar cures prove that
