

The First Great Requisite!

PURE BLOOD AND STRONG NERVES.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND GIVES THESE BLESSINGS TO EVERY SUFFERER.

THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT THOROUGHLY BANISHES DISEASE.

An Ontario Lady's Experience.

The first great requisite for a condition of perfect health for every man, woman and child at this season, is pure blood and strong, healthy nerves.

Three-fourths of our people rush into the portals of summer with systems charged with deadly impurities and poisons.

Life is not safe when such symptoms and diseases are permitted to run unchecked. If you, reader, happen to be one of the many suffering from any of the forms of disease just referred to, do not fail to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial at once.

For eight years I was sorely troubled with neuralgia, nervous debility and indigestion, for which I tried various advertised medicines, and was treated by five doctors.

Before I had used one bottle of the Compound I found myself much better. After using four bottles, I am now almost as well as ever before in my life.

Buctouche Jottings.

APRIL 20.—The warm weather of last week was heralded by quite a severe thunder storm, which is considered very uncommon at this time of year.

The ice in the harbour is rapidly breaking away, and navigation will open before long.

The funeral of Mrs. J. A. Irving took place on last Tuesday. The unusually large number of people that accompanied the remains to the cemetery, showed the esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

We regret to hear that Dr. C. O. LeBlanc, who arrived here from Waltham, only last week, lies dangerously ill of pneumonia, at his home in St. Mary's.

Misses Anna and Mamie O'Leary spent a few days in Moncton last week visiting friends.

Mrs. Dr. Gaudet, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. McLaughlin, returned to her home in Memramcook on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. H. Abbott, of Moncton, spent Wednesday and Thursday with her sister Mrs. Ross.

Miss Josie Sutton, of Notre Dame, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Miss Marie E. Girouard made a flying visit to Buctouche on Sunday.

Mrs. Commin's of Halifax, visited friends here, last week.

Miss Priscilla Henry, of Moncton, is making a lengthy visit to her sister, Mrs. F. Cormier.

Miss Lorrinda Doherty is spending a few days with friends in town.

Mr. T. Collins of St. John, was in town last week.

Mr. N. Bourque made a business trip to Moncton on Friday.

Mr. Dave Doherty, of St. John, came to town last week to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. J. A. Irving.

Mr. J. Harris, of Moncton, is spending a few days with his wife at "The Farm."

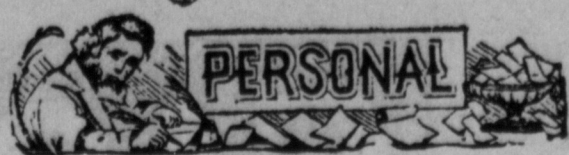

Mr. P. Doherty, of Moncton, and Mr. D. Orr, of Sussex were here last week attending Mrs. Irving's funeral.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harris on the arrival of a daughter.

CISSY.

At Ottawa, April 18, Tom Taylor, the 17-year-old son of Lord Aberdeen's footman, was shot and killed while out hunting to-day by the accidental discharge of the gun of John Cheney, the 14-year-old son of the Governor-General's head coachman.

K. D. C. imparts strength to the whole system.

Mr. Geo. Robertson, of Bathurst, was in town last week.

"BELKAISER."—In another part of this issue will be seen Mr. D. J. Cochrane's advertisement in re his stallion Belkaiser. If farmers are going to raise horses it is just as easy, and often easier to raise a colt from a good sire as from a scrub.

Belkaiser is a son of Kaiser of whom "Turf Field and Farm," has this to say: Dr. J. W. Day, of Patchen Stock Farm, Waterloo, N. Y., is justly proud of his foresight in buying the George Wilkes stallion, Kaiser.

Kaiser has taken a record of 2:25 1/2, and now has ten of his get in the ranks of standard speed, while many more are on the way, for he makes few failures.

The horse has an exceedingly well balanced pedigree, being by George Wilkes, dam Fair Lady, a great brood mare, by Dictator; granddam Monie West, by Almont; next dam Eagle, thoroughbred daughter of Zenith, son of American Eclipse, and Eagletta, by Gray Eagle.

The trotting lines are the most fashionable and successful, and the thoroughbred backing is at the right distance, and from sources that have contributed to the composition of many of the very fastest light harness horses. No wonder that Kaiser has gained laurels in the stud.

The lumber traffic over the I. C. R. at present is enormous. Between 400 and 500 cars of deals for export, were at Halifax unloaded last week.

Charles Shaw, aged 17 years, Freedom Shaw, 14 years, sons of Leander Shaw and Carl, 10 years, son of Wm. Matthews, were drowned Sunday at North Cutler, Me. They were in a boat trying to bail out another, when both boats were overturned.

At New York, April 16, Mrs. Jane Wolf, of 243 East 21st street, and her baby were fatally burned. Her four-year-old son was quite seriously injured. Mrs. Wolf, with her children, was seated at an open window, awaiting her husband's return, when a gust of wind blew the curtains back upon the gas jet and they became ignited, the flames spreading to the clothing of Mrs. Wolf and children.

The remarkable expansion of the Anglo-Canadian trade is shown by the imports from Canada into Great Britain, which increased by seventy-one per cent during March, and by ninety per cent, during the first quarter of the year. The exports to Canada increased seven per cent, during March, and twelve per cent, for the three months.

A New York despatch of the 18th inst says,—April has set up a new record for herself in the way of broiling weather. Yesterday the temperature, according to the official thermometer, reached eighty-five degrees, which is one degree higher than any April day since the weather bureau was established a quarter of a century ago. Several cases of sunstroke were reported, one of which resulted fatally. There was a decided fall in the temperature last evening.

A Fredericton despatch of the 20th says: The ice jam above Wheeler's Island has not yet broken. The river is plugged with ice from that point up to within a few miles of Hawkshaw, a distance of over twenty miles. The back water has submerged all the lowlands in many places to a depth of twelve feet. At Hawkshaw the water is to-day ten feet higher than was ever known. The water entered the furnace of the tannery there and extinguished the fires, causing the suspension of work. A large quantity of logs which were browed on the banks were carried away.

Strange Feat of a Cab Horse. A curious incident which occurred at about four o'clock yesterday morning in the rue d'Albani is related in the Temps. This street is divided by two flights of steps.

A cabman was asleep inside his cab when the horse, tired of waiting, possibly, set off at a smart trot in the direction of the steps. The cabman awoke suddenly, opened the door and jumped out of the vehicle. He was just in time, for his horse had already reached the top of the steps.

The cabman was seriously hurt by his fall. When a policeman, who had seen the accident, got to the steps, he expected to find the cab smashed to pieces and the horse killed. But by something like a miracle there was no harm done. The horse and cab ahead got safely to the bottom of the steps without accident and was caught on the place de Strasbourg.

The cabman was taken to the Lariboisiere Hospital, but will be well again in a few days. If his sleep had been a little more sound and he had remained in the cab, he would not have been hurt at all.—European Edition of the Herald.

He Got It.

Hotel Clerk (who has noticed rise in Alkali Ike's hair)—Hum! the bridal chamber, I presume? Alkali Ike (drawing his gun)—Looky here, pard! I'm a cowboy all right, but I ain't a-sleepin' in no stable on me weddin' night. Gimme th' best room in th' house, with nary a bridle, saddle or lariat in it.—Judge.

Told Her Troubles. The following conversation is reported to have taken place between a minister and a widow, both of Aberdeen. The widow, who called upon the minister, seemed desirous of relieving her mind of something which oppressed her, at which the reverend gentleman, wishing to hurry matters, exclaimed: "My good woman, you see I can be of no service to you till you tell me what it is that troubles you."

"Well, sir, I'm thinkin' o' gettin' married again." "Oh, that is it! Let me see; that is pretty frequent, surely. How many husbands have you had?" "Well, sir," she replied, in a tone less of sorrow than of bitterness, "this is the fourth. I'm sure there never was a wumun sae completely tormented wif a set o' ceing men as I've been, sir."

How He Opened. Inspector, severely cross-questioning a rough-looking customer—"What is your name?" "Oh, you know me quite well. I'm Perkin Prowlabout."

"And you mean to say that I know you?" "Certainly, ever since I opened a goldsmith's shop."

The inspector stared at the man from head to foot: "With what capital did you open it?" "Capital? I opened it with a jimmy!"

Extenuating Circumstances. "The officer arrested you for being drunk," said his honor, severely; "very drunk indeed." "Yes, your honor," replied the culprit, "but there were extenuating circumstances."

"What were they?" "Why, your honor, you see, I was under the influence of liquor at the time."

All the Same. Acquaintance (in the street car)—Hello, Boris! haven't seen you since you got your last book out. How are you, anyhow? What's in that paper?

Struggling Author—A roast. Acquaintance—I don't mean the brown. I mean the paper you are reading. Struggling Author (with evident reluctance)—I have a roast in that, too.

Childish Logic. First Youngster—I've got a new baby brother, what come from Heaven last night. Second Youngster—That's nothin'. My little baby brother went to Heaven yesterday.

First Youngster (reflectively)—Pete, I bet it's the same kid.—Life.

The Bicycle Craze. Gadsook!—If the people of the viking age could have foreseen his age, what do you suppose they would have said about it? Zounds!—Well, I guess they would have called it the biking age.—New York Tribune.

Great Luck. Weary Wiggins—Uneasy Walker is do luckiest feller on do road. Tired Traddles—How's dat? Weary Wiggins—He's a somnambulist, an' does all his walkin' in his sleep. Dat gives him all day to loaf in.—Harper's Bazar.

No Time to Lose. Boarder—Why in creation did you ring the breakfast bell at 4 o'clock this morning? Cook—The missus heard it thundering and told me to hurry up and serve breakfast before the milk soured.—New York Weekly.

His Sincere Regrets. Jarvis (in surprise)—Why, Jenkins, is that you? I heard you were killed! Jenkins (sadly)—No; it was my brother. Jarvis (thoughtlessly)—Too bad, too bad!

Big Gum Contract. "Say, mister," said the little Fresh Air child, as she watched the cattle enjoying their eud, "do you have to buy gum for all of them cows to chew?"—Mount Holly Mirror.

Letters Come.

Letters come day by day telling us that this person has been cured of dyspepsia, that person of Bad Blood, and another of Head-ache, still another of Biliousness, and yet others of various complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood, all through the intelligent use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

It is the voice of the people recognizing the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Blood. Mr. T. G. Ludlow, 334 Colborne Street, Brantford, Ont., says: During seven years prior to 1886, my wife was sick all the time with violent headaches. Her head was so hot that it felt like burning up. She was weak, run down, and so feeble that she could hardly do anything, and so nervous that the least noise startled her.
