

MR. JOHNSTON, M. P. P., HONORED.—Mr. U. Johnston, M. P. P., for Kent Co., was presented with a gold headed ebony cane, accompanied by an address, in Mr. Richards room at the Baker House last night. Mr. Richard read the address and I. J. Veniot made the presentation on behalf of the Acadian members of the house of assembly. The gift was in recognition of Mr. Johnston's efforts on behalf of the Acadians in the house of assembly 14 or 15 years ago, when he was their only representative. Mr. Johnston made a very feeling reply.—Gleaner.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.—On the second of April, 1866, Manchester, Robertson, & Allison, St. John, sent out their first circular to the citizens of St. John, announcing their intention of opening a First Class Retail Dry Goods Store, and soliciting a share of the patronage of their many friends and the general public. The response to that circular was most hearty, and the generous support that has continued all through the past thirty years has enabled them to go on enlarging and improving their business premises until up to the present time, and they now claim to have the most extensive convenient Retail Dry Goods Establishment in Canada.

KILLED BY HIS OWN AXE.—A peculiar and fatal accident occurred in Wellington, Yerkas' camp in township number 8 range, Aroostook county, Maine, on January 15th. Neil Campbell, a native of Bass River, Kent Co., N. B., was going to his work from the camp with his axe on his shoulder, when near the place where he expected to commence chopping his foot slipped on the ice and he fell backwards, his axe in some manner turned edge up and the young man fell on it. The axe entered a fleshy part of his body and cut in so deeply as to sever the cords and main arteries. He could not walk so he crawled on his hands and knees 60 rods, then called for help. They did not hear him for some time. Gilbert Moseroff, the foreman of the working crew, came to his rescue. A team was obtained and the sufferer borne to the camp, it was then 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The patient died at 4 o'clock before medical aid could reach him. The remains were forwarded to the residence of his cousin, Joseph Campbell, of Ludlow. The funeral service which was held in Union church, Ludlow, on the 18th, was conducted by the pastor of the first Baptist church, Rev. A. E. Ingram. His remains were interred in the Ludlow cemetery. William A. Campbell, of Hartland, N. B., arrived at Ludlow in time to attend the funeral service.

—On account of the storm Mr. Kinross's auction of stock, crops, etc., which was to have taken place on Friday last, has been postponed till Monday, 16th inst.

—Mrs. Thomas, mother of George P. Thomas of Moncton, and Samsor Thomas of South Branch, died at her home on P. E. Island last week, aged 97 years.—Gleaner.

—Some of the folk who follow fishing as an occupation, received their bounty money on Monday, and they must have felt excessively happy by the way they endeavored to smooth the rough streets.

—A young woman lately admitted to the New York bar has just married Mr. Justice Trux of the Supreme Court. That's what might be called courting to some purpose.

—Messrs A. & R. Loggie closed their winters business here and shipped a car load of nets to Miramichi on Tuesday. Mr. John Keary, their foreman here, also left on Tuesday for home.

—It is wonderful what a hold mohair for dresses, has on the popular fancy this season. Daniel & Robertson will send samples of a very large variety, see their advertisement in this issue.

—Mr. Wm. Murray, sold his farm at West Branch on Monday to two sons of Mr. Jas. Robertson. The Messrs Robertson have been working in the States for some years, and have concluded to return to Kent.

—Auctioneer McDougall sold on Saturday, the Cement S. Cassie farm on the Cheekish road. The land which contained 100 acres, was purchased by Placide Boucher for three hundred and twenty dollars.

—Mr. W. F. Chanah has purchased the skin of the bear killed some time ago by Mr. Ouillet, of St. Louis. It is one of the largest ever seen in town. Mr. Ouillet has the two cubs which are doing well. He feeds them on milk and molasses. He says that they look pleased when they get milk; but when molasses is added they just laugh.

—Stephen Powell, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men on Long Island was murdered Saturday night as he was returning from his place of business to his home at Hempstead. Mr. Powell was superintendent of the Hempstead Gas and Electric Light Co. and was in the habit of carrying large sums of money. The murderers obtained $250. Three negroes were arrested on suspicion.

—Seventy-two pilgrims who sacrificed fame and business to spend the remainder of their days in the Holy Land sailed from Philadelphia on Saturday. The leader of the party, Mrs. Anna Spofford, an elderly woman accompanied by two daughters, said their object was religious work and they had no connection with any sect, but were undenominational and simply following Bible doctrine.

—At the termination of a divorce case in Kansas City, Mo., on Saturday, spectators in court were surprised to hear Judge Henry address the following words to the defendant Phillips, in whose favor a decree was given: "The only fault I can find with you, Phillips, is that you have been too much inclined to leniency. If you had taken a shot-gun and vindicated your honor and your home you would stand better before this court and in the community." The plaintiff, Mrs. Phillips fainted and had to be carried from the court room.

Richibucto.

MARCH 2.—Want of employment and dull times are the causes of the large immigration of Buctouche people to the States. Mrs. Clement Savoie and family will leave on the 15th to join her husband, who has been there a week and has already found employment. Mrs. Caissie and children leave this week for Boston.

Mr. A. D. Cormier made two business trips to Moncton last week.

Our oyster fishers have had hard work lately, owing to the great sense of duty of the new fish-warden. Many rakes have fallen victims to his hatchet, while the owners calmly looked on. Human nature cannot stand everything, however, and the rakers planned revenge. One of them provided himself with a short pole, and, sticking it into a hole in the ice, began raking supposed oysters, with great vigor. This brought the warden to the scene, with an order to "haul up the rake." The order was not obeyed. So he seized the pole himself and gave it a heroic pull. He then performed a series of startling somersaults and when he arose to his feet, the offender had fled.

Mr. P. Doherty, of Moncton, made his professional visit here on the 25th and 6th.

Mrs. J. H. Abbott and Miss Lou Abbott, of Moncton, are visiting Mrs. J. Ross.

"The Bridge" is the refrain sung in the hearts of many of the Buctouche young people now. A walk by moonlight on that time-honored promenade, is certainly delightful, and we are unable to see, why some people should entertain such prejudice against it.

Miss Hattie Ramsay, who teaches at West Branch, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Master Lewis King has completely recovered from his attack of pneumonia.

We have heard that the Richibucto D. C. intend giving us a performance. We hope they will favor us before the sleighing breaks up, as a good concert would do much toward enlivening the Lenten season.

Mr. A. B. Carson was confined to the house for a few days week before last.

Mr. James McNairn of West Galloway is home from the States.

Mr. David Mundle has just returned from a short trip out West.

Mrs. Agnes Warman leaves for the States.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton visited Newcastle last week.

Mrs. Cameron has been visiting in Kingston.

We may not live in Texas or even in Mexico—and it was not declared a draw.

The mail from Buctouche last week arrived on Friday having made the journey through in seven hours.

Mr. Pridham left last week for his home but we understand that he intends returning soon and may possibly visit Richibucto.

Six young ladies from Richibucto were seen passing through Kingston on Saturday afternoon with their snowshoes. Did you inquire of the "widow" if the snowshoeing was good?

There was a very pleasant gathering at the Manse on Monday evening in honor of Miss Callendar and Mr. Robinson.

We are always pleased to hear of the success of any of our boys, and it gave us much pleasure to learn of the success of Dr. Bowser in Sackville.

Quite extensive manufacturing operations are going on in the store of the late Owen McInerney, Esq. Lobster cans are being prepared there instead of at the factories. This affords much amusement for the small boy and yet the older ones seem to delight in it.

Services were held during last week in the Roman Catholic church.

Services were held both morning and afternoon on Sunday in the Presbyterian church. In the morning, owing to the non-arrival of Mr. Robinson, Mr. James Porteous and Mr. Edmund Bowser officiated. In the afternoon, Mr. Robinson preached.
