Horrible if True

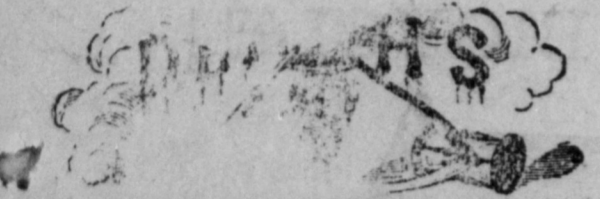

A Journal special from Key West, Fla., says: Letters received in this city from Santiago de Cuba tell of crimes committed by the Spaniards in that province that would shame the Kurds. In the last two weeks more than twenty men, women and children have fallen victims to the ferocity of the Spaniards. Recently a column of Spanish troops met ten peaceable Cubans near the town of Minas de Firmeza, and swung them up by the wrists to the trees by the wayside. The troops then fired volley after volley into their bodies. The corpses remained swinging for two days before any one dared to cut them down. A similar massacre is alleged to have been perpetrated on May 26, near Arroyo Gueria. Five negroes were met by a company of Spanish troops and shot to death. The corpses were left unburied on the road. Near the same places, on the night of May 27th, Spanish soldiers went to a house occupied by Josefa Lopez and Felice Rogeri, wives of insurgents, and forced the women and their two daughters to disrobe and then compelled them to dance until they were exhausted piercing them with bayonets to hasten them. In the morning the soldiers fired the house and left, but the women and girls were dragged out by neighbors before the flames reached them. The elder women have since died from the effects of the injuries they received.

Desperate Attempt at Suicide.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., June 4.—A young man named Anslan McMillan, head Hillsboro, attempted suicide Saturday. His sister went to the stable door and was horrified to find suspended from the loft the body of her brother. Another young lady was present, and they hurriedly cut the rope and lowered the body to the floor. Medical aid was at once summoned, and although the unfortunate young man remained unconscious some time, life at last returned, and it is now thought possible he will recover. It is believed he took poison previous to attempting to hang himself. He had been in ill health during the spring, but it is not known whether this caused him to endeavor to take his life.
