CONVEY WORDS OF HOPE TO THE AFFLICTED.

Had Suffered From Heart Trouble and Liver Complaint, Which Wrecked Her Nervous System—Is Now as Well as Ever.

From the Carleton Place Herald.

Truth, it is said, is sometimes stranger than fiction, and in no way has this phrase been better exemplified than in the plain unvarnished statement of Mrs. W. H. Edwards, Carleton Place, to a reporter of the Herald a week ago. Mrs. Edwards is well known in this town, having lived here for nearly twenty-five years. The story she related we will give in her own words. She said: "In July of 1894 I was taken ill with fever, caused by blood poisoning, and laid hovering between life and death for eight weeks. After the doctors succeeded in breaking up the fever, my heart began to trouble me, jaundice and liver complaint also set in. I could not sleep and my nerves were terribly unstrung. During my illness after the fever left me, I was attended no less than three doctors, but their medicine seemed of no avail as I lay for months in a terrible emaciated condition and never expected to be around again. This state of affairs lasted until about Christmas, when a friend suggested to me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My husband procured a few boxes and I then began their use although with little confidence in them. By the time I had used three boxes I began to feel a little better and began to get an appetite. This encouraged me to persevere in the use of the pills, and I still continued to improve. I began to sleep well, my heart ceased to bother me and my nervous system which had received such a fierce shock was again fully restored. My liver trouble also disappeared, in fact I became almost a new creature. I now feel as well as I ever did in my life. I have used in all eight boxes and still continue to take an occasional pill if I feel any way depressed. Yes, she said, I am thankful to think that I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because I believe no other medicine could have effected such a cure in me and have so effectually built me up. I am perfectly willing that this simple statement of mine should be published, and hope some poor suffering creature may see it and be restored to health as I was."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, thus reaching the root of disease and driving it out of the system, curing when other medicines fail. Most of the ills afflicting mankind are due to an impoverished condition of the blood, or weak or shattered nerves, and for all these Pink Pills are a specific which speedily restore the sufferer to health. These pills are never sold in any form except in the company's boxes, the wrapper round which bears the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." All others are counterfeits, and should always be refused. Get the genuine and be made well.

The Canadian's Victory.

The New York papers in speaking of last Monday's race between the half-raters 'Glencairn' and 'El Heirie,' frankly admit that the 'El Heirie,' the American boat, was not in it with the trim little yacht from Montreal. The 'World' says:—

"In justice to our enterprising and courageous rivals, it should be frankly conceded that the 'Glencairn' beat the 'El Heirie' on every point of sailing, defeating her on merit alone. It might also be remarked with a great chunk of truth, that she was most ably handled by Capt. Duggan and his assistant, Mr. F. P. Shearwood, who is also an amateur."

The course was east by south, three miles dead to leeward and return, twice round the total distance being twelve nautical miles. The Canuck beat the Yankee about fifty seconds on the first leg and when she trimmed sheets flat aft and began a sturdy thresh to windward, back to the home mark, she made what is vulgarly known as a "holy show" of her opponent, being nearly seven minutes ahead.

In the second run to leeward she was 9 min 6 sec. in the lead, and in the final thresh to windward she played the fool with 'El Heirie,' distancing her to such an extent that the American boat stood over to the Connecticut shore, with the ebb tide sweeping her to the eastward, on a luck-hunting cruise, in the vain hope of a fortunate change of wind that might waft her home a winner.

Then came the most exciting happening of the day. Black clouds had been banking up in the west and there was every evidence of a rather smart squall. The Yankee boat seemed to be too far on the opposite shore to get its full strength, but the Kanuck was exposed to its full influence. When the rain and the white-caps made their first appearance the 'Glencairn' was humming along under jib and mainsail. As the squall approached, her crew 'hiked' out to windward so as to keep the little ship as steady on her pins as possible and also to get the benefit of the breeze just so long as it was safe to carry a press of sail. Meanwhile gear was got ready to let go by the run. When in due course of time the puff struck her, the jib came down by the run as the skipper luffed to shake the wind out of the mainsail. The head-sail was smartly smothered and gasketed, and the reefing of the mainsail—always a difficult and hazardous job on a little boat of 'Glencairn's' shape—was smartly accomplished. Then she filled away again and renewed her thresh to windward, the hammer of her spoon-like bow on the short and choppy sea being plainly heard a good distance off. There was rain, too, with the wind, and the white duck trousers of the Canadians got wet and grimy. After about fifteen minutes of squall, the breeze began to moderate. Quicker than a flash the reef was shaken out of the mainsail, and under cat-boat rig the boat was sailed for a time, doing capital work and handling easily. When the breeze let up still more the jib was once more hoisted, and under the influence of full sail she danced over the billows and, bucking the still strong ebb tide, romped to the home mark an easy winner.

An Exceptional Sale.

ST. JOHN IS MUCH INTERESTED IN THE RECENT MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

St. John N. B. July 10—The many cases of marvelous restoration to health from various forms of Kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for some time awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely: Dodd's Kidney Pills, are having great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and other interesting cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

She is Terrible Indeed.

A London special says: The enormous unarmored cruiser, Terrible, recently built on the Clyde for the British navy, maintained a speed of twenty knots an hour on her recent maiden trip from Glasgow to Portsmouth, and it is asserted that her maiden speed was twenty-four knots, which is certainly remarkable in view of her size and length, 14,200 tons and 500 feet respectively. Not less remarkable is the Terrible's carrying capacity, enabling her to steam 25,000 miles without recaling. Her sister ship, the Powerful, is soon to be in commission, and then the British Admiralty may claim to hold the world's record in this class of vessels. The naval experts are not satisfied, however. They are still crying aloud for more men, more quick-firing guns, and such like things, which of course, means more money. The leader of the malcontents, Capt. Lord Charles Beresford, loses no opportunity of warning Englishmen that they are living in a fool's paradise and being deceived by the very people who ought to tell them the whole truth. No doubt, he says, we are gradually remedying the grave defect of too small ships, but what is the good of building ships if you do not, at the same time, increase the number of men. This distinguished critic pledges his veracity as a man that if war were declared to-morrow a score of powerful warships would have to remain in port for lack of sailors and stokers to man them, and this for the sole reason that the governments of the day, Tory and Liberal alike, fear to face the necessary expenditure, and so keep the strength of the navy's personnel below what should be the standard even in a time of peace.

Date of General Election

When is it to be? This question is disturbing the minds of politicians. In view of the material alteration in the commercial policy of the country which would be involved in a change of government it is a matter that concerns the general public. Meanwhile the aching corns of the populace cry for a remedy and the government give no heed to the demand. Look there! don't suffer this neglect to delay he use of means open to all and which removes the most painful and obstinate corns in two days. Painless, sure acting corn cure. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor.

The International Convention at Boston.

This gathering which took place in beautiful Tremont Temple was so grand that one pen could not be expected to do justice to it. Every effort was put forth for the convenience of delegates. The people of Boston lavished a beautiful hospitality. Both Park St. church and the temple were at the service of the delegates and ushers in their white caps were everywhere to give any information required. Men and women were gathered from Alabama, California, Maine, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario and from almost every part of the continent. Their badges indicated the locality. Handshaking and greeting were the order of the recesses.

D. L. Moody, the great evangelist, was present and gave to the convention most delightful seasons upon the mountain top. During his addresses policemen kept the doors till delegates were seated and then the public were admitted. At all his addresses the crowds were so great that there was not standing room.

The many addresses were splendid. There were differences in manner, style, speech, and almost everything else, but I did not hear a single poor address. All those bearing on the different departments of S. Sch. work were read from the manuscript and were exceedingly well prepared and instructive.

The address of welcome by Rev. Dr. Lorimer was a magnificent effort. Dr. Lorimer is a Baptist of the old school, a straight, slender, smoothshaven, grey-headed, polished gentleman. His style of speech is that of the orator and scholar combined. His peroration in which he specially welcomed the great convention to Boston was, beyond description, eloquent.

Prof. Hamill, who gave up a chair to go to work in the South, is one of the finest minds in the Convention. He has a most excellent gift of speech, scientific in its exactness. Next to him, perhaps, in mental grasp is Mrs. W. F. Crafts who seems singularly well qualified as a primary worker. A negro minister, Rev. L. B. Maxwell—a most scholarly and gentlemanly man—gave a vivid account of his work in the land of Uncle Rastus and Aunt Chloe.

B. F. Jacobs, of Chicago, occupies a high place and is able to handle an audience with a master hand.

Hon. John Wanamaker read a very fine address on the "International Work."

Semelroth, of Missouri, Ferguson, of New Jersey, Barkworth, of Michigan, and Laurence, of Ohio, gave excellent papers on different departments of Field Work.

Drs. Duncan and Hallock, of New York, dealt ably with Home Class Work.

Dr. Warren Randolph, of Rhode Island, gave the report of the Lesson Committee.

But the man whom I shall not forget was Rev. David James Burrell, of New York, on "The Bible." He is one of the old line men who believes the whale swallowed Jonah and says so in a way that carries conviction. I wish we would get him to a County Convention to arouse everybody. He is a fine type of a preacher who can preach.

Rev. Dr. Schaeffler, of New York, gave a fine blackboard address on "The study of the Bible in spots." There are few who can use a blackboard like Dr. Schaeffler.

Dr. Diaz, of Cuba, and Rev. John W. Entler, of Mexico, gave thrilling accounts of their work and their difficulties and encouragements.

But time would fail me to speak of Dr. Boynton, and Bishops Foster and J. H. Vincent and many other worthies whose praise is in all the churches.

Different rooms in the church were devoted to Sunday School supplies. The literature of all denominations was thoroughly represented. And then there was a wonderful display of everything needed for the teaching of the infant class. I examined these rooms faithfully—they were worth going a long way to see. I wished that I could bring them all to our County Convention.

The closing of the Convention was beautiful. The British flag was raised while the Convention cheered and sang "God save the Queen," then the Stars and Stripes were raised and a verse of "America" sung. The two flags were then intertwined and the whole of North America sang, "Blest be the tie that binds."

This is the barest sketch of the great Convention in the old, historic, hospitable and cultured city of Boston. It was a feast of good things. The next Convention—three years from now—will be at Atlanta, Georgia. I trust our good County has some worthy Sunday School workers who will be able to reach it. Before that time, however, as a County we must strive to present a thoroughly alive Sunday School in every district.

Yours respectfully,

F. W. MURRAY,

eyes and restoring all the affected parts to healthy condition. Read this: "As an act of justice and for the benefit of other mothers who may have afflicted children, I write this. About the first of February, 1892, my daughter Zola, then three years old, contracted sore eyes of the worst form and in a few weeks was entirely blind, being unable to tolerate light of any kind. She suffered and cried until I was almost heartbroken. The best eye specialist in the county treated her for months, but she became worse. Then I took her to a specialist in Indianapolis, who said he could do nothing. I came away with a heavy heart. I met my father's physician, Dr. Berryman, who examined Zola's eyes, and told me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began to give it as directed and wash her eyes with warm water. Soon I began to notice improvement, and now, having given the child over a half dozen bottles, her eyes are greatly improved and she can see as well as any one. She is five years of age, and goes to school. When she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, she had to eat her meals in a darkened room, but now
