Phenomenal Boy Diver.

The most daring boy diver in the world is to be found in New York.

Having already made a number of head-long plunges which would make an ordinary man turn pale with fear, he now proposes to dive from the dizzy heights of Brooklyn Bridge into the water of the East River, one hundred and fifty feet below.

Diving head foremost from the cross-trees of a ship, or from the roof of any building that happens to stand conveniently near the water's edge, are familiar incidents in the career of this seemingly reckless boy; but at the same time none of his lofty plunges have been taken without a full realization of just where and how he was going to strike the water, and as a result he has never yet met with an accident.

This phenomenal boy diver hardly shows in his looks the eighteen years he claims; indeed, he is about the last person one would ever select from a crowd as possessed of extraordinary daring. There is nothing of the braggart, in either his appearance or his manner, yet he talks of taking hundred foot dives as calmly as if they were nothing more uncommon than crossing a street.

His home is in Hoboken, N. J., where his mother, a brother, and two sisters reside; the boy diver, however, spends most of his time in New York.

In speaking of his high dives he said:—"I cannot explain just how I do it, or why I feel no fear, but I know that I do not. I have known how to dive and swim ever since I was seven years old, and now it seems like second nature to me."

"How did I learn? In the simplest and most natural way in the world. When on the dock one day and threw me overboard, clothes and all. Naturally I was frightened, but he only laughed at me when I called for help and said, 'Swim or drown.' It is quite needless to say that I did not drown, for somehow, when I struck out as I had seen other boys do, I found that I could swim and I have been swimming more or less ever since."

The latest dive which young Brunck has taken was one which when suggested, seemed almost suicidal. He, with some companions, was swimming at the foot of Seventh street, Hoboken, when some one told him that he did not dare dive from the roof of the four story Rockwell Plaster Mill which is built on the dock. Brunck hesitated for a moment; then one of his companions said, "Go on, Louis, I will give you a quarter to take the header."

The roof of the building is ninety feet above the water, which at that point is only eight feet deep. Brunck was soon standing on the ridge pole of the building. He waited a moment, and then raising his hands above his head, leaped out into space, and shot downward.

Not once did he change his position, but struck the water hands and head foremost, sending the spray dashing high on either side of him. In a few seconds he appeared at the surface, about fifty feet from where he struck the water, and swimming to the landing at the foot of the dock, promptly demanded the quarter due him for the jump.

When asked how it felt to take a dive from such a height as one hundred feet he said:—"It is an odd sort of feeling. There is an exhilaration caused by the sudden rush through the air, and while I know that I am only in the air for a few seconds, in that time I can do a lot of thinking and I am always wondering how I shall strike the water. I know that if I turn while in the air and strike in the wrong position, the chances of my getting ashore are small; but nothing of that kind has ever happened yet."

"I should not be afraid to dive from the Brooklyn Bridge, but I would not attempt to jump feet first as the others have done. I feel safer and can control myself better in the air when I go down head first. As nearly as I can describe my sensations while shooting through the air, I feel much as one does when an elevator suddenly drops—only much more so—and now, I actually enjoy the sensation. I certainly should not fear to take a header either from the Brooklyn or the Poughkeepsie bridge, and you need not be surprised if you hear of my doing so."

This boy who talks so calmly of throwing himself headfirst through a hundred and fifty feet of space comes of a family of natural swimmers and divers, his father having been an expert at both, while his brother almost daily takes a noonday dip from the cross-tree of some ship lying along the Hoboken docks.

OLD TOWN, Me., Aug. 27.—Charles Potter, a guide, was accidentally shot and instantly killed on Saturday by Charles Theodore Russell, of Belmont, Mass., a nephew of the late Gov. Russell. Young Russell is 16 years old. The shooting occurred on the east branch of the Penobscot River, two miles north of Grindstone Station on the line of the Bangor and Aristo Railroad. Potter had just pitched the tent on the river bank and stepped into the woods to collect some pine boughs for a bed. Russell, who was standing near the tent, heard a noise in the woods and saw an object moving. Supposing it to be a bear, he got his rifle and fired, killing Potter. This was Russell's first trip into the woods. Potter was 50 years old and one of the best guides in this region. His home was at Milo, Me.

Diamond Dyes Conduce to Modern Home Comfort

The present generation of women are blessed with privileges and aids that our grandmothers never enjoyed. Among the many important aids in the family the Diamond Dyes hold a high and important place.

Formerly the dyeing operation was a tedious, hard and doubtful job. To-day a dress, cape, jacket, coats, pants or vest can be colored and made to look as good as new at a very small cost.

"When troubles arise in home dyeing, it is because you have allowed your dealer to sell you dyes that are crude and dangerous to use—vile imitations of the popular Diamond Dyes. When the Diamond dyes are used your work is accomplished in a few minutes, and you are certain of the best results."

Successful home dyeing can only result when you use Diamond Dyes; years of severe testing has proved this fact.

Abandoned the Steamer.

NEW YORK, August 28.—The captain of the steamer Circassia, of the Anchor line, had a story to tell, on her arrival at quarantine early this morning, of picking up a captain and his 22 men on the high seas from three open boats. It was Captain Burnside and the entire crew of the British tramp steamer Moldavia, bound from Cardiff for Halifax with coal, who were rescued by the timely approach of the Circassia. During the dense fog over the sea on last Wednesday the Moldavia ran into a huge iceberg and stove her bows so badly that she began to fill rapidly. It was 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon. As soon as a hasty examination showed that it would be impossible to save the ship, Captain Burnside ordered the life-boats provisioned and cleared away, and as soon as it could be done the steamer was abandoned and shortly afterwards sank. The life-boats kept together and watched for a passing vessel, and thirty-five hours later the Circassia's lights were seen approaching. Blue lights were at once shown by the occupants of the life-boats, and the Circassia altered her course. When near enough Captain Boothby, of the Circassia, hailed the life-boats and told the men that he would pick up the boat and their occupants. Accordingly the davits tackle were lowered, and as each life boat approached she was hooked on and raised bodily, occupants and all, to the deck of the Circassia. All the life-boats were brought to this port. The Moldavia was owned by the Mercantile Shipping Company, of London, and was of 1477 tons register.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Dr. H. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.
