MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER

ALL DRUGGISTS, PERFUMERS AND GENERAL DEALERS.

"Ah!" he responded, coldly, "that is a long story. Briefly, I did not get my last and most important link of evidence until just as the vessel was starting. I came on board as they were drawing the gang-plank in. I had only just succeeded in finding out the physician who dressed the murderer's hand that night; and here"

From the vessel Marion Denton went at once to the elderly cousin with whom she was to stay in her home near London, and I began my joyless round of travel. The year dragged wearily away in impatient, silent waiting. What would be my reward?

I found her as beautiful as ever. She greeted me kindly, but with evident surprise. She had plainly never thought of me as a possible lover. I feared she had never thought of me at all.

But shortly my meaning made itself clear to her. I proved an ardent wooer. "Oh, my friend," she said, "you are throwing yourself away. I am not worth the treasure you are lavishing upon me. I have suffered—it does not seem as if happiness could ever be mine again."

"I will make you forget the sorrow of the past," I protested, eagerly. "And if there is happiness for man and woman on God's earth, I mean that we shall share it, love, together."

I won her love. I married her. Thank God, for giving me so sweet a wife! She shares my life and every thought, but one! And that—the secret of that crime which came so near, yet never touched her—she shall never know.

Our trunks had been emptied and cleared away until only one remained—an old, small trunk of hers which had been left in storage when she went abroad.

It was opened now, and she had taken out a dress of grayish-green—the very one which she had worn the day I saw her first.

She remembered and spoke of it, and as she gently shook it out of its heavy folds, a single glove fell to the floor—a quick reminder to me of that awful crime and all its attendant train of anxieties and fears.

I shuddered at the thought of the awful sights and sounds its innocent mate had been witness of, as I stooped and picked it from the floor.

As I sat brooding over it before the glowing fire, my wife came up behind me and gently laid her arm around my neck. "My husband is serious!" she said. "What is it, dear?"

"My lady's glove," I answered, as lightly as I could. "It brings a nightmare of that past before me, when I could dream bad dreams alone."

She bent and took the glove. "Sweet love, forget that time as I forget it!" she said. "See, it is gone!" And, even as she spoke, the small reminder fell and shrank into nothingness amid the devouring flames.

The Truth Ought to be Known.

Rev. T. Dunlop, Aliston, Ont: Your K. D. C. has done all it claims to do. Two members of my family have been wonderfully helped, though, so far they have used but one package. This is the first testimonial I have given to any remedy, but the truth ought to be known.

East Galloway.

Most of the farmers are through haying. Mr. Wm. Main has just completed a new barn.

There was a pleasant gathering at Mr. John Sinton's, West Galloway, Friday evening. Tea was served at midnight.

The hay crop has been very good. Mr. David Scott has cut about fifty tons. The old Scott farm is about the best hay farm in Galloway.

Mr. Wm. Kennedy is very poorly. Mr. John Main had a narrow escape last week. A slab flew from the saw and injured his head and face.

The Misses Dickinson visited Mr. John P. Hill's last week. Our school opened last week under Mr. Robt. Girvan.

A MONTREAL BUSINESS MAN Won The Battle Through His Wife's Advice.

A short time ago a Montreal business man returned from a New York private hospital, to which institution he had gone last February for treatment.

The healthiest of us have all we can do to withstand the enervating effects of scorching days and sweltering nights. The sick mortals—heaven help them must suffer increased agony during these hot days!

The sick man hoping for better results, remained for some weeks longer, but for home sick, unhappy and despondent. Upon his arrival in Montreal, friends were alarmed when they found his condition had not improved, and some recommended a sea voyage.

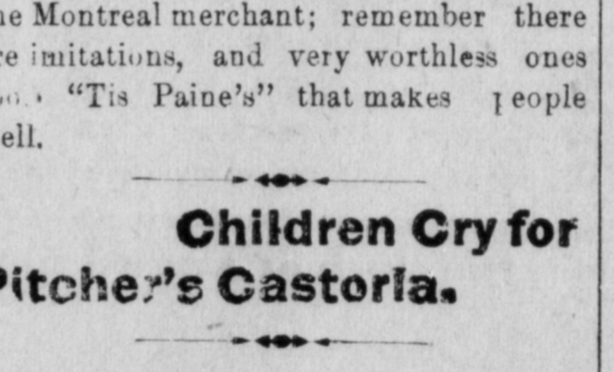

The sick man wife having heard of the wonders of Paine's Celery Compound in case of kidney disease and urged her husband to give it a trial. A supply of the medicine was procured and used faithfully and the diet list—prepared specially for those afflicted with kidney trouble—was closely followed.

After three weeks' use of Paine's Celery Compound a blessed and happy change was observed. The patient was brighter and stronger, no constipation, no back-ache, urine was more natural in color, and appetite was healthy and established.

After due care and attention, and the use of Paine's Celery Compound, this Montreal merchant is well and attending to business to-day.

Poor sufferer from kidney trouble, what think you of this Montreal case? Will not the same treatment bring you the health and freedom from disease you so much desire? Yea I am sure it will. Paine's Celery Compound will quite renew your life and give you a long lease of happy days. Use the kind that cured the Montreal merchant; remember there are imitations, and very worthless ones too. "Tis Paine's" that makes people well.
