UNCLE SAM'S NEUTRALITY.

Very lightly are the obligations of international neutrality observed at Washington. We have had a taste of Uncle Sam's quality in that regard. In 1866 and again in 1870, when Fenianism was more in vogue than it is now, bodies of armed men crossed from United States territory and invaded Canada.

At that time Uncle Sam was endeavoring to collect a big bill from John Bull for "not having used due diligence" to prevent the escape of the privateer Alabama from a British port, and for all the damage wrought by the Alabama he held Great Britain liable.

Just now Uncle Sam is observing the same sort of neutrality between Spain and Cuba. The Cuban "Junta" has its office in New York, and from thence the rebellion is directed. All over the union men are recruited subscriptions raised, arms and ammunition collected for the Cuban cause.

Mr. Hackett, M. P., for Prince, P. E. I., was unseated the other day because one Callaghan called one man aside from a party of three and treated him. The learned judges held that it could not be merely a "social" treat, because in that case Callaghan would have treated all three!

presentation of newspapers. We are to notice this fact, and also the fact that at even in Quebec and so with- out the seeming unanimity with which the famous mandament of June was issued and supported a portion of their Clergy found means of remaining neutral or of supporting the other party.

No calm observer of the times can fail to note that in Quebec province the relatives of the hierarchy and the people are at the present moment strained almost to the breaking point over this question. It will be an issue in the coming provincial election and in a number of federal by-elections very shortly.

THE FIGHT NOT OVER.

It has now become apparent that the fight on the Manitoba school question is not over. This the Roman Catholic bishops have all along boldly asserted, and now we have Mr. Laurier at the Montreal banquet, with some degree of trepidation, frankly admitting. All other provinces but Quebec would apparently be glad if we had heard the last of the long dispute.

What we can say at this distance and in the English language can have no effect upon the parties to this great controversy. If it could be read and heard by them it might be resented. It is always dangerous for outsiders to interfere between the people and their spiritual guides.

At the first we can hardly realize what it means to a newspaper to be thus interdicted. All faithful Catholics are forbidden to buy, sell, read, subscribe for or advertise in the banned newspaper. To a newspaper published in the French language and having an entirely Catholic list of subscribers it means certain financial ruin.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

presentation to Rev. Mr. Ramsay. The Methodist congregation at Buctouche presented their pastor, Rev. E. Ramsay on New Year's day with a fur coat and cap, and an address as follows:— To the Rev. E. Ramsay, of the Buctouche Circuit:

DEAR SIR.—I, in behalf of the members and adherents of your Pastorate in this season of rejoicing and festivity, desire to extend to you some mere token of our appreciation and esteem for the indefatigable and faithful manner in which you have so ardently, during your sojourn among us, discharged your duties as our Pastor.

I therefore present you this fur coat and cap which I trust you will appreciate, not on account of their intrinsic value, but more for the good wishes which they convey and the spirit with which they are given. It is our prayerful desire that you may be spared for many years to wear these tokens of our esteem and appreciation, and we now take this opportunity of extending our sincere gratitude to M. S. Ramsay for the faithful manner in which she has so ably assisted in all matters pertaining to Christians work, and now in behalf of this circuit we wish you both a very pleasant Christmas and prosperous New Year.

Yours sincerely, J. H. POWELL.

Mr. Ramsay replied as follows:—

DEAR FRIENDS.—It is a large measure of comfort to me that the feeble and simple efforts which I have put forth in your midst during the past years, have been appreciated by you. It is indeed a great encouragement to me to prosecute every duty which devolves upon my mind all trials and difficulties peculiar to men in similar circumstances, your kind words, loving deeds and generous acts to me and my family shall not soon be forgotten, your congenial association shall always mark my pathway with pleasant memories even though separated.

The years which I have spent in your midst shall always be fresh in my memory. As the days are rolling by the way is growing brighter and our love becoming deeper, I now take this way of tendering my sincere and hearty thanks to you all for these beautiful tokens of your love and esteem towards me, and also for the numerous acts of kindness which you have so cheerfully shown to me and my family.

I trust that I may ever by God's grace, live so that my example and influence will bring rich blessings upon all with whom I may be associated. I cannot better express the language of my heart to you than by calling your attention to Numbers 6th chap., 24-26; Hebrews 13th chap., 20-21.

Yours in Faith Hope and Charity, E. RAMSAY.

JOHN BEATTIE KILLED.

White Breaking a Log Jam—His Body Recovered—The Funeral To-Day.

On Tuesday afternoon about five o'clock our citizens were horror stricken when Frank Craven came to town with the information the John Beattie had been killed, while breaking a log jam, on North Creek.

Mr. Beattie, was employed as foreman for Frank Craven and in company with that gentleman and a crew of men were "splashing" logs out of North Creek. A large number of logs had formed a "jam" below the Chandler homestead and the crew went to the place to remove the jam in order to do some cribbing. Mr. Craven and Mr. Beattie were standing together when the splash came on, and the logs commenced to break up. Between them and the bank was a deep hole, into which Mr. Beattie jumped into the water up to his arm-pits, in his efforts to get to the shore. Seeing that the logs were rapidly piling over him, he cried to Mr. Craven to hand him a pike-lever, which he did. Mr. Craven pulled but poor John could not extricate himself from the rolling logs, which were then closing around and squeezing him, the blood flowing from his nose and mouth. The great mass of logs bore him under, and rolled him along for a distance of twenty feet and left him floating behind. Mr. Craven, who was watching for the body, jumped into the stream and carried him to the shore. The water being too high and swift to ford, the balance of the men were compelled to remain upon the opposite bank, leaving Mr. Craven alone with the body. As soon as help could get across the stream the body was carried to a neighboring house and Dr. Heilman was sent for; also Mr. Craven to bear the sad intelligence to the poor wife and four small children. Mr. Beattie, very evidently, was dead when taken from the water.

As soon as word was received here, Mr. Peter Beattie hastened to the scene of the accident with the grief stricken wife, hoping for the best. The remains were brought to Emporium, arriving here about 8 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. John Beattie, who has been employed as foreman for Frank Craven ever since that gentleman has been lumbering for Howard & Company here, has always been a hard working industrious man and a quiet, peaceable citizen. He leaves a widow and five children to mourn his sad death—Lindley Beattie, the eldest, being grown up and married. The death of Mr. Beattie has cast a gloom over our town, where he has lived so many years and the affliction family have the greatest sympathy of our citizens in their great affliction.

The funeral will take place to-day (Thursday) from the family residence, corner of Maple and Sixth streets, at 2 p. m. Interment in Newton Cemetery.—Cameron Co., Pa. Press.

Deceased was a son of Mr. John Beattie Sr., Kouchibouguac. He was 48 years of age, and left Kouchibouguac 22 years ago.

To Sunday School Workers:—

As previously announced the Parish Conventions will be held as follows:— Harcourt Jan. 11th, Bass River Jan. 12th, Richibucto Jan. 13th, Wellington Jan. 14th and McLaughlin Road Jan. 15th.

Mr. Lucas will be present at all these meetings, and afternoon and evening sessions will be held in each case.

Every S. Sch. officer, every County officer, all pastors, supts, and teachers are invited to be present at these meetings and to make them a great success.

Good warm buildings, good singing and hearty greeting should be thoroughly provided for.

Our County Convention last year was by far the largest in the history of the County. Let your Parish Convention be the largest and best you have ever held yet.

See that the meetings are thoroughly advertised. Invite everybody to be present. Throw some spirit and enthusiasm into this work. It pays and you cannot afford to stay out of it.

Every pastor, supt., and teacher is most urgently requested to throw the full weight of their sympathy with this effort—the greatest Parish Conventions ever held in this County and your own Parish ahead of any!

Yours Truly, F. W. MURRAY, County Sec'y.
