CERTAIN
THE GREAT
Family Medicine of the Age.
Taken Internally, It Cures
Diarrhoea, Cramp, and Pain in the Stomach, Sore Throat, Sudden Colds,
Coughs, etc., etc.
Used Externally, It Cures
Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sprains,
Toothache, Pain in the Face, Neuralgia,
Rheumatism, Frosted Feet.

No article ever attained to such unbounded popularity as this certain pain-killer. We have seen its magic effects in soothing the severest pain, and know it to be a good article—Circulation everywhere.
No time has yet elapsed since the Pain-Killer, which is the most valuable family medicine now in use—Tens of thousands of people have been cured by its use.
It is a real merit; as a means of removing pain, no medicine has acquired a reputation equal to Perry Davis' Pain-Killer—Solely Sold Everywhere.
Beware of imitations. Buy only the genuine "PERRY DAVIS'". Sold everywhere; large bottles, 50c.

Nicholas River Notes.

Smelt fishing is now over and people have settled down to the even tenor of their ways again. The catch was not up to the average of other years and every one was anxious to corner the few there was. It does not appear as if there was any law in regard to the fishing of smelts. Nets were allowed to be used during the month of November, and the officers of the law did not say, what doest thou, but when the ice made it would do you good to see with what energy they would start around to collect the two dollar license. This seems to be about the extent of their commission, and if the ice was turned upside down they would have no trouble in locating where the nets were by the amount of material used as leaders. Perhaps there will be better regulations in the future or smelt fishing will soon become a thing of the past. Judging from the frequent visits from some of our fishermen down the river you would think that there is still fish to be caught, some of them think of securing a chance in Atkinson's Cove.

Every one is anxiously waiting for snow to make hauling. Wood and log hauling seems to be the order of the day.

Wm. Irving's house was burned last Wednesday morning. The contents were all saved, but notwithstanding the loss is heavy especially at this season of the year. No insurance. Much sympathy is expressed for him in his loss. Would it not be well if sympathy assumed the shape of material things?

Mr. Mc. is looking hale and hearty this winter attending to household duties, caring for his stock and complaining about things in general.

Our school is in a flourishing condition under the efficient management of Miss Ella Wellwood, of Harcourt, who seems to be the right person in the right place, at least that is how some of our young men express themselves.

Mrs. Arch. McWilliams, who has been visiting her parents for the past few months, has again returned to her home out West.

This community is well favored with the preaching of the word. Three services were held last week, conducted by Revs. F. W. Murray, Robinson and Lawson. All meetings were largely attended and the good seed sown. Oh! what will the harvest be?

The teaming and entertainment which was held in the hall sometime ago proved a success and seemed to meet the expectation of all. Much credit is due the young people who took part in the entertainment, each one doing their part in a manner that showed they were possessed of no small amount of dramatic ability. The sum of $47.00 was realized which fully met the expectation of the committee.

Much sympathy is expressed for Robert Hannah and family on the death of their little Bessie.

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.

God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love had given,
And though the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in heaven.

JACK.

"A Thousand Thanks."

Rev. M. E. Siple, of Whitevale, Ont., writes, July 24th, 1894:—"I had suffered indescribable torture for two years or more, that is at times, from dyspepsia. Fearful pain and load in stomach, pain between shoulders, and sensation as of being pulled right in two, in small of back. I dieted, used patent medicines, and different doctors' medicines, all to no use. Your K. D. C., third dose, completely relieved me, and four bottles, I believe, have cured me. A thousand thanks, I can study, preach and do my work now with energy and satisfaction, as of yore."

A Bride of a Day.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 15.—Patrick Donohue, who was married yesterday afternoon was arrested to-day charged with murdering his wife.

A reception was given at their home which lasted until 10 o'clock last night. That was the last seen of the couple until this morning when the milkman came along and rang the door bell. Donohue came to the door affrighted and haggard and asked the milkman to go for his sister saying that his wife was ill. When Donohue's sister reached the house she found the woman dead. Her face was black, her head cut and bloody finger-marks were on her neck. Donohue was placed under arrest but denies all knowledge of the murder.

AN INSURANCE MAN'S STORY.

J. J. HARRATT, INSPECTOR FOR THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE CO. AT PETERBOROUGH, CURED OF MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM BY THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN RHEUMATIC CURE—IT TURNS THE MIDNIGHT OF SUFFERING INTO MIDDAY BRIGHTNESS OF GOOD HEALTH—THESE ARE HIS WORDS:

I was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism in my arm; so much so that for days at a time I could not sleep. I walked the floor in pain the greater part of the night. I procured a bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure and found great relief after a few doses. It's a sure cure, and I heartily recommend it. Sold by W. W. Short.

A LETTER TO THE GRAND ARMY.

"The efficiency of an army," said Napoleon, "depends more on good food and digestion than on any other one thing." Precisely. Men can neither fight on empty stomachs nor on sick stomachs.

And what is life anyhow but one long campaign? We have got to fight, most of us, whether we feel like it or not. Yes; and we must fight to-day for the bread and meat which is to strengthen us to fight again to-morrow. Men, women, and (Heaven forgive us!) lots of children too—we are all in the army; fighting for money, place and power; but the majority for the mere chance to live our days out.

Seeing that this is so, doesn't it seem as though every one ought to have at least a fair start? I mean a good digestion and rations to match. But do they? Let this woman help you to answer that question.

"From childhood," she says, "I suffered from indigestion, but got along fairly well up to my fifteenth year. At this time I began to feel low and weak, and was exhausted with the least exertion. I had no relish for food, and after eating I had so much pain and tightness around chest and sides that I had to unloose my clothing.

"A hacking cough fixed upon me and I was much troubled by night sweats, my linen being damp with perspiration. I passed terrible nights, frequently awaking as if suffocating. I had so much pain that I was afraid to eat, the food making me sick."

"Now, if women fought in the ranks, as the Amazons did, what sort of recruit would this one have made? Yet whose fault was it? Not hers, surely."

"I soon got extremely weak," she goes on to tell us, "as if wasting away, and was thin as a rake. I became so nervous that I was afraid to walk out alone, and I had no strength to walk more than a short distance."

"Year after year I suffered like this, and gave up all hopes of ever getting better. Indeed I was in such misery I had no wish to live."

"I consulted three doctors, and also saw a physician at Clifton; but I got no benefit from their medicines."

"Every one thought I was in a consumption, and I had got as low as any one could be, when, in November, 1889, a friend urged me to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. I got a bottle of this medicine, and after taking it a few days I felt that it was doing me good. I continued taking it, and by degrees I gained strength. My food agreed with me, and the cough and night sweats gradually wore away. When I had taken three bottles I was cured, and have since had good health. You can make any use you like of this statement, and refer any one to me. (Signed) (Mrs.) E. E. Ottery, 5 Maidstone Street, Bedminster, Bristol, Nov. 20th, 1895."

"All's well that ends well," says the adage. Not so; not by a wide margin. An innocent man returns to society after ten years' of wrongful imprisonment. We know now that he was never guilty, and he is released on the strength of the new evidence. But does that make all right with him?

This lady is well now, thanks to the medicine that cured her, but think of the many weary years she was beaten and knocked about by disease—chronic indigestion or dyspepsia, with its horrors and pains. Think of the years in which she had to struggle and fight while hindered and handicapped with weakness, suffering and fear! What is going to compensate her for that? Nothing, man, nothing. It is so much gone—gone beyond recall or redemption. What a pity!

Had she known, or had her friends known, of Mother Seigel's Syrup when she was a girl!—ah, matters would have been very different then. We can't act on knowledge we don't possess. But in order that you (the reader) may possess it, that everybody may possess it, Mrs. Ottery writes her letter, and I send it out to the world. May it reach and cheer the Grand Army.

CINNAMON COATED.

Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills are coated like a Cinnamon drop, very small and delightful to take.

One pill a dose, 40 in a vial for 20 cents.

Their popularity is a mighty whirlwind sweeping competitors before it like chaff.

No pain, no griping, no inconvenience, small in size and pleasant to the taste. Most pleasant after effects.

A GROSS FRAUD.

How to Avoid Deception and Loss.

Some dealers in Canada buy package dyes that are so poor and weak that it requires fully three packages to give the depth of color that is obtained from one single package of the Diamond Dyes. These weak dyes, worth from four to five cents, are sold to consumers at ten cents per package, same price as the full strength Diamond Dyes.

Any woman who is urged by a dealer to buy these adulterated and weak dyes should refuse at once to be swindled. Such dyes are only a source of profit to the merchant who happens to sell them; they are certainly snares and deceptions to the woman who buys them. Loss, trouble and fraud can be avoided by asking for the Diamond Dyes. Examine each package, and be sure you see the name "Diamond." Working with the "Diamond," you are sure of good, fast, brilliant and lasting colors.

Do not allow your system to get weak and debilitated. It is easy to keep well and strong by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.
