

REMITTANCES.—Advertisers and subscribers are requested to make payments and remittances hereafter to THE REVIEW, Richibucto, May 15th, 1897.

PAY YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.—The sum due from individual subscribers to THE REVIEW are small, but in the aggregate they make quite a large amount. We feel assured there are very few, perhaps none, who cannot afford to pay, and pay promptly, and while we are very reluctant to put any expense on those in arrears we fear that it will be necessary to do so unless they show some disposition to meet the amounts due. We are desirous of improving the paper and extending its circulation and for this purpose wish all our subscribers to assist by prompt payment. Do not delay. Remit to THE REVIEW Richibucto. Your remittance will be duly acknowledged.

DEATH OF EDWARD J. MCPHELM.—Edward J. McPhelim, for many years a prominent newspaper man of Chicago, died at Elgin, Ill., last week. Mr. McPhelim was born in Richibucto, March 19, 1860. He was educated for the priesthood at St. Joseph's college at Memramcook, N. B., a branch of the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind. Changing his views as to the profession he would follow, he came to Chicago in 1880, and became a reporter on the Times. He evinced rare literary ability, and soon took high rank as a dramatic critic and book reviewer. He never was physically strong and about five years ago failing health induced him to cease his regular labors and seek changes of climate and surroundings. In 1896, while in New York, he was physically prostrated, and for several weeks was in Bellevue hospital. Partially recovering, he went to Nebraska, spending several months there with relatives, and then returning to Chicago. A failure of the mental faculties incidental to his physical infirmities led to his being placed in the Elgin asylum, but the hopes of all who knew him were not realized, and his malady increased until death relieved him of his suffering.

HUTCHINSON-SEIGFRED.—One of the most pretty as well as quietly arranged weddings that has taken place in LaConner in many a day was that which took place May 26th at 4 o'clock in the parlors of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Archie Seigfred, when Miss Ida E., third eldest daughter of Mr. John Seigfred, of this place, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Edmund J. Hutchinson, of Seattle, by Rev. S. A. Abbott, pastor of the Bethesda Baptist church, of which Miss Seigfred was a member. Miss Bessie Marshall acted as bridesmaid and Mr. L. Martin, of Seattle, as best man. The parlors were most tastily decorated with flowers and potted plants, all of which lent a most pretty effect to the bridal party. After the wedding ceremony was performed and congratulations over the bridal party and guests were seated to a most delicious wedding tea, served by Mrs. Seigfred, at about 6 p. m. the newly wedded couple and groomsmen left in carriages for Mr. Vernon where they took the train for Seattle, which will be the home of the happy couple for the time being, at least. The bride was one of LaConner's most amiable young ladies, having resided here since a mere child, and was highly respected and esteemed by all who knew her. The groom, while not a resident of LaConner, is quite well known about town, having spent a number of months here on two different occasions during the time the steam dredge Auacanda was doing work on the channel at this place. He is sober, industrious and a thoroughly tried employee on that dredge yet, and is highly praised by all who know him.—Fogel Sound Mail. (Mr. Hutchinson is a son of the late Edmund Hutchinson, Kingston. He deserves the lavish praise bestowed upon him by the Mail. THE REVIEW joins in extending congratulations.

KIDNEY SENSE.

Cure alls are out of the Question in Kidney Disorders—A Liquid Solvent—A Specific Kidney Tonic is the Only Safe Remedy. Many Discover When It Is Too Late that the kidneys have literally been ground out by the little solid particles which are contained in the blood of all sufferers from kidney disease, and which accumulate in these organs. Common sense says and medical science has proved that a liquid solvent which will dissolve these solids and eradicate them from the system is the only sure cure for kidney disorder. South American Kidney Cure is a solvent. It has been tested in almost hopeless cases, and there is yet to be recorded against it a failure to cure when it has had a faithful trial. Pills will not do it as they are not solvents. Don't trifle. Sold by W. W. Short.

—The people of Canada are not surprised that the Jubilee portrait of the Queen, gotten out by the Montreal Star and the Star Jubilee Medal, of solid aluminum, are carrying everything before them. But the people of England are now admiring both of these souvenirs, and abnegations say the Star Souvenirs are the best out either in England or any of the British Empire.

—Dr. Jas P. McInerney, of St. John, delivered the Alumni oration at the opening of the Lefebvre Memorial Hall at Memramcook, Thursday evening. It was an able and eloquent deliverance and contained a good deal of sensible advice to young men. We regret that for want of space we are unable to publish the speech in full.

—Auctioneer Jas. L. Hutchinson sold the Beaches Hotel property on Friday afternoon to Mr. J. F. Black for $152,000. This hotel cost in the vicinity of nine thousand dollars a few years ago. It has not been open to the public for several years. Mr. Black has decided to renovate it thoroughly and open it for the accommodation of summer tourists, the purpose for which it was built and for which it is in every way suitable. It contains about seventy fine rooms. A good feature for pleasure seekers is its spacious dance hall, which is a fine room of 40x25 ft. Its location as a summer resort is splendid—one of the best in New Brunswick. We hope to see Mr. Black's efforts crowned with success and Richibucto once more become the resort of summer pleasure seekers. A further reference will be made to this hotel later.
