

the States were gleaned to plant Canada. They were men who gave up all for the sake of the old flag, they were men whose education and position were sufficient to enable them to see beyond the present moment, and whose sense of justice and right was strong enough to prevent them being led away by the clamor of men like Titus Oates, and following an ambitious leader like Washington, even if he had the good qualities of the Father of His Country. Here is the home of the Perleys, Treadwells, Wilmots, Blisses, Gilberts, Streets, Simonds, Tilley's and many more whose names fill, and whose deeds make the history of Canada. Their descendants bear the impress of the lineage from which they sprang. The same high-bred air and Greco Roman nose with clear, honest eyes, are found among the men, while low, sweet voices, clear complexions mark the ladies, whose unaffected grace of manner and quiet dignity contrast strangely with the shrill tones and the loudness of even the best bred of our American cousins. The best blood of the Old Land has been planted on the banks of our Canadian Rhine and its influence is felt far and wide.

It is not to be wondered at, that nurtured amid such scenes of beauty and with such traditions, that the people of this section should be cultured, kind, hospitable and true to all the traditions of the race. Such the writer found them and such they will remain. However, we see the smoke of the David Weston below Oromocto wharf, and so we must say to our kind friends of the favored section with many thanks, Good bye.

SCIATIC, OUCH!!!

Excruciating Pains—Have You Suffered Rheumatic or Sciatic Pains?—South American Rheumatic Cure will Relieve in 6 Hours and Cure.

"I suffered intensely with rheumatism and sciatica in my left hip. I tried a great many remedies and a number of physicians, but they could do very little for me, only giving me at times a little temporary relief. I saw South American Rheumatic Cure advertised and decided to give it a trial. The first few doses benefited me wonderfully, and after taking only two bottles the pains disappeared and there has been no return. I consider my cure a marvel, as I had been so bad for two years that had I been given the whole universe I could not lie on my left side." E. Errett, Merrickville, Ont. Sold by W. W. Short.

Smith's Corner.

The crops are looking remarkably well, notwithstanding the cold, backward spring. Mrs. James Starrak, of New Richmond is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Caill. Miss Greta Lampkie, of Moncton, is spending her vacation here. Mrs. Wheten, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Belle Wheten, have gone to Marysville to visit friends. Mrs. Jones, of Harcourt, is here visiting friends. Mr. John Pettley, who has been ill for some time, is still in a critical condition. Mr. Peters and family have moved to Gibson, where they intend making their future home. Their many friends were very sorry to see them depart. We are pleased to hear that Miss Sarah J. Lawson is somewhat improved in health.

OLD FOGY AND SHORT-SIGHTED MERCHANTS

The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes receive letter orders every day from country places for Diamond Dyes. Ladies say their village store-keeper has been talked into buying one of the very inferior makes put up to outwardly imitate the world-famed Diamond Dyes. They have tried these dyes, and the result was failure and loss of goods. These country storekeepers (many of them) will not put in a stock of Diamond Dyes until they get rid of their poor goods. This means loss of trade to the short-sighted dealer. Diamond Dyes are certainly the favorites in country, town and city, and all live merchants sell them. Any lady in the country who cannot obtain Diamond Dyes from her dealer can write to Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, for the color required, stating whether it is to dye wool, cotton or silk, and the dyes will be sent by mail.

Marie—I declare, I begin to feel that I'm growing old. It's really unpleasant! Mertie—Yes dear it must be especially so for one who has been young so long.

"What if I were one of these husbands, my dear, who get up cross in the morning and bang things about, and scold like any thing just because the coffee is cold?" "John," responded his wife, I would make it hot for you. John is still wondering whether she meant him or the coffee.

Georgia Marriage Formula.

This is the way that Judge Reuben S. Safford of Madison, Ga., marries the negro victims brought before him. By the authority vested in me as officer of the State of Georgia which is sometimes called the Empire State of the South, by the fields of cotton that spread about in snowy whiteness around us by the howl of the coon dog and the gourd vine whose clinging tendrils will shade the entrance to your humble dwelling place by the red and luscious heart of the watermelon, whose sweetness fills the heart with joy, and by the heavens and earth in the presence of these witnesses I pronounce you man and wife.—Law Notes.

KEEP CLOSE WATCH!

Look to it that You are well Guarded Against that Stealthy Enemy, Kidney Disease—South American Kidney Cure is the Only Remedy which will Relieve at once and Cure.

Michael McMullin, of Chesley, writes: "I had been troubled with gravel and kidney disease for eight years. At times the pain was so severe I could not lie in one position for any length of time. I took South American Kidney Cure according to directions. I got immediate relief. The soreness and weakness all left. I can testify to the remedy being a wonderful cure." This stealthy enemy will not quit you by using pill doses. It must be a kidney specific—a liquid that will dissolve all the hard substances and carry them off through nature's channel. South American, does this. It is a liquid and never fails to cure. Sold by W. W. Short.

THE GYPSY MOTH. WHICH COSTS A STATE OVER ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

Desperate Efforts Made in Massachusetts to Exterminate the Nuisance—Peculiar Origin of the Pest.

After spending $195,000 during the past six years in waging war upon the gypsy moth the state of Massachusetts has just made another appropriation of $150,000 for the same purpose. The moth will eat up that trifle in less time than it takes to collect it of the taxpayers and go marching on in countless millions more ready to meet the next attack.

Mr. Fernald, the entomologist of the Massachusetts state board of agriculture, estimates that it will require $200,000 a year for the next five years, then $100,000 a year for five years more and then another period of five years at $16,000 per year—$1,575,000 in all—to extirpate this pest. This, of course, is saying nothing of the hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage that will be done in the meantime to trees and crops.

And, says the New York World, it all came about because a Frenchman 28 years ago left a tray standing by an open window where the wind whisked its contents out to the ground below and then scattered them hither and thither. The Frenchman was Mr. Trouvelot and the contents of the tray were eggs of the gypsy moth. Mr. Trouvelot had brought him to Massachusetts from Paris. The Frenchman knew the mischief he had inadvertently wrought, for he knew the gypsy moth—knew its astounding breeding powers and knew the damage it had done in France. No living creature, unless it be the Australian rabbit, has such tremendous capacity for reproduction as this devastating moth or worm.

In a few years after that unlucky puff of wind in the vicinity of Medford had sown the seed fully 80 townships in Massachusetts were being ravaged by the moth. It was like trying to bail out the ocean with a spoon for individual farmers or even committees to make war upon the invaders. Where thousands were killed hundreds of thousands sprang up in a night to take their places and breed millions more.

It was evident that there must be something more than a spasmodic effort at extermination or the state of Massachusetts would be stripped bare of foliage.

THE GYPSY MOTH.

So Gov. Brackett called the attention of the legislature to the subject, and seven years ago the war on the gypsy moth which has been raging was formally declared. How little the Massachusetts statesmen knew the formidable nature of the foe they were fighting is shown by the insignificance of the sum they appropriated—$25,000—to carry on the conflict. They might as well have thrown their money to the winds. The next year the moths were worse than they had ever been before, and they have been growing steadily worse from year to year ever since.

But Massachusetts has not thus far followed the lead of Australia in calling upon the world for help in exterminating her porifera rabbits and offering enormous rewards for any recipe that would destroy them. Massachusetts has undertaken her own fight and seems at last to realize the magnitude of what she has on her hands. It is true that at a former session of congress Massachusetts did ask for an appropriation of $40,000 to help her carry on the war. But congress declined. It was decided to take no part in a insect war that was entirely local. So Massachusetts was left to work out her own salvation, and she has gone into the task with all her traditional energy of purpose.

Tally Sticks.

That tally sticks were at one time pretty general may be concluded from the derivation of the word "score." In its original signification a "score" is a "scar," a cut made in a counting stick. So also a "tally" is derived from the French tailler. The Roman numerals are derived from scores. They were mere notches cut in wood originally. The V for five was a rude representation of the outspread hand, and the X in like manner symbolized all ten fingers; the IV was a comparatively late innovation; originally the IV was represented by four strokes, or notches, as in clock dials.

The old Celtic alphabet—the Ogham writing—was of very similar nature. It consisted of notches cut at the corner of a square stone or else from a stem line.

The letters B, L, F, S, N are formed by cutting strokes at right angles to the stem line on the right hand, and the letters H, D, T, C, Q by strokes at right angles to the left. Thus, a single stroke to the right is B and to the left is H, two to the right are L, and the same number to the left is D. Three to one side are F, three to the other are T. Long strokes, numbering from one to five, cutting the stem diagonally, expressed M, G, Ng, St, R, and short strokes, numbering from one to five, cutting across the stem at right angles, give the vowels.

It is easy to see that the tally stick was used for numbers before the alphabet was thought of by our Celtic forefathers. Having proved the tally stick valuable for accounts, they applied it for writing messages on rods and memorials on tombs.—Chambers' Journal.

Responsibility in Church Work.

We all need responsibility. It rouses us and helps us to grow, and churches ought to be the first to accord it. It needs tact and judgment to divide it fairly, for all are not equally fitted for the same thing, but there is no one in any parish in the land who is not able to help along in some department of church work, and most are far more willing to do their share than church officials always know.
