THE KING OF MAN KILLERS

right's Disease of the Kidneys Baffled the World's Most Eminent Medical Authorities Until

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Came to the Rescue and Delivery of Mankind Stopping Forever the Deadly Assaults of Life's Most Insidious Foe.

Men are dropping from the ranks everywhere. Cut down in the flower of youth and the fruitage of manhood by that ruthless destroyer—Bright's Disease of the Kidneys.

Only a few days ago Sir Hercules Robinson, the doughty governor of Cape Colony was forced to resign his post because of enervating Bright's Disease.

Hardly had his successor been appointed when the wires brought tidings of the death of William P. St. John, a New York banker and remembered by everyone as treasurer of the National Democratic party during the latest national campaign. Bright's Disease carried him off.

It has killed many better men than most of us. So has Diabetes, its twin curse. Yet there is one cure (and only one), that never fails in cases of Diabetes and Bright's Disease. Let these testimonials bear witness:

MR. FRED CARSTENS, Palmerston, Ont., says:—"After many years suffering with Bright's disease, I am now a new man, cured by using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

MR. F. X. GROUT, Ottawa, Ont., says:—"Dodd's Kidney Pills have been a godsend to me as they have cured me of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys."

S. G. MOORE, King St., London, Ont., says:—"After using a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I am as well as ever in my life, despoiling of recovery from Bright's Disease."

MR. CHAS. T. BYE, Garryowen P. O., Ont., says:—"For the past three years have suffered with Diabetes, but noticing cures published I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills which have perfectly cured me."

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS are for sale by druggists everywhere, and by the Dodd's Medicine Company Toronto, Ont. Price 25 cents a box.

Applies That Ripen Slowly.

"I ASK my readers," says a recent medical writer, "to try for their own sakes to master the essentials of the digestive functions."

He speaks in a somewhat impatient tone, as though he were of explaining details which can really be understood only by those who apprehend the broad principles whereon they rest. Let the doctor not fret over the slowness with which the apples ripen on the tree of knowledge. It has always been so. Come to think of it, the wonder is how most of us ever managed to pick up our A, B, C's. Being one of these slow fellows myself, I can talk this way without giving offence.

If Mr. Austerberry, for instance, had as close an acquaintance with the human body as pathologists have, he would not have been so rattled and upset about that illness of his.

"In August, 1894," he says, "I commenced to suffer with severe pains in the head. They began at the back of the head and worked up to the top and over the eyes. During the time these attacks were on I was almost frantic with pain. They took all the life and courage out of me, and I lost a deal of time on account of them; for when I suffered in that way it stands to reason I couldn't work. Often and often when I got back from my work I had to go straight to bed. For over three months I remained in this condition, not knowing what ailed me nor what to do for it. None of our home remedies did any good. Then I consulted two doctors, one after the other, but neither of them was able to help me. In Dec., 1894, I heard of Mother Seigel's Syrup and got a bottle from the Co-operative Stores in Gladwick Road. After taking it two days I was immensely relieved; all my pains were easier. When I had finished the bottle I was cured, and have since felt nothing of my dreadful ailment. I am grateful to you for the benefit I have received from your remarkable remedy, and wish other sufferers to know of it. (Signed) J. Austerberry, 33 Kersley Street, Greengate Street, Oldham, Feb. 23rd, 1895.

Now if our good friend had understood the nature of the nervous system, he would have been familiar with the fact that the seat of pain by no means decides the seat of the disease or lesion which causes the pain. Because one has a persistent pain in the head we are not to conclude hastily that there is any local disorder in the head. Nothing whatever ailed Mr. Austerberry's head; the trouble was with his digestion, as is proved by Mother Seigel's Syrup having cured it. The mischievous influence proceeded from the stomach, disturbed the great sensory nerves, and made its chief impact on the brain. As soon as the diseased state of the stomach was overcome by the Syrup the head became quiet, as the sea does when the wind stops blowing. Plenty of other pains arise and fall for the same reason. Let Mr. Austerberry—and you also, my intelligent reader—make a note of it.

"For several years," says another, "I had a deal of pain at the chest, often so bad I could scarcely bear it. I was very languid and heavy, too, and whilst able to get about, I was never properly well. The least particle of fat or rich food made me sick, and I frequently threw up what I had eaten. In March (1894) a friend told me about Mother Seigel's Syrup having cured so many cases like mine, and I at once bought a bottle of Mr. Bloor, the chemist. After taking it a short time I felt great relief and was soon entirely cured. All the sickness and pain at the chest passed away, and by taking an occasional dose I keep in the best of health. (Signed) Mrs. Jan Riddin, High Street, Mansfield Woodhouse, Notts, March 15th, 1895."

So far as the pain in the chest is concerned, Mrs. Riddin's case illustrates the same principle as Mr. Austerberry's pain in the head. It was nervous and sympathetic. Yet these aches and pains—more or less distant from their cause—lead to mistaken treatment, needless alarm and much avoidable suffering. Therefore, remember how these good people were cured, and take the medical writer's advice—"Try for your own sakes to master the essentials of the digestive functions."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

The more people agree with us the more use we generally have for their opinions.

Some women seem to think they can influence a man in about the same way they shoo chickens.

As soon as a girl gets married all the other women watch her to see how soon she will begin to age.

When a girl has been told that she has a spiritual face she begins to try to put on a dreary, rapt expression.

A woman never feels that real joy of shopping till she has mussed another woman's hair at a bargain counter.

A girl will give a man a silver flask with a monogram on it for a Christmas present and then get mad if he uses it.—New York Press.

Rich and Red.

Rich, red blood means strong vigorous health. Burdock Blood Bitters enriches the blood, strengthens the system, regulates the bowels, liver, kidneys and stomach, and cures dyspepsia, biliousness, bad blood, sick headache, etc. One cent a dose and every dose helps the cure.

"I hope Mr. Shyman managed to crack the ice in his conversation with you just now?"

"No; it was all slush."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"You refuse to marry me," he said bitterly, "because I am poor."

"Well, yes," she replied; "it would pain me too much to have people hurt your feelings by saying that you married me for my money."—Philadelphia North American.

Teacher—It is told of Demosthenes that in order to improve his enunciation he would go down to the shore and talk with his mouth filled with pebbles. Who was Demosthenes?

Willie Tell—Please, ma'am, he was the inventor of the gag, "These are not the only pebbles on the beach."—Plain Dealer.

"She is always giving you a piece of her mind in the rudest way."

"You can't wonder. She has no education except of the most fragmentary sort."—Detroit Journal.

Yeast—Do you believe there is such a thing as a hypnotist?

Crimsonbeak—What's that?

Yeast—A person who can make you do something which you don't want to do.

Crimsonbeak—Oh, yes; my wife's one. She makes me bring up the coal every night.—Yonkers Statesman.

The acme of politeness was reached by a mining superintendent who posted a placard reading: "Please do not tumble down the shaft."—Melbourne Times.

An Antidote For Asthma.

Mr. Albert Reid, Angus, Ont., was for over two years a sufferer from Asthma. A half bottle of Yellow Oil cured him completely, and although that was some time ago, he has never been troubled with the same complaint since.

"I wonder why the tax levy is made in mills instead of cents," remarked Beechwood.

"That is in accordance with the eternal fitness of things," replied Homewood.

"Well."

"Because it grinds the taxpayers."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.
