RICHIBUCTO, N. B., JULY 1, 1897. DOMINION PUBLIC BUILDING.

Finance Minister Fielding made an important declaration in Parliament last week, when he stated that he favoured the construction of one public building in each county.

We trust that this is not only the view of Mr. Fielding but that it will be adopted as the policy of the Government and that at least every shiretown will soon be provided with a suitable and commodious building owned by the government...

people can afford to repeat the imposing programs of a week ago. Yet in some places, such as the Provincial Capital, Dominion Day and the Queen's Sixtieth Anniversary have been merged into one, and the people will fittingly celebrate the two important events jointly.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

The report in another column from the Campbellton Telephone of the nomination day proceedings in Restigouche, indicates that the new Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Labllois, does not yet possess a profound knowledge of the department which he is called upon to administer.

The Telephone suggests that as he is going to Quebec and Ontario to take a course of instruction there in consultation with the ministers of agriculture in those provinces.

Talmage says—"The most damnably corrupt thing on earth is American politics." It is now in order for some divine to tell us about Canadian politics.

Bill Johnson's Opinions.

I've allus noticed, fellers, Hit's a risky thing to do To kalkulate accordin' To how things looks to you.

The man 'at talks the nicest Don't help you up the hill; The one 'at prays the loudest Don't allus pay his bill.

Sometimes the biggest fishes Bites the smallest kinds o' baits; An' mighty ugly wimmin Can make the best o' mates.

The smartest lookin' feller May be a reg'ler fool. You're allus kicked the highest By the meekest lookin' mule.

DOMINION DAY.

Today Canada, as a confederation of British provinces celebrates the thirtieth anniversary of its birth. No great and imposing ceremonies will be held.

HORTON.—At Richibucto, on Wednesday, June 30th, of paralysis, Jerusha Horton, aged 67 years.

Mr. Editor:

Allow me to congratulate you on the improvement which is being made in your valuable paper. I was especially pleased with the selections in prose and verse, the editorials, the local news, and general appearance of your Jubilee edition last week.

Weldford, June 26th, 1897.

Coogan, N. B.

June 28th.—School examinations were held on Friday. The students show sound progress in the various branches of study, acquired by earnest study on the part of the students and unremitting attention on the teachers' part.

On Saturday evening the students of school No. 1, gave a public entertainment which proved to be a pleasant affair. The attendance was quite large, and the rendition of the different features of the programme drew forth much favorable comment.

Miss Alicia C. Dysart, of Baltimore, Md., returned home on Friday to spend the summer vacation.

Mr. Charles Elliott, who, after a sojourn of five years in different parts of the United States, returned home this spring, is again the traveller. He left on Friday for Truro N. S.

Hugh Dysart returned on Saturday from Fredericton, where he had been attending the Royal Military School.

Jubilee day passed off quietly, the people having gone in large numbers to attend the festivities at Shediac.

On Tuesday, the 29th inst., a number of our young men, as volunteers of 73rd Company Batt. No. 1, of Northumberland Infantry, will leave to attend camp at Sussex.

On Friday night the lobster shanty of Philip and Eustache Coogan was totally destroyed by fire. Fortunately no cases of lobsters were at the time in the building and the loss is therefore not ruinous.

His Lordship Bishop Sweeney, of St. John, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to a large number of young persons at Notre Dame on Saturday. His Lordship then proceeded to Buctouche. DIXIE.

Advice of the Provincial Board of Health Regarding the Use and Care of Milk.

"This fluid food, so necessary for man from his cradle to his grave," is very often the vehicle by which disease germs are conveyed to the stomach.

It is notorious that tuberculosis (consumption) frequently exists in herds of cattle without the knowledge of the owner. The milk of a cow having that disease is apt to contain the germ, and when taken into the stomach of a human being may, and often does, generate the disease.

Happily by the proper use of Tuberculin, we possess the power to detect the disease in the animal. The test is not infallible, but it is so nearly so as to make it criminal in the vendor or the user of milk to neglect this measure; indeed, milk from a tuberculous animal need never be used.

The germs in the milk that convey disease may be destroyed by boiling or sterilization. Boiling is in some respects objectionable, the taste and other qualities of the milk being injured. Sterilization is preferable, and when properly performed the milk may be used with safety.

Directions for Sterilization.

The milk for the day, immediately after it is procured, should be placed in the inner cooker and surrounded by a sufficient quantity of water and heated to a temperature of 160° an ordinary thermometer being used, kept at that temperature for 25 minutes, then cooled as quickly as possible, placed in bottles previously sterilized by being placed in boiling water, and then corked with absorbent cotton, after which it should be kept in a cool and pure atmosphere.

The conditions of a wholesome milk supply are healthy cows kept in clean and well ventilated stables, affording not less than 2,000 cubic feet of air space to each animal. The cow should be well and carefully fed, daily groomed and washed when soiled. If the udder is not protected it should be washed before the milking is commenced.

The vendor who carries out these precepts will gain and retain the confidence of the public, for the day is fast approaching when all will recognize the advantage of greater care in the production of this valuable article of food.

Trust What Time Has Endorsed

There is not a medicine in use today which possesses the confidence of the public to so great an extent as JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. For more than eighty years it has stood upon its own intrinsic merit, while generation after generation have used it and transmitted the knowledge of its excellence to their children as a valuable inheritance.

I. S. JOHNSON, Esq. My Dear Sir:—Fifty years ago this month your father, Dr. Johnson, called at my store and left me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment on sale. I have sold it ever since. I can most truly say that it has maintained its high standard and popularity from that time to this.

I have used your Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for more than fifty years in my family. I have used it for colds, coughs, sore throat, lumbago, cramps, sore stomach, rheumatism, lameness, colic, toothache, neuralgia, etc., and I have supplied my customers with it ever since. (over fifty years) with increasing sales. I have used it in my family for sprains, coughs, colds, lame back, and consider it the best.

The Doctor's Signature and directions are on every bottle. If you can't get it send to us. Price 35 cents; six $1.00. Sold by Druggists. Pamphlet free.

THE CLINTONIA.

In California, where great redwoods grow, The tall clintonia stands—a stately sight, Sheddin' in ferny ways its scarlet light— A lily in red robes, as if to show A life more royal than pale lilies know. The brooding firs through winter's fog and gloom Dream of the time when these bright torches bloom. This flower of cheer was loved by great Thoreau Through Maine's dark pines and lakeside greenery. By our beloved Thoreau, ordained to be A priest to lead us to God's temples grand, Whereon the wonders of his skill are spent. Finest of these, the tall clintonia stand, The altar candles of a continent. —Lillian H. Shuey in Overland Monthly.

POCKETS.

Thirty of Them Made in a Pair of Breeches of the Year 1611.

Perhaps the best proof of the advance of the Japanese in civilization is to be found in their use of pockets. The people of that country have usually six or eight pockets cunningly inserted in the cuffs of their wide sleeves. These pockets are always filled with a curious miscellany. As common as the twine in the pockets of young Americans is the prayer amulet written on sheets of rice paper and composed by the bonzes. In accordance with their faith, these amulets are swallowed like a pill in cases of mental or physical distress. Another essential seldom missing is a number of small squares of silky paper. These are put to unexpected uses, such as to hold the stem of a lily or lotus, to dry a teacup or to wipe away a tear. Among the Chinese and other nations a pouch is used instead of a pocket. This was also the case in western Europe in the middle ages and for some time afterward. The pouch was attached to the girdle, along with a dagger and rosary. It was often ornamented with curious patterns, gold and silk threads, coats of arms and religious sentences. A dramatist of the time of Henry VIII wrote: From my pouch he plucked my pouch; By your leave he left me never a penny. Breeches, however, had pockets at an early date. In an old play written about 1611 it is mentioned that a man had his breeches plaited as if they had 30 pockets. But pockets did not attain their proper position until the adoption of the modern style of men's garments. With waistcoats a great opportunity for pockets presented itself. Later they were made very broad and deep and were covered with embroidery and buttons. In the reign of George III waistcoat pockets reached such size in England that they became objects of ridicule, so that they soon began to resume more moderate proportions. —New York Post.

On an average each Englishman writes 40 letters a year, each Scotchman 30 and each Irishman 18. The average Italian only posts 6, and the American 21.
