THE REVIEW, RICHIBUCTO, N. B. MARCH 18, 1897.

SMELT SHIPMENTS .- Below will be found a statement of the smelt shipment via the K. N. Railway for the last two seasons : 1896-7

Dec., 2201 tons

Jany., 161

Feby., 631 "

March, 104 "

Total, 455

1895.6 Dec., 2241 tons Jany , 255 " Feby, 1173 " March, 473 "

Total, 645

The above shows a difference of 190 tons in favor of 1895-6. It will be seen that f r the nighth o' December there is a difference , only 33 tons ; but for the other three months the falling off is very large. The shipments of '95.6 were far over the average of any previous year. Thus it will be seen that last season is not very much under the ordinary year.

LAST WEDNESDAY CONCERT. - The concert given by the Band last Wednesday evening in aid of "Famine Stricken India" was a decided success, $40.00 was the amount realized to which two one dollar donations were added next day. The programme was well arranged and all the participants acquitted themselves splendid. ly. Miss Rhodes sang "The voice now Stuffs. passing through " very prettily and at a latter stage by special request repeated it. This song was composed by her father Mr. W. A. P. Rhodes and appears elsewhere in this issue, and was most appropriate to the occasion. A piano duet by Mr. B. E. Johnson and Miss Vautour, was rendered in their usual good manner. A quartette entitled, "Come where the lilies bloom " by Mrs. H. A. Meek, Miss Budden, Miss Sayre and Miss Fannie and We are do-Sayre was the gem of the evening and brought forth much applause and many ing all we can to encores which were pleasantly responded to. Prof. Higgins sang two or three songs that tickled the boys and gave some very good samples of ventriloquism. A piano solo by Miss Vautour was beautifully executed and gave much pleasure. Miss Budden sang, "There is a green hill far away " in a faultless manner, and added further to that young lady's high repute as a vocalist. In response to an encore also she sang, "There is a land mine eye hath seen " very sweetly. Mr. Fred Hannah Shipment of fanwith his violin accompanied by Mr. Hipupon the piano made a fine trio and it is needless to say delighted the audience, Mr. Hannah performances on the violin are always of the best and highly appreciated. Miss Anna Phinney's rendering of "Sweet heather bell" was very fine and in response to a hearty encore the collision she sang "The song that reached my heart" splendidly. "The ship I love" a beauti- the ful song was sang by Mr. A. C. Storer in such a way that many thought it the best of the various good ones they had heard him sing, as an encore he sang, " Paradise alley." Another quartette "Greeting to spring " was attentively listened to, and was much enjoyed. The selections by the band were good. The only feature not up to the mark, was that the best of order did not prevail as some of the boys in the gallery behaved shamefully which is a rare thing, we trust such conduct will order in a dayor not happen in future. Much credit is due Mr. Johnson and the members of the two and all orhand, and all those who so kindly gave their services at no small inconvienence in order to ensure the success of the entertainment.

The Voice Now Passing Through.

The following verses which were composed by Mr. W. A. P. Rhodes, were sung by his daughter, Miss Nellie Rhodes, at the concert given in favor of the India Famine Fund in the Temperance Hall last Wednesday evening. The piece was very highly appreciated by the large audience :--

There is a voice now passing through, Pleading night and day. 'Tis whispering now to each of you, Will you hear what it does say ? I am hungry over in India That low sweet voice has said,

Oh send in haste from Canada, Dear children of your bread.

> (Chorus) Oh Ephraim and Manassah, Hear India's plaintive cry Ye God blessed Sons of Jacob Send us bread or we must die !
