RICHIBUCTO, N. B., FEB. 11, 1897.

BIG GAME INCREASING.

Mr. Osman, fresh from his handsome victory in Albert, when called upon to move the address in reply to the speech from the Throne at the opening of the legislature, concluded his speech by expressing his pleasure that "big game was increasing." There is no doubt that since almost the whole of Canada has become a Liberal preserve there has been a remarkable increase in big game. Already a Government and the portfolio of railways has been bagged and hunters are hot on the sent of other "game," which, if not of the moosey proportions of those just referred to, are at least of the stature of caribou and deer. Such trained and enthusiastic guides as Messrs. Wilson, Atkinson and McAlpine are making a careful survey of the field, and though the game they have so far found has been mostly of the smaller varieties, they are understood to be creating a number of the bigger sort in and amongst the railway offices, post offices, savings banks, customs, inland revenue and fishery departments. The close season has ended; the guns are out, and present appearances indicate that the covers will be thoroughly beaten. We regret to find that in some instances the game, whether great or small, is not always given what in sportsmanlike phrase is called a "fair chance for its life," by being warned and given an opportunity to rise upon the wing before being fired upon. There seem to be too many pot shots taken; but in the open season the game have few rights which the sportsmen are bound to respect, if the latter are not controlled by chivalrous instinct. In the meantime such of the "big game" as have so far escaped capture and death, should take heed to the hunters' horn, which the owner has sounded with so much lung power.

The latest phase of counterfeiting which has become somewhat alarmingly prevalent in the United States consists in making real silver coins of the standard finesness of Uncle Sam's dollar, half and quarters and exactly like them in "milling" and general appearance. The silver campaign has taught the masses that the silver dollar is only worth 50 cents, which gives the enterprising coun-terfeiter 100 per cent. profit on his product, and the chances of detection are reduced to a minimum. The world is said to be learning better. May we assume in proof of that that the latest counterfeiters are giving their victims better value than before? But they are containing the government all the same, and the penalties of the law are none the less because of the greater intrinsic value of the spurious coin.

The St. John Sun tells that the tea merchants there are importing very largely owing to the prospect of duties will be imposed upon the cup that cheers. There may be no very good reason why tea and coffee should be exempt from duty while other articles of equally common use are heavily taxed. Still these have come to be considered necessities of life and having been free of taxation for many years, the party which ventures to impose a duty thereon will be expected to produce good and sufficient reasons for the change. It is certain that a duty on tea cannot assist in protecting any Canadian industry or help in any way to give additional employment to Canadian labor, or extend the Canadian home market for native products.

The three by-elections in Ontario gave the Laurier government one straight gain in South Brant, and probably a Patron supporter in North Ontario, though by a small majority. The Conservatives were able to hold the seat in East Simcoe, though it had been frequently returned Liberal in previous elections. On the whole the advantage rests with the ministerial party. It remains to be seen whether Quebec by-elections will give like results. This is doubtful.

Premier Laurier's Brantford speech is being quoted as evidence that the coming tariff changes will not endanger our manufacturing industries. We hope it may turn out so, but much depends on what Mr. Gladstone calls the "view point." Mr. Laurier's point of view is quite different from that of the average manufacturer.

THE REVIEW is glad to find that Premier Mitchell is able to remain bravely at his post, though far from well. No more acceptable leader could be found in the now dominant party in local politics.

Duty On Blueberries.
(Portland, Me., Press)
An interesting case was heard in the United States Circuit Court before Judge Webb yesterday forenoon.
Winthrop Robinson is the station agent of the Maine Central at Vanceboro. On October 12, 1895, he received 2,925 cases of blueberries from Loggie Brothers, of Loggieville, New Brunswick. Each contained two dozen cans. The firm had fixed the price at $1.06 per case, and were shipping the goods to Chicago and other points.
Mr. Robinson had a short time previous received orders from the deputy collector of customs at Bangor that the price should be not less than $1.23 per case, and upon informing the firm of this rule, and at the request of Loggie Brothers, Mr. Robinson raised the price to $1.13 in order to cover the penalty.
This action was sustained by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamlin, but at a later date the decision was overruled by one of the auditors of the treasury, who further maintained that duties of about $2,100 more should be paid. Mr. Anderson now comes forward and asks that Loggie Bros. should not be obliged to pay his amount and that the first ruling be upheld. A portion of the goods were consigned to Boston parties who have become interested in the case to such an extent that Howard T. Walden an attorney from New York, was secured as counsel for the petitioners.
At noon the evidence had all been presented, and Judge Webb announced that he would take the question under advisement.

A Minnesota Tragedy.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 5.—A 13-year old son of Peter Joseph Dreis, the oldest druggist in St. Paul and one of its leading politicians, threw a snowball yesterday at a man in a cutter. The ball struck the horse, causing it to run away. This runaway resulted directly in three other run-aways, in which large damage was done.
Two of the injured people called at the drug establishment of Mr. Dreis and demanded that he pay them damages.
Without making any answer to their demands he walked directly into the office at the rear of the store, put a revolver behind his right ear and fired. Death was instantaneous. Mr. Dreis had been in the drug business here for forty years.

Says He Is Innocent.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Murderer Frank Butler, or Richard Ashe, as he now calls himself, has formed a plan by which he hopes to clear himself from the charge of murdering Lee Waller. He says nothing, however, as to how he will attempt to save his neck on the charge of murdering Preston, Lesah and Harwood, the mining engineer, whose papers he secured and which he used in Sydney to convince the innocent prospectors that he was fully capable of finding gold in the Blue mountains. Butler told one of his friends yesterday that as soon as he reached Australia he could easily clear himself by turning Queen's evidence. I was not within three miles of the shooting of Captain Waller," said Butler, "and how can I be guilty?
As soon as I get back to Australia there will be other arrests. Then I will give my side of the whole affair. I am more than anxious to get away. I did not want my attorneys to oppose an immediate hearing of the extradition proceedings, and I was disappointed in not being able to get back on the steamer on Friday. I do not wish to be freed here by a legal technicality, for I am positive that my innocence will be established on my return." The Australian detectives place no credence in the statements of Butler that he can establish an alibi or escape by turning Queen's evidence. They believe the scheme was decided upon to enlist the sympathy of the public.

THE WIDE, WIDE WORLD.
The plan formulated by the British government for increasing the strength and efficiency of the navy contemplates the construction of five battleships, and three first class cruisers and the addition of ten thousand more men.
Thos. F. Kipple, convicted at New Haven of the murder of his wife a year ago was to-day sentenced to be hanged on July 14.
Robert Moore, 40, was found unconscious in the basement of his small restaurant, 74 Broadway, South Boston, this morning; leak in gas stove the cause.
He will recover.
Robert Morton, colored, was hanged by a mob near Rockfield, Ky., shortly after midnight Wednesday night, because he wrote an insulting note to a young white woman.
