THE WOOD PULP INDUSTRY.

The provision of the Dingley Tariff Bill raising the duty on wood pulp imported into the United States is far from satisfactory to Canadian manufacturers of the product. The McKinley tariff duty was one eighth and three-tenths of a cent per pound upon mechanically and chemically manufactured pulps respectively ; under the Wilson tariff these were reduced to ten per cent. ad valorem, but the tariff just enacted raises the duties to onetwelfth of a cent and one-sixth of a cent per pound respectively. The effect of the raise will be to divert the trade from the American to the British markets. The United States has here ofore been the heaviest purchasers of Canadian pulp, but of late the demand for this product in Great Britain has increased and the British manufacturers are looking more to Canada for their supply. One reason for thi is that the Canadian pulp is superior to the Scandinaviau product upon which the English factory has heretofore relied and the British manufacturer has awakened to this fact. A British syndicate has recertly purchased the Mastermann pulp mill in Miramichi, and it is reported another British concern is seeking to obtain control of the other Miramichi mill. The pulp industry in Canada is steadily growing, and now that the attention of British capitalists has been turned to Canada we may expect to see many new mills erected within the next few years. The census of 1881 showed the total capital then invested in mills to be $92,000 and the value of the output for the year $63,-000. Since that time there has been a steady increase in the manufacture until in 1896 the invested capital had risen to $3,000,000 or thereabouts and the value of the annual product to $675,777. Of this amount pulp to the value of $557,-085 was exported to the United States, doubt show a much larger relative export to Great Britain and if our American in with a high protective tariff, we may country's sake. expect before many years to see Great Britain become the principal market for citizens of Richibucto should take every has expired, opportunity to advertize the advantages offered in this locality for the erection of a mill. For the County of Kent, THE REVIEW stands unrivalled as an advertising medium. There are very few homes in the County into which THE REVIEW does not enter.

Mr. Moody, the world-famed evangelist, has this to say about newspaper work " It is one of the most ennobling and educating of professions. In my opinion, every theological student in the land ought to work on a newspaper for at least a year, in order to study human nature and gain the knowledge that it is impossible to receive in the academy, at the college, and in the seminary. That's the trouble with preachers. They don't know the men to whom they are preaching, I am a believer in the newspaper and of the great practical work which it perwhere we reach hundreds and the results in this wide Dominion in which their vir are correspondingly large."

Mr. Moody has either been late in mak. ing this discovery or he has been late in expressing the opinion. We have had several theological students under our tutorage for some time past, and when they graduate we hope they will do us credit.

There is some adverse criticism of the government's course in this matter. The chief complaint is against the royalty upon the gold taken out of the mines. The government have undertaken to protect life and property in this new and lawless country, but they cannot be expected te maintain a mounted police force and administer laws at the expense of other parts of the dominion. They evidently hold the very reasonable opinion, that if miners want the protection of the law they must pay for it. Even Americans feel a security under Canadian laws that they do not feel in their own country. So far as our information goes, the miners in that district are peaceable and law-abiding citizens, but now that the gold fever has taken hold of so many, there are sure to be some reckless characters among the adventurers - some whose only curb will be the strong hand of the law. Therefore, while some may to-day consider the royalty exacted from their earnings an imposition, they may, a year hence, fully approve of the wise course the government has taken in the matter.

"Of the making of books there is no end," it has been said, and the same claim might be set up in respect of the making of testimonials in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Wonderful as are some of the statements published in the newspapers as to the cures effected in all parts of the country, fresh evidence proves the half has not been told. WHOSE SPEECH WAS A SPELL. His Memorable Effort Which Charmed the Reporters Beyond the Power to

ELOQUENT BAKER.

Record What He Said - His Career on the Pacific Coast and His Death.

Only once have I listened to a speaker who could make a newspaper reporter forget his occupation, and that man was Colonel Edward D. Baker of California, Oregon and the nation.

Colonel Baker was born in England and was brought to America while a child by his parents. His father was a weaver and obtained work in a Philadelphia mill. Young Baker also worked in the mill when he got old enough. Weaving was not to his taste, and as soon as he could he went to Illinois and without the aid of much schooling educated himself, got admitted to the bar and began the practice of the law in middle Illinois, riding in the circuit with Lincoln and winning fame as an orator. He went to Mexico as colonel of an Illinois regiment and won fame at Cerro Gordo. Being attracted to California at an early day, he settled in San Francisco and speedily became famous as a jury lawyer, particularly in criminal cases. So great was his reputation as an orator that the miners would leave their claims and go miles over the mountain trails to hear him speak.

Early in 1860 Colonel Baker determined to try to be elected a United States senator from Oregon. It was a most audacious scheme for a resident of one state to attempt to become a senator from an adjoining state, where he had not even attempted to gain a residence. It would require a little more cheek for a New York man to try to become senator from Connecticut than it did for Colonel Baker to undertake to become senator from Oregon. The very audacity of the scheme commended it to Colonel Baker, and he entered upon the work with great energy. He stump-

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and for very good reasons. Mrs. Green has suffered everything but death from a weak heart, the trouble having afflicted her since early childhood. On several occasions she has been so low that it was not thought possible for her to recover. Her greatest trouble often arose from exhaustion or a sudden start, and at such times her heart seemed to cease its throbbing and the breathing was fitful and labored. Doctors' medicine seemed to have no effect whatever. She was advised by one physician that all that could be done was to keep her strength up, and it was with a view to strengthening her system, and with no hope that her heart would be benefitted, that she began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She had not been taking them long, however, when there was an unmistakable relief from the trouble that had made her whole life miserable. During the past summer she has used Pink Pills freely, and has enjoyed better health than for many years before, and has been able not only to do her household work, but also many of the outdoor chores that fa'l to the lot of a farmer's wife. The different physicians who have treated her have frequently told her husband that they would not be surprised to hear of her death at any moment, but she is to-day a strong woman, enjoving better health than she has done for years. Both Mrs. Green and her husband feel grateful for the great benefit she has received from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and spare no words in sounding their praises to everyone who enquires what has wrought such a wonderful change in Mrs. Green's health and spirits.

In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scrofulous troubles, etc., Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many women a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men broken down ly overwork, worry or excesses, will find .n Pink Pills a certain cure. The news of the election of Senator Baker preceded his return by only a few days, causing great joy to his friends in California, who decided to give him a public reception, a function which in those days meant the assembling of friends to listen to a speech by the honored man. The American theater on Sansome street, with a seating capacity of 3,000 when the stage was arranged for auditors, was engaged for the occasion. On the appointed evening every available seat and bit of standing room was occupied, while hundreds were turned away. Seats at tables were arranged on the stage for half a dozen reporters, among them being a tall, thin, consumptive looking man about 45 years old, named Hart, who had been reporting for newspapers so long that he was supposed to be proof against the wiles of man or woman. It was stated at the time that as Colonel Baker rode down to the meeting with the committee he remarked: "I ought to make the speech of my life tonight, but I feel as if I will make a failure.' After the meeting had been formally opened a man about 5 feet 8 inches in height, athletic and erect in build, with a magnificent head scantily covered with gray hair, a smoothly shaven face, aquiline nose, blazing dark eyes, a large neck encircled with a wide Byron collar and wearing dark clothing, was introduced as "Colonel Baker, our senator from Oregon."

As I had never heard Colonel Baker speak, but had had my head filled with stories of his oratorical powers, I sat among the reporters, prejudiced against him by the perversity of my nature, and studied him. For the first 15 minutes I compared him with the noted orators I had heard in the east, my early conclusion being: "If this is 'the great orator of the Pacific' and 'the gray eagle of California,' he is much overrated. I have heard a score of men who excelled him." Then I became interested in the matter and the manner of the orator. His voice rivaled in tone and compass the notes produced by a silver bugle when played by a master, his gestures seemed more appropriate and graceful than those of any speaker I had ever heard, and his utterances were so entrancing that all idea of the flight of time was lost as the ears drank in his words and the eyes watched his grace-

York Sun.

To give you an idea of the power of Colonel Baker's oratory it is enough to relate that Mr. Hart, the case hardened reporter I have mentioned, became so absorbed in the matter and so fascinated by the manner of the orator that he forgot his duty to his newspaper, forgot to take notes, forgot his surroundings and at one climax in the speech jumped from his seat. ran out on the stage, grabbed Colonel Baker round the neck and, amid the tremendous cheering of the great audience, yelled: "By God, sir, you are right!" The instant Hart spoke he woke up and, realizing the spectacle he had made of himself, rushed from the stage amid the wild and long continued cheereasy. ing of the vast audience. None of the reporters on that stage was ever able to write out more than an occasional paragraph of that two hours' speech made by Colonel Baker, the only one I ever heard him make. Soon afterward he came east to fascinate great crowds in New York by his patriotic utterances, to electrify the senate and the country by his impromptu reply to Breckinridge, delivered while in the mud stained uniform in which he had just come from the field of battle and to die fighting for his adopted country at Ball's Bluff.-P.
